Marion and Linn County R. R. Co. Incorporators All Southern Pacific Men

Articles of incorporation for a 11 mile extension to the C. & E. were filed Thursday at the office of the corporation commissioner, which appears to be the first link of the Southern Pacific line across the Cascades to Bend. The road as outlined in the description proposes to begin at a point near Hoover in Marion county and extend in a southeasterly direction along the North Fork of the Santiam river to a point in township 11 south range 7 east of the Willamette Meridian in Linn county.

Hoover is located some three miles beyond Detroit which is now the end of the Corvallis & Eastern line. When the road was first constructed the line extended four miles beyond Detroit to a place called Idanha. Later the rails were torn up from Idanha back to Detroit and Idanha reverted back to the primeval forest from whence it sprang. The grade still remains, however, with the exception of a few washouts and with a little work could be put in shape for the laying of rails.

From Hoover the line follows the north fork of the Santiam through a rich timber belt for a distance of 11 miles but on a direct line following the survey of the Southern Pacific to Minto Pass. At the time of the construction of the Corvallis & Eastern the many engineers packed in light rails on mule back on the Eastern Oregon side. A grade and laid the rails a few hundred yards through Minto Pass. The rails receded to this day and now the indications are that the detached railroad may be connected in the near future with the Southern Pacific line running to at the "Marion and Linn County Railroad Company" for the articles were filed today is only an extension of Southern Pacific is plainly indicated by the fact that the incorporators are William D. Ferris, Ralph F. Moody and Benney, the leading Southern attorneys in Portland. The principal office of the M. & L. R. R. company will be located in Portland and the capital is $250,000.

A fact that strange engineers were reported in the vicinity of Detroit some time ago indicated that a rival road might be focusing covetous eyes on the Minto Pass probably spurred the Southern Pacific into action and an extension of 11 miles along the route of the best pass into eastern Oregon through the mountains would afford the S. P. a good advantage over any rival road that attempted to extend a line through the mountains to tap the central Eastern Oregon country. —Capital Journal.

10 Are Injured By Overturning Auto Accident Near Salem May Cost 2 Lives

Ten persons were injured, two perhaps fatally when a large touring car in which they were riding in turned turtle on the Independence-Salem road in West Salem early Sunday night.

The injured are: Robert McCrow of Goldendale, Wash., collarbone and ribs fractured, face and body cut and bruised.

Mrs. Robert McCrow of Goldendale, skull crushed and collarbone broken, internally injured. It was first thought that neither Mr. McCrow or his wife could survive.

Miss Hughretta McCrow, their daughter, ribs broken and body crushed and bruised.

Jos. Fisher, of this city, hip crushed and body cut and bruised.

Mrs. Jos. Fisher, face and shoulders painfully cut and bruised.

Norval Fisher their 10 year old son bruised about the body and suffering from shock.

Mrs. W. A. Ward of Goldendale, sister of Mrs. Fisher, collarbone broken and body seriously bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fisher and son, Eric, of Shaw, all slightly bruised.

The accident occurred in Polk county, a short distance from the approach to the bridge across the Willamette River at this city, about 6:30 P. M. Mr. McCrow, who was driving the heavy car, turned out of the highway to avoid a passing automobile. The automobile skidded on the grass at the roadside, when Mr. McCrow applied the brakes, and turned a somersault, alighting bottom side up and pinning the 10 occupants beneath.

There was much traffic on the road at the time, and witnesses to the accident immediately rescued the injured occupants from under the car. Physicians were summoned, and shortly afterwards the injured were removed to the Salem Hospital, where their injuries were treated.

According to all accounts, Mr. McCrow was driving his car at about 15 miles an hour when the accident occurred. He purchased the machine about six weeks ago and had just driven it to Oregon from Goldendale. He is said to have had comparatively little experience in driving an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. McCrow were in the state visiting relatives at Stayton and Shaw, and also had come to attend the commencement exercises at the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, where their daughter, Hughretta was a student.

When the car overturned Mr. McCrow was pinned down by the steering wheel, which rested on his neck and chest. Both he and Mrs. McCrow were rendered unconscious. Other occupants of the car who were seated in the rear of the tonneau, were held in the machine until passing automobilists lifted the car and dragged them out.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and son, Norval returned home from Salem yesterday. A telephone report from the hospital this morning stated that Mr. and Mrs. McCrow had passed a good night and that chances were good for their recovery. Also that Miss McCrow and Mrs. Ward were getting along nicely.

Mehama Miners Badly Injured 2 Experienced Powder Men Wounded

Otto and Waldo Zimmerman two young men whose home is at Mehama were seriously injured as a result of drilling into a missed hole of dynamite at the Gold Creek mine, eighteen miles northeast of Gates. Otto is 35 and Waldo 31.

Both are experienced miners and powder men. The accident resulted from a mistake in counting the number of explosions when several shots of dynamite were fired. A series of holes had been drilled and the blasts fired. Thinking all had exploded the miners proceeded with the drilling of more holes and struck with a steel drill a stick of powder that had failed to explode.

The men were standing directly over the shot and received the full force of the explosion which hurled hundreds of fragments of rock into their faces.

Immediately after the accident the two were taken to the Black Eagle mine, two miles distant and later to Gates. Dr. Beauchamp was summoned and hastened to Gates, where he worked all night over the injured men. They were later taken to the hospital at Albany. The men were bruised mainly about the head. Latest reports state that grave fears are expressed for the recovery of Otto, who has not been fully conscious since the accident, nor has taken any food or drink. He is suffering from a fractured skull, the brain tissue extending through the crack, and it is feared that there is a concussion. Waldo is not hurt so badly and his chances for recovery are very good. He received a cut over the nose and other injuries about the face. If his eyes are not injured he will recover without much trouble.

Classes Graduate

The High School Auditorium was filled to overflowing last Thursday night to witness the graduating exercises of the High School and eighth grade classes.

There was some excellent music by the orchestra, the invocation by R. L. Putnam, followed by a pleasing solo by Mrs. Ringo which received an encore. Miss Helen Staab gave the "Class History" in an interesting manner. O. P. Lesley, the class poet, demonstrated an excellent ability at rhyming. Margaret Fellen's "Underclass Advice" was wise as well as witty. Miss Nellie Stowell, one of the graduates, was unable to be present.

Prof. Hofer played an excellent piano solo, and Prof. Berchtold, of OAC, followed with a very interesting and instructive address. The eighth grade class was represented on the program with a class song, and a class poem. The High School Chorus closed the program.

The decorations are worthy of special mention, the arrangement of the stage being exceptionally fine. The graduates received many beautiful flowers.

At the meeting of the Stayton Co-operative Switchboard Association Saturday last bids for conducting the central office the ensuing year were opened. The contract was let to Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Riggs, who we predict will give the telephone patrons good service. Mrs. Crawford has made an efficient and obliging operator and many are sorry to see her give up the position.

Mrs. Marsha Decker is visiting her daughter in Portland and taking in the Rose Festival.
