The Grange and Farmers' Union of Linn county have been working to present to the voters this fall a plan for hard surface roads in that county. The idea is to lay out 200 miles of road to be built 40 miles a year for five years, the money to be raised by a special levy. The farmers are not in favor of the bonding propositions which have been considered heretofore and believe that the only way to build roads is to pay as you go. The Albany Herald says that the roads the committee propose to pave include the road from Albany through Crabtree to Larwood, thence to Lacomb; from Albany thru Lebanon via Frv station and thence to Foster; Albany to Jefferson and Albany to Harrisburg and thru to the county line; Albany to Brownsville, thru to Crawfordville, a branch leaving the Jefferson road just below the Jewish cemetery and turning by the Houston school, crossing the Santiam west of the C. & E. railroad bridge and running to Stayton and Kingston.

Petitions will be prepared soon for placing the matter on the ballot under the initiative law and it will be voted upon at the regular fall election.

The Albany Herald says that "Doug" Hamilton, well known throughout this section as a street preacher, has been taken to the asylum at Salem. During the examination by the doctors and attorneys Hamilton admitted that he did not know what he was doing at times and thought it possible he might be crazy. "Doug," whose home is Scio, has been a character in these parts for many years and there are few of the older residents who have not heard him exhort. He has always been considered harmless, but of late it is said has shown such traits that his confinement is considered necessary.

Local Mill Ships

Many Cars Lumber

During the past few months that the lumber business on the coast has been picking up, the Brown-Petzel Co. has been one of the concerns profiting from the increased demand for lumber. This company has had a large force of men constantly employed, and prospects are good for a continuation.

When the season opened they were not in a position to supply any large demand, but they now have full yards. The company has already shipped over forty cars, have five or six ready to ship and orders on hand for several more.

Girls Have "Hike."

To honor the Misses Nanie D. and Clementina Clarke, of Mobile, Alabama, nieces of Mrs. Joe Kearns, the Loyal Daughters of the Christian church will leave the Mrs. S. G. Crabtree home at five o'clock this evening and "hike" to the T. J. Ware place where they will enjoy a "weenie" roast, a big bon-fire, etc., and then cuddle in the new-mown hay for the night. Following an early breakfast, they will return to town in the cool of the morning. The Daughters are:

Nona Fulton, Agnes Kirsch, Ella Williams, Alice Smith, Lois Brackin, Ethel Wirth, Nora Crabtree, Wilma Ware, Maud Eskew, Vivian and Veda Young, Coral Smuck.

The guests are Mamie and Grace Von Behren, Stella Hofer, Lela Hill, Mrs. Jo Kearns, Effie Miller, Lois Williams and the Misses Clarke.

Lane County Woman May be the Sister of Present Husband

A press dispatch from Globe, Ariz., tells of a case wherein a former Eugene girl married a man whom she now believes to be her long-lost brother, and the dispatch says that she and her husband are now on their way to Eugene to ascertain whether or not their supposition is correct.

Mrs. Roger W. Norton fainted today when she saw evidence that seemed to prove that the man to whom she was married nine years ago is her full brother, elder by two years than herself.

The discovery came through the husband's finding in an old trunk a locket containing a picture of his parents, recognized by the wife as a photograph of her own father and mother.

The locket was the only connection with the past left with Newton in 1880, when, a child of three years, he was placed in an orphanage in Spokane, Wash. He was adopted by a couple who gave him their name, and who moved to Wisconsin.

After he left college, Newton's business took him to Portland, Oregon, where he met Miss Elizabeth Porter, then attending a seminary. They were married. The couple came to Globe four months ago.

They have started for Eugene, Oregon, there to meet those whom they now believe to be their father and mother.—Roseburg Review.

The Hillsboro Independent says: Well, for the love of Mikel! And now they propose a general tax for the support of Portland's Rose Festival, and a little while ago it was a tax to establish a steamship line to Alaska.

After the jury had been out only thirty minutes, a verdict of not guilty was delivered in the Lee Jeans-Turner street fight by the jury last Saturday.

Harvey Beauchamp and Ed T. Blakely, two of Stayton's wide-awake and ambitious young men, last week received notice that they had successfully passed the senior examination of the state board of pharmacy and are now registered pharmacists.

The former will continue in his position in Beauchamp's Drug Store and the latter left to-day for Silverton, where he has a position in a drug store.

Have Pleasant Trip

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Beauchamp and daughter, Constance, Mrs. G. F. Korinek and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Alexander, left in the Dr's. car Sunday morning for Junction City, where they visited Editor and Mrs. W. C. Parry. In the afternoon the Dr. took a full carload to Eugene, where the college was visited and the town well looked over. It was the writer's first visit to Eugene, and we were very favorably impressed with the place. Returning to Junction City the party visited until evening, when the return trip to Stayton was made. Mrs. Korinek remaining for a more extended visit at the Parry home. It was a most enjoyable trip and greatly appreciated by the Alexander family. Dr. Beauchamp handles his six-cylinder Buick with skill, and although a careful driver, doesn't enjoy taking the other fellow's dust—as an occasional 45-mile-an-hour show a speed indicated.

Wisconsin Picnic

Friday last a picnic of former residents of the Badger state was held on the state fair grounds at Salem. Among those in attendance from here were John and Anton Heiderer, E. C. Lau, Geo. Neibert, B. Klecker and Joe Zuber. An excellent program was carried out and the day very pleasantly spent. There was a larger attendance, and many new acquaintances were made and old friends met.

The Tribune was in error last week in stating Newt Weddle was rusticated at Kettson hot spring. Just before starting he changed his mind and went to the Breitenbush springs.—Scio Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Speer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard and family of Junction City, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Speer and family of Targent, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Speer and family of West Stayton, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Speer and family of Aumsville and Miss Mary Brown, and Mrs. C. F. Hein and daughter, Miss Lela Hein, and B. N. Speer, spent Sunday with M. H. Speer. It was a great reunion, all enjoyed each others company and left for their homes feeling glad they had lived to see that day and enjoyed the fellowship of those they entertained.—Aumsville Record.

Dr. J. W. Thomas who visited his mother, Mrs. C. W. Thomas and other relatives near here last week, returned Saturday to his home in Seattle. It is said that while on the farm he put in considerable time in the harvest field, just to show the folks that he hadn't forgotten how.

Chas. Gehlen and W. F. Klecker were business visitors in Salem Thursday.

Wm. Manus, of Linn county, is reported the owner of a new Maxwell, bought of Jno. Pietrok.

As a sequel to the Turner trial at Salem last week, parties to the faction, engaged in a scrap last Saturday in which a little blood was noticeable.

Dr. W. N. Pintler is having an office building erected on his lot next to his property, the former Lau studio. The Dr. expects to occupy the building soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chrisman, and son, of Linn county, were Stayton visitors Monday. Mr. Chrisman had been suffering from an abscess and called to consult Dr. Beauchamp. He tells us that some good road work is in progress in his district, and that prospects are good for more.
