 That he will recommend in his annual report that the legislature pass a law establishing a standard for a loaf of bread is the statement given out by Fred G. Butcher head of the state weights and measures department. Investigations made by the district sealers show that a five cent loaf of bread varies in weight from 10 1-2 to 15 ounces, and a ten cent loaf from 21 1-2 to 30 ounces. The variation of an ounce on a loaf makes a difference of approximately $175,000 in the total of bread output.—Salem Journal.
 Miss Mary Rieger returned to Portland last week. Her sister Hilda accompanied her for a short visit.

RURAL CREDITS LAW AND HOW IT WORKS
Things Necessary To Take Advantage Of Law
 In discussing the Rural Credits law, Mark Woodruff, assistant secretary in charge of the Oregon Development bureau, writes from Portland to the Salem Commercial club as follows:
 "Farmers avail themselves of this law through organization of local loan associations. Ten or more farmers may incorporate a National Farm Loan association. The loans they apply for must aggregate not less than $20,000. Each individual loan must be for not more than $10,000 or not less than $100.
 The loan may not exceed one half of the fair appraised value of the borrower's land, plus one fifth of the insured value of his buildings.
 Each member of the Farmer's association agrees to purchase one share of loan association at a par value of $5 for each $100 borrowed.
 The borrower's land is not liable for the payment of the loan of another member of the association and his real estate is not tied up in any way. The local association must be composed only of farmers who own, live on and cultivate their land. Each local association passes on the application of every member, both as to his character and the value of the land. The loan may be made for not less than five years nor more than forty years. The rate of interest is 6 per cent. The loan may be paid at the end of five years if the circumstances of the borrower permit.
 The Federal Farm Loan Board has sent out warnings to farmers thruout the country, warning them against bogus solicitors who may approach them for putting up funds for organizing farm loan associations.
 The Standard enjoyed a call one day last week from R. O. Thomas, of Turner, and Mr. Gault, a banker of Bend. The gentlemen, with their wives, had motored through the Waldo Hills and came to look over Stayton. Mr. Gault was much pleased with the town and surrounding country.
 An item mislaid in the rush of work last week was one mentioning the fact that Master Norval Fisher had returned from his visit at Goldendale, Wash., where he went with his uncle and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McCrow, who will be remembered as having been injured in an auto accident at Salem early in June. Norval was away since June 12, and appears as though the visit agreed with him.
 Mrs. Wm. Ortman and children came the first of last week from Junction City for a visit at the Adam Schleis home. Billie came Friday, and the family returned Sunday to their home.
 Frank Waters, of Salem, was in town on business Friday.

Celebrate Fifth Wedding Anniversary
 The fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Titus was the inspiration for a jolly gathering at the Titus home near Kings-ton Monday evening. As this is the "wooden wedding" anniversary the guests presented Mrs. Titus with a handsome tabouret.
 Among those present were: T. W. Creech and family, Mrs. Tresa Philippi, Mrs. Vilas Philippi, Lon Titus, Harry and Hazel Downing, Marie Henkle, Misses Della and Ina Harold, Chas. and Frank Peters and Clare Van Derbeek, a relative of Creech's, from Alma, Mich. Various amusements furnished entertainment throughout the evening. A delicious luncheon was served.

 Sunday morning at the Methodist Episcopal church the minister will preach on "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." The general public invited. The evening topic by the pastor will be "General Naaman." The Epworth League has taken up its work again and meets at 7.

Hewitt's Grove Is To Be Joy Place
 "Rain or shine there will be doings in the Hewitt grove half a mile east of town on the river road Friday by the Methodist Sunday school and Junior League young people before and after the spread put on by the women" said Mr. Lockhart yesterday. "Those going up the road should turn in at the gate with a flag on it and thus they will bring up at headquarters."
 It is the plan of the church people according to the pastor, to pull off some great laughter provoking stunts, among which will be the spud race, woman's race, wheelbarrow race, fat man's race, girl's and other contests, to say nothing of the war game, the ball game and other things listed to keep the young heart happy.

 A committee has been at work during the past few days clearing up the grove and making arrangements to make this a red letter day in the lives of all who attend.
