Just to Tell What's Doin'

With the advent of this new paper, John Alden Seabury covers all connection with the Stayton Mail. Henceforth, he will devote his entire time and attention to the publication of the Stayton Siftings, Aumsville Advance, Sublimity Farmers Review, which combination of newspapers will appear as a tri-weekly, all for the price of one. No other paper in the county (except the big city dailies) is published so often at so reasonable a price.

The Mail is, and has been, owned by Mr. W. L. Freris, who has turned the editorial and business management over to Mr. Babcock, a young man who has been Salem correspondent of the Oregonian for many years. Mr. Babcock is the brother of the late Mr. Babcock, who was a prominent citizen of Stayton.

and Portland country editions, semi-weekly; Stayton Mail, weekly; Seabury papers, 7 columns; Mail, 6 columns; Seabury papers, telegraph and local news; Mail, local only and not much of that; Seabury papers, the news while it is news; other papers, the "news" 7 days old; Seabury papers, news at first hand from three towns—Stayton, Sublimity, Aumsville—three times a week; other papers, items of one town once a week only; Seabury papers, most correspondence from Shaw, Turner, West Stayton, Macleay, Lyons, etc.; Seabury papers, best edited and most interesting; Seabury papers, most reliable, because they know everybody and is known in the country for 10 to 20 years; Seabury papers, are a few of the many reasons why the Seabury tri-weekly combination is THE BEST. And we can cite others. If you are not already a paid-up subscriber to the new paper, by all means subscribe at once. There is just one way to get all the news, quickly, concisely, and that way is the Seabury way.

SUBLIMITY EXERCISES

"Nenth the folds of Old Glory, and in the precincts of the Catholic church, were held on Sunday last the graduation exercises of the two Sublimity schools, taught by the Sisters of the Precious Blood.

It was a mighty gathering, a gathering of adults and children alike, of parents, sons and daughters, of clergy and laity, of teachers and pupils. Catholic Foresters' Hall was packed abundantly, until even standing room was at a premium. The exercises began at 2 o'clock, and continued 2 1/2 hours.

The program was as follows:
 Clayton's Grand March
 Instrumental Duet Misses R. Steffes and R. Ditter
 Greeting Song—"Come Cheerful Companions"
 Chorus
 The Rose Drill Junior Girls
 "What Would You Take for Me, Papa?"
 "KATHLEEN"
 Scene I Mrs. Connor's Cottage
 Semper Fidella Regina Steffes
 Piano Solo Regina Steffes
 Scene II Down at the Baby Store
 Vocal Solo Dora Albus
 Scene III Mrs. Royaltan's Room
 You're a Grand Old Flag
 Vocal Solo Francis Prange
 Scene IV Magistrate's Office
 Arbutus
 Intermezzo Regina Steffes
 Scene V Mrs. Royaltan's Parlor

 John Smith intended to go to the prize fight. Too bad! they moved it to Reno, now he can't go.
 Harry Ferris is slowly recovering from a sprained ankle sustained in a ball game a short time ago.
 Glenn McAllister has gone to Grays River, Wash., to work for the summer. He'll have to learn to swim; they don't have anything but water up there.
 The bridge across Beaver creek near Mr. McInturf's place is being repaired and the drift taken away. That is a good thing. Let the good work go on.
 Well, the Shaw boys lost the game with Stayton by a score of 9 to 5. This is getting to be an old thing; come boys, wake up and give the "Burton Brick Makers" of Salem what is coming to them next Sunday.
 J. E. Towle and George Towle left for Portland Wednesday. Oregon may get another eastern man, for Mr. Towle says he would like to live in a country where it rains whenever it is necessary, and we guess Oregon qualifies.

The annual school meeting in district No. 80, which gave promise of being rather heated, is now a thing of the past. The 24 mill tax for the maintenance of the ninth and tenth grades was carried by a large majority. Officers were elected as follows: Peter Schoenhofner, director; W. Jona, clerk. After the voting, Prof. Reynolds made a speech in which he told the patrons and directors what he wanted to do during the next school year.
