Dolores (nee Haeger) and Gary Young of Keizer celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary this week. The couple were married Feb. 26, 1955, at the First Presbyterian Church in Arcata, Calif.

The best man at the wedding was the groom's brother Steve; the maid of honor was the bride's sister Darlene Haeger.

The Youngs have three children (Athena, Anthony and Arlene Janusch) and four grandchildren (Lani Newell, Max Janusch, Eli Janusch and Ryan Swinford).

Dolores worked in school libraries for the Salem-Keizer School District; Gary retired after a career in the trucking industry. He owned a restaurant in Keizer in the 1960s; he was member of the Keizer Merchants Association (now the Keizer Chamber of Commerce) and a charter member of both the Keizer Elks and the Keizer Rotary clubs.

When asked what he had learned after 60 years of marriage Gary said, "Nothing," except how fortunate he is.

hops, strawberries and irises. A river would go through the center of the mural. Children will be able to do handprints directly on the wall, with older children helping with the rest of the painting. A professional artist would be called upon to do up-close inserts of the various items.

Christopher said it could range from one artist doing all the inserts to artists doing one each. Those interested are asked to attend a meeting in council chambers at Keizer Civic Center on March 31 at 6 p.m. After that meeting, those interested will have 30 days to submit their designs. By that time, a compensation amount should be known.

"We want it to be a community project," Hagen said. "We will be asking for some money to do this, but if someone can't pay that won't prevent them from participating. We want to try to include everyone, of all ages. The handprints will be one of the first things and will be done directly on the wall. The number depends on how much space we end up having. Older kids could do other parts."

Much of the painting would be done by high school students, as envisioned by Hagen and Christopher.

"We will do a call to artists for the up-close inserts," Hagen said. "The professionals would do only the inserts."

Hagen noted her original design will have to be altered somewhat since the wall is so long.

"It's a very long, narrow space we're talking about," she said. "The design was not made for a long, narrow space. It will have to be stretched out."

Pets provide companionship and unconditional love for their owners, and no matter what hardships people face, their pets are there with them every step of the way.

We at Willamette Valley Animal Hospital have seen the need for veterinary care for the pets of the homeless here in Marion County, and have taken action.

Teaming with the Petco South Salem, Petco Keizer Station, Second Chance Salem Dog Rescue, Hopes Haven, GoodFellas, Salem Dogs, Pittie Pals and Fences for Fido, we are raising the funds to vaccinate, deworm, provide flea control, complete health exams and spay or neuter all these pets!

Through charitable donations, we have already provided pet food and blankets for pets in great need. The demand is high and we continue to collect donations of these items and the money that's needed to provide medical necessities to those pets whose loving owners have hit hard times.

On-site veterinary care is also being provided! Scheduled events brings Dr. Mark Stoenner, DVM, to areas more accessible for the homeless to bring their pets for care. You can contact our Community Outreach Coordinator Juan Lopez for details on our next event. Our phone number is 503-393-7462.

Sponsor one of these great pets online! Visit www.wvah.net and check out our Paws for a Cause section. We also take donations at our clinic. Willamette Valley Animal Hospital is located at 4975 River Road, next to Boucher Jewelers, in Keizer.
