Caillier honored for volunteer efforts

By CRAIG MURPHY
Of the Keizertimes

The volunteer of the quarter for Keizer wasn’t much of a surprise at the June 1 Keizer City Council meeting.

Here’s a bit of a hint: the recipient is the general coordinator of the Big Toy playground project, being built this week at Keizer Rapids Park.

Yes, Mark Caillier was honored for the latest of his volunteer efforts.

The former city councilor returned to the Robert L. Simons council chambers – familiar both because of his time on the council in the past and the monthly Community Build Task Force meetings more recently – to be feted.

Caillier was nominated for the second quarter award by Richard Walsh, Clint Holland and Dylan Juran from the Keizer Parks and Recreation Advisory Board meeting.

Along with the Big Toy project, Caillier also currently serves as president of the Greater Gubser Neighborhood Association and is a member of the Claggett Creek Watershed Council. In addition, he organizes the annual civic center clean-up event and is a key member of Keizer Rotary.

“Mark’s hard work, dedication to Keizer and spirit of volunteerism has not only made the Big Toy project possible, it has helped the ability of all the groups serve Keizer better through volunteerism,” Walsh wrote in his nomination. Holland, a fellow Rotarian, also heaped praise on Caillier.

“A true Rotarian who gets out and helps everyone, he is the best of the best,” Holland wrote.

Mayor Cathy Clark read off some of the praise in announcing the award.

“To that I say a hearty amen,”

Clark said. “Anytime there is a job to be done, Mark Caillier’s name comes up.”

Caillier showed his dry sense of humor when referring to the Big Toy project, which began Wednesday morning and is scheduled to wrap up Sunday evening with a soft opening at 5 p.m.

“I guess now we’ve got to finish it,” Caillier quipped.

Caillier then shared examples of how project volunteers worked together last week to unload items from three semi trucks filled with materials for the play structure.

“This is how Keizer works,” he said. “You just have to ask.”

Clark again expressed her appreciation.

“Thank you, Mark,” the mayor said. “You are truly a remarkable human being. The way you’ve given to the community is truly something.” In other business June 1:

- Several fee increases were approved by councilors. A $.40 monthly Equivalent Service Unit (ESU) sewer rate increase will go into effect in January 2016. The increase is expected to bring in an additional $54,000 in revenue for the next fiscal year, which starts July 1. An average single family residential bill will increase from $5.11 to $5.51 with the increase.

- Also in January 2016, water rates will be going up 4 percent systemwide. The water rate increases are part of a water master plan approved by the 2012-13 council calling for $10 million of infrastructure improvements over a 20-year period. The 4 percent increase is estimated to bring in $45,000 in new revenue.

Councilors also approved a resolution to receive state shared revenues, which are anticipated to be approximately $340,000 for the fiscal year ahead.

- Susan Gahlsdorf, Finance director for the city, gave thanks to a new employee as well as others. Danielle Howitt was three weeks into her job in the Utility Billing division on May 12 when she took a call from a customer who was without water service.

When the caller mentioned not feeling well, Howitt assured him the water would be reconnected and suggested he call 9-1-1 due to chest pains that could be a serious health issue. Howitt then contacted the Keizer Police Department, who transferred her to dispatch and sent an ambulance to the man’s house. The man was taken to the ER and his wife called Howitt to thank her.

Gahlsdorf likewise thanked Howitt publicly and also recognized Howitt’s fellow front desk workers for the “good deeds and excellent work” they do every day.

- Also honored was graduating McNary High School senior Ryan Edsall, who has served as the youth councilor on council this school year.

Sand volleyball courts approved at KRP

By CRAIG MURPHY
Of the Keizertimes

Three new sand volleyball courts are indeed coming to Keizer Rapids Park.

Members of the Keizer Parks and Recreation Advisory Board on Tuesday approved spending $5,000 from its matching grant program fund to help Hans Schneider complete the project. Schneider, who first offered to put the courts in nearly a year ago, had offered from the start to help fund the project out of his own pocket.

Parks Board members talked about the proposal last month but wanted to wait for the 2015-16 fiscal year budget to be approved before committing the funds, since the current year’s matching grant funding was exhausted last month. Members thus had to wait until the new budget was approved on June 1 by the Keizer City Council to hand out more funds.

Since the last meeting,

Schneider did some work to secure help on the project once funding was ready. Morris Excavation out of Lincoln City is delivering the sand at a reduced delivery rate. A neighbor, Kevin Fahey, is giving Schneider poles for a reduced price, with Todd Gardner at Pacific Stair offering to galvanize the poles for free.

In addition, Schneider lined up a contractor who will have a crew available starting the second week of July.

“It’s all falling into place,” Schneider said.

Schneider anticipates getting going with the project on July 13 and estimated it would take two weeks to complete.

In his proposal to the Parks Board, Schneider listed the total project cost as $49,500. Half of that is in private cash and material donations, with the value of the labor being nearly $20,000.

“The proposal is all estimates,” Schneider said.

The new courts will replace the current one, which Schneider had previously noted wasn’t constructed correctly.

Schneider was glad Parks Board members were willing to work with him.

“It’s huge to have their support,” he said.

From the start, Schneider has touted one of the main advantages to the new courts being a chance to improve the competitiveness of volleyball players in Keizer. Schneider has been a volleyball coach for about 20 years and his daughter is a volleyball coach.

“Sand volleyball is the most difficult form of volleyball to play,” he said. “If you can play on sand, you can play on a hard court. Sand volleyball is phenomenal for conditioning. It’s a lot harder to move in sand. You move slower, so you have to think with a different mindset. It really improves your offensive and defensive skills.”

Parks Board members unanimously approved the funding.

“Thank you for being so patient,” Tanya Hamilton said. “This is such a huge gift to the community.”
