

RIVERfair lands Aug. 8

The second weekend in August is right around the corner, which means it is time for the eighth annual RIVERfair on Saturday, Aug. 8, at Keizer Rapids Park. The event runs from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. KRP is located at 1900 Chemawa Road North.

While there is entertainment throughout the day, one of the most entertaining parts of the day is always the pie-eating contest. This year's contest starts at 2 p.m. and will feature four categories: boys 13 and under, girls 13 and under, men 14 and over plus women 14 and over. Organizers are also bringing back the emergency services pie-eating face-off between Keizer Fire District and the Keizer Police Department.

Activities get going at 9:45 a.m. when the Salem Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol presents the colors, followed by local singing star Sheba Dawn singing the national anthem at 10.

Ongoing activities throughout the day include a Junior Archaeological Dig, in which youth participants will receive junior archaeologist certificates, volleyball and vendor walk.

At 11 a.m., there will be the Cooper Creek Mercantile Pet Parade and the Golden Bones Awards.

Live entertainment will be throughout the day on the course stage. The Keizer Community Band kicks things off at 10:15, followed by The Cherry City Cloggers at 11:30, the Pacific Northwest Academy of Polynesian Art's Vaihere Te Ora at 1:30 p.m., Sheba Dawn and Therese Fratto at 2:45 p.m., El Ballet Folklorico de Los Ninos de Gervais at 4 p.m., an exhibition by Keizer Homegrown Theatre at 5 p.m. and concluding with The Brady Goss Band from 6 to 8 p.m.

A Gilgamesh Brewing Company beer-wine-spirits garden runs from noon to 8 p.m.

Away from the park, the RIVERfair Cruz-in Car Show takes place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Schoolhouse Square, located at the corner of Chemawa and River Roads. The car show will help fund the Jerry Bigler Memorial Scholarship for those planning a career in the automotive mechanics field.

RIVERfair was started to be a one-day community festival featuring events and entertainment for the entire family. The event benefits the Making Keizer Better Foundation, with money raised funding vocational scholarships for Keizer students.

a club record, but was thrown out trying to stretch the hit to a double, and the top of the fourth ended.

In the Emerald third, Dewees led off with his second home run in two days, clearing the right field fence.

Andrew Suarez, the Volcanoes' starter, retired the first two batters in the fourth but was removed by manager Kyle Haines because he had reached his pitch count limit. Haines said after the game that Suarez had just pitched a full college season for Miami (Florida) and was on a short pitch limit.

Luis Pino, who was to become the winning pitcher, replaced Suarez and gave up a double to Ho-young Son, who then reached third on a wild pitch, but Pino struck out the next batter to end the inning.

Eugene scored once in the sixth. Bautista reached first base on error by third baseman Gomez and went to third on Son's double to left center. An error by shortstop CJ Hinojosa let Bautista score.

The Volcanoes scored once more in the eighth. Hinojosa doubled to right off Adbert Adzola, who had relieved Kellogg in the third. Riley flew out to center, with Hinojosa tagging and going to third. A wild pitch brought him home.

In the Eugene eighth, Rice led off with a single to left off Salem-Keizer's new pitcher, Eric Sim. Bautista, on a 3-2 pitch, homered over the left field fence. Jarret Leverett, a left-handed pitcher, was put in to face the left-handed hitting Headley and walked him. Son singled to right, and right fielder Duggar threw out Headley at third. Devonte Mitchell flew out to Duggar, and Caleb Smith took the mound and struck out Dewees to end the inning.

Smith retired the side in the order in the ninth and gained his third save.

"It's the first time we've played them here," Haines said of the series with the Emeralds, expressing optimism about further games with Eugene and saying he was not surprised by their improved hitting.

Smith, who is playing his first full professional season, said his usual out pitch is his slider but sometimes his fast ball does the job. Regardless of who is facing him, "I try to keep my approach the same."

Hinojosa, asked his impression of the Emeralds, said, "A lot of them are first-pitch swingers."

Councilor Amy Ripp asked if any research had been done to know the average age of students at the hair academy.

"I haven't done any research," Johnson responded. "I have a hard time believing this career school is primarily attended by minors."

Nate Brown, director of Community Development for Keizer, noted when the medical marijuana facility task force met last year, there were maps showing the distances from schools.

"We never included the property where Tangled Ends is," Brown said.

Councilors unanimously approved the amendment to the ordinance.

Johnson noted afterwards

the nature of the topic first brought up by the mayor changed over time.

"It started as a hypothetical, but it became reality," he said. "We had to see what was meant by schools."

Johnson said the 1,500 feet distance is from the boundary of the property, not the actual building. While he didn't specify the location being looked at, the relative proximity of Tangled Ends to McNary High School to the south on Chemawa and public buildings (Keizer Fire District and Keizer Civic Center) to the north on Chemawa would seem to indicate the property is somewhere on River Road.

Poppins opens Pentacle season

Salem's Pentacle Theatre has announced its 2016 season.

The season opens with Mary Poppins, the stage musical based on the classic Disney film of 1964. This show will be performed at Central High School in Independence as a benefit for Pentacle.

The regular season opens on January 22. This season's shows include:

Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike by Christopher Durang (Jan. 22-Feb. 13);

The Diary of Anne Frank by Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich, Jr. (March 4-26);

Urinetown: The Musical (April 15-May 7);

The Rainmaker by N. Richard Nash (May 27-June 18);

The Aliens by Annie Baker (July 8-30);

9 to 5: The Musical, based on the 1980 film with music and lyrics by Dolly Parton (Aug. 19-Sept. 10);

Of Mice and Men, by John Steinbeck (Sept. 30-Oct. 22).

The season concludes with Other Desert Cities by Jon Robin Baitz (Nov. 11-Dec. 3).

Season tickets go on sale in late August for current subscribers; new subscribers will be able to get season tickets starting in October.
