HOPS, continued from Page A10

Armstrong and Alcantara loaded the bases. Hernandez scored as Swanson hit a sacrifice fly to left. Armstrong then scored on a wild pitch, and the score was 3-3.

Will Landsheft replaced Jones on the mound to start the bottom of the sixth. The Volcanoes threatened with a two-out double down the left field foul line by John Riley and a walk to Mark Nelson, but a long drive by Junior Amion turned into the third out.

David Owen pitched the seventh inning for the Volcanoes and allowed only a single.

With a new pitcher, Kirby Bellows, on the mound in the Volcano seventh, Salem-Keizer scored its final run. Steven Duggar walked on a 3-2 count and went to second on a bunt single by Ronnie Jebavy. Gomez flew out to center fielder Joey Armstrong, and Duggar scored all the way from second. The Volcanoes had a 4-3 lead.

In the Hillsboro eighth, with Owen still pitching, Trevor Mitsui tied the score with a one-out home run over the right field wall.

The Volcanoes loaded the bases in the eighth with a one-out single by Riley, a walk to Nelson and a single by Amion. Duggar struck out, the Hops put Breckin Williams on the mound and Jebavy popped out to second base.

Caleb Smith pitched the ninth for Salem-Keizer. After striking out Hernandez and Armstrong, he walked Alcantara and let him reach second on a wild pitch. Swanson reached first on an error by Amion at second base that scored Alcantara for the final run. In the Volcano ninth, Vizcaino hit a two-out double to center, but CJ Hinojosa flew out to center fielder Armstrong.

"At this level," Volcanoes manager Kyle Haines observed, "every mistake is magnified. We have to get better at the things we don't do well as much as we have to get better at what we do well."

Tickets on sale soon for Pentacle season

Salem's Pentacle Theatre has announced its 2016 season. The season opens with Mary Poppins, the stage musical based on the classic Disney film of 1964. This show will be performed at Central High School in Independence as a benefit for Pentacle.

The regular season opens on January 22. This season's shows include:

- Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike* by Christopher Durang (Jan. 22-Feb. 13);
- The Diary of Anne Frank* by Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich, Jr. (March 4-26);
- Urinetown: The Musical* (April 15-May 7);
- The Rainmaker* by N. Richard Nash (May 27-June 18);
- The Aliens* by Annie Baker (July 8-30);
- 9 to 5: The Musical*, based on the 1980 film with music and lyrics by Dolly Parton (Aug. 19-Sept. 10);
- Of Mice and Men*, by John Steinbeck (Sept. 30-Oct. 22).

The season concludes with Other Desert Cities by Jon Rob-in Baitz (Nov. 11-Dec. 3).

Season tickets go on sale in late August for current subscribers; new subscribers will be able to get season tickets starting in October.

Pentacle Theatre will mark its 62nd year in 2016.

Catch up on MHS podcasts

McNary High School's Studio M, which provides recording arts instruction for a number of students at the school, has launched a podcast series.

The Studio M Podcast features interviews with teachers and community partners talking about their passions and experiences.

Five episodes are in the can. The three most recent feature interviews with Principal Erik Jespersen, Jeff Auvinen, McNary's new football head coach, and an interview with two German exchange students.

All episodes can be found on soundcloud.com. Search for "McNary Studio M."
