Celt Trent Van Cleave makes a drive to the rim in the game with West Albany High School.

The Bulldogs were on a 7-0 scoring run when C. Cavell stopping the hemorrhaging with a lay-in. A minute later, he made a behind-the-back pass to Celt Cade Goff keeping the ball in play and leading to another score. C. Cavell also put in the go-ahead bucket on a fast break to give McNary back a 20-19 lead.

"Chandler came in and gave us the spark we needed. He's done a nice job of working on improving and being coachable. He's also worked on being in the right position on defense a lot and that was evident tonight," Kirch said. "He played the smartest I've seen him play."

With the Celtics back on track, Van Cleave took over the scoring for McNary. He scored the last eight points of the half cushioning the McNary lead to 28-18 and poured in another 12 in the second half for 20 points on the night.

The Keizer team had three battles left before the post-season begins. The toughest of the bunch was likely West Salem High School Tuesday, Feb. 9. McNary squeaked by the Titans for a second time this season with a 64-59 final score.

While the Celtics have encountered more turbulence than expected at the outset of the season, Kirch said it's made the team as a whole stronger.

"We're a battle-tested, hardened team," Kirch said. "The key is to play positive and continue to play our game."

C. Cavell said even on the nights when the offense is lagging, there is still a lot the Celts can control.

"Whether we're scoring the ball or not, we can always win the game on defense," he said.

Kesler and B. Ebbs were the only match winners in the Sprague dual meet. Kesler won in a 11-1 major decision. B. Ebbs won in a 7-5 decision.

McNary heads to the district competition more behind the eight ball than usual.

"We've had a couple of old injuries from early in the season flare up and that's changed the game plan for us, but we've got a number of freshmen floating around in the mix who we are putting a lot of faith in," J. Ebbs said.

Freshmen Blaine Croucher, David Allen and Garrett Wampler are a few of the wrestlers expected to take on varsity roles.

"We have some guys like Sean Burrows, Isaiah Putnam, Kyle Bonn and Keifer Smith who are going to have unique hurdles to placing or winning a district title, but they're going to have their team behind them no matter what," J. Ebbs said.

B. Ebbs, Kesler, Phelps and Joey Kibbey were all district placers and state qualifiers in 2015

"Outside of that we have some guys who have wrestled well enough to make it to the podium this year. Ricky Vincent is tough enough to scrap with just about anybody and has a shot at placing. Nick Hernandez is bringing it on for us as a freshman at 120 pounds," J. Ebbs said.

In the most recent oregonwrestler.com statewide 6A rankings, B. Ebbs was sixth; Bonn was seventh, Kibbey was eighth; and Kesler was 11th.
