McNary senior Krissy Kelty prepares to return a shot in action against West Linn on Friday, April 1. MHS lost the match 7-1.

The McNary High School girls tennis team was swept by West Albany on March 29. The top three singles players for the Lady Celts – Hannah Childress, Krissy Kelty and Jannicke Martin – all fell 6-3 in their first sets before also losing the second set. Martin came closest to winning a set, falling 7-5 in her second set. “The girls played timid, especially if they got down early in the match,” coach Garrett Jensen said. “West Albany is one of the top teams in the conference and I think that impacted the mentality of some of our girls.” Jensen said Martin played well. “She wasn’t able to close the second set after she was up 5-2,” Jensen said. “However, I was impressed with her play.” Each of the four doubles teams struggled. “We really need to work on our doubles strategy,” Jensen said. “We look lost on the court and the girls need to do a better job at communicating with each other. We have some work to do and a lot of that starts with me. However, I see a lot of potential for growth this season.”

well as learning how to help others. This isn’t the first time Coburn, who founded the Keizer Volleyball Club in 1997, has won an award. Among other awards, he was named the Oregon Middle School Coach of the Year in 2006 and again in 2012, plus he was the assistant coach of the year for the area in his last year at McNary in 2009. He was also a Crystal Apple Award finalist in 2014 and a Service to Education finalist by the Keizer Chamber of Commerce in 2015. “This one is definitely a highlight of the 38 years,” Coburn said on Monday. “This is a big one. Plus I got to spend the night with my wife and kids. When you’re busy coaching, your family sacrifices so much.” As an example of how long he’s been coaching, Coburn noted he is now coaching the children of former students. As for current students, they gave him a royal welcome back to Whiteaker on Monday. “The kids started applauding,” Coburn said. “They all wanted to touch the check. They were all very happy and excited about it.” Coburn’s plans for the money should make the students excited as well. “I will probably use the money for something like new uniforms,” he said. “We’ll find something that will affect the most kids possible. I’m not one to do a one-time thing like use the money to enter a tournament.”

Lemonade Day is the national event that teaches kids how a business works by operating a lemonade stand. With help from parents and sponsors, kids create their own recipe, build a stand and sell lemonade. Along the way kids learn how to spend, save and share.

Their profits are split between their education, a charity of their choice and mad money!
