looking back in the KT

5 YEARS AGO

Keizer vet survived nuke testing
Lowell Gungelman, 77 years old, has been trying to set the record straight about his experience in the US Navy. "We were just guinea pigs," Gungelman said. "I didn't find that out until a year ago that it was classified as a human radiation experiment. I cried, I was so angry."

10 YEARS AGO

Keizer teen dies when car hits tree
Sonny G. Hart, 17, of Keizer died at the scene last week when the car he was riding in crashed through a utility pole and into a tree near Spongs Landing Park.

15 YEARS AGO

Council launches freeway plan review
The Keizer City Council has launched a review process that will decide the shape of commercial development on 237 acres next to Interstate 5.

20 YEARS AGO

Maine neighbors unite again, this time to battle liquor store
Neighbors on Maine Ave., a dead end street of quiet homes and long-time residents, are gearing up to fight city hall again. They feel they lost round one when the city let Taco Bell put up a restaurant on one corner of Maine Ave. Now they feel they risk losing another round if the city allows a liquor store to build on another Maine Ave. corner. Maine neighbors told the city they don't want a liquor store there, it's not compatible with their neighborhood.
