State Reps. go to Whiteaker

Rep. Jodie Hack, R-Salem, and Rep. Margaret Doherty, D-Tigard, visited Whiteaker Middle School social studies teacher James Decker's seventh grade classes on Wednesday, Jan. 26.

The state representatives played three computer games with the students: Argument Wars, where the player works on their persuasive abilities by arguing a real Supreme Court case, Responsibility Launcher, in which a player reminds citizens of the importance of civic duties and Represent Me, where the students worked as a legislator trying to meet the needs of their constituents.

Decker said all three games are designed to teach the students how to be the best citizen they can be under the rights promised in the U.S. Constitution.

After playing games, Hack and Doherty answered questions from Whiteaker students about why they decided to run for office to begin with and how they get along with people they disagree with.
