

Volcanoes open season June 13 with exhibition

By HERB SWETT
Of the Keizertimes

The Salem-Keizer Volcanoes will open their 2017 season at home at 6:35 p.m. Tuesday, June 13 playing a college all-star team.

Northwest League play will begin for the Volcanoes at 6:35 p.m. Thursday, when they play the Tri-City Dust Devils in a home series that will run through June 19.

For tickets, go to volcanoesbaseball.com or call the stadium box office at 503-390-2225.

All the inaugural (1997, first year franchise played as Volcanoes) season ticket holders will appear on the field and receive Volcanoes jerseys.

Wally Lantz, project manager when the stadium was built, is throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

There will be a new manager, Jolbert Cabrera, succeeding Kyle Haines, who is the new manager of the class A Augusta GreenJackets of the South Atlantic League.

Ricky Ward returns as hitting coach and Thomas Neal as assistant coach.

Former pitching coach Jerry Cram returns to share those duties with Matt Yourkin.

Cabrera, 44, is in his first season as a professional manager but has three years of professional coaching experience. He played professional baseball for 22 years as an outfielder, second baseman, and third baseman, eight of those years in the major leagues but none with his current parent club, the San Francisco Giants. He is an older brother of former major league shortstop Orlando Cabrera.

Cabrera and this year's Volcano players are scheduled to arrive at the Comfort Inn & Suites in Salem at 10 a.m. Monday.

SUBMITTED/Wes Rios

Claggett Creek eighth graders Emmanuel Figueroa, Ethan Martin, Dyami Rios and Gabriel Martinez had the fastest time in the 4x100 relay at the Oregon Meet of Champions.

CHAMPS, continued from Page 12

"We just pushed ourselves," Acosta said. "We were determined to get in the top five."

CCMS had the fastest time before three teams passed them in the final heat.

"They've done something our other 4x400s haven't done, continuing to break records," Richardson said. "That's been a huge accomplishment for both of these relay teams."

Figueroa was chasing the same feeling he got after winning the 4x100.

"I wanted to have the same experience with them," Figueroa said.

"Winning first in our heat was a great achievement, getting our time and I know they ran their hearts out and that's all that mattered. That's what I wanted them to do. I wanted them to give it their all because it was the last time we were going to run as a team."

Claggett Creek finished

10th overall in the final team standings.

Whiteaker's girls placed 15th.

Leah Doult took fifth in both the 100 in 13.01 and the 200 in 27.26. Doult, Kylie Nepstad, Taylor Ebbs and Kennedy Buss also finished fifth in the 4x400 relay in 4:21.46.

Cole Garland and Rian Canini led the Whiteaker boys.

Garland placed third in the long jump at 19 feet and Canini took sixth in the high jump, clearing 5-06.

"It doesn't matter if you're a state champion in high school. All you need to do is find a place to land and keep training and you'll keep getting better."

Kesler is joining a new program at Umpqua, led by Kyle Temple, former head coach at Cottage Grove, Stayton and Sprague. Temple is also the Oregon Wrestling Association Junior Level Director and Kesler knows him from competing in the Greco-Roman National Championships.

Along with Kesler, Umpqua's first recruiting class includes five state champions from Mazama, Sweet Home, Henley, Newberg and Nyssa, as well as South Salem's Hayden Juliano.

Due to the injury, Kesler's fondest wrestling memories at McNary come from his junior year when the Celtics finished second in the Greater Valley Conference. Kesler placed third at the district tournament.

"Junior year was just so much fun," Kesler said. "We had a good team. We were just really close. We won a lot and winning is fun. It was a fun dual team to be apart of. We were all super supportive."
