Volcanoes to celebrate eclipse with BrewFest

By DEREK WILEY
Of the Keizertimes

When news got out that the Salem-Keizer Volcanoes were going to be the first professional sports team to delay a game for an eclipse, NASA was so impressed that they decided to send six scientists from all over the country.

On Monday, Aug. 21, gates to Volcanoes Stadium will open at 5 a.m. Breakfast will then be served for $10 from 6 to 9 a.m. From 6:30 to first pitch at 9:35 a.m., NASA will give six different presentations.

The Volcanoes will play one inning of baseball before delaying for totality of the eclipse, which is scheduled for 10:17 and set to last 1 minute and 57 seconds.

NASA is live streaming the game worldwide on its website at www.nasa.gov/eclipse-live.

Admission to the game includes top-of-the-line NASA eclipse glasses.

“You’re never going to find a better situation for glasses than to get those,” Lisa Walker, co-owner of the Volcanoes said.

As of Wednesday, only a select number of tickets were available for Monday’s game through the Totality Eclipse Package, which for $50 includes general admission to all four games Aug. 18–21. Another option is the Party Patio, which are $50 for Monday only.

“It’s a beautiful location between the dugout and bullpen,” Walker said.

For availability, call 503-390-2225 or visit volcanoes-baseball.com.

“We have no intention of selling tickets the day of the game,” said Walker, who also recommended purchasing parking beforehand.

EclipseFest will begin Friday, Aug. 18 with BrewFest at 3 to 10 p.m.

A NASA presentation is scheduled for 5 p.m. The baseball game against the Boise Hawks starts at 6:35 with fireworks afterwards.

BrewFest, which includes more than 30 beers from 15 breweries, will continue Saturday at noon.

More NASA presentations are planned for 1 and 5 p.m. JT and the Tourists are performing live music from The Salem-Keizer Volcanoes will wear eclipse jerseys during Monday’s game against the Hillsboro Hops.

2 to 5:30 p.m. Former major leaguer Ken Griffey Sr. is signing free autographs beginning at 5:30.

The Volcanoes play the Hillsboro Hops at 6:35.

Sunday is Bike to the Park Day, beginning with BrewFest at noon. NASA presentations are again scheduled for 1 and 5 p.m. A Backyard Baseball Barbecue with ribs and chicken will be served for $10 from 1 to 3 p.m. The baseball game begins at 2:05.

Admission to BrewFest on Aug. 18–20 is $10 and includes a ticket to that day’s game.

Volcanoes suffer one run loss to Canadians

By HERB SWETT
Of the Keizertimes

Vancouver’s big inning in Sunday’s middle game of the series produced four runs, the Volcanoes’ three.

That was the difference in a game that was tied 1-1 after 5-1/2 innings and ended with a Salem-Keizer 5-4 loss. The Canadians had their rally in the sixth, and the Volcanoes had theirs in the seventh.

Stet Woods, Salem-Keizer’s starting pitcher, struck out seven and allowed three hits and two walks. He left the game after throwing 80 pitches in five innings and would have pitched to no decision had his team won.

Nate Pearson, who started on the mound for Vancouver, pitched no-hit baseball for three innings with one walk and six strikeouts, throwing his fast ball at 100 or more m.p.h. several times.

Such a record is more typical of a closer, and he may have shown signs of tiring after those innings.

The Volcanoes’ Malique Ziegler, leading off in the top of the fourth, hit his fourth home run of the season off Brayden Boucher to left center field for the first run of the game. Bryce Johnson followed with a bunt single, but Boucher retired the next three batters.

In the Vancouver fourth, Kacy Clemens walked with two out and went to second base on a single to right by Riley Adams. Samad Taylor doubled to left, scoring Clemens, and the game was tied.

Brody Rodning took the mound for the Canadians in the top of the fifth and retired Salem-Keizer in order.

Vancouver threatened in the fifth, with Bryan Lizardo leading off with a double to left. Woods struck out the next two batters. A wild pitch moved Lizardo to third, but Woods fanned the next man.

In the top of the sixth, it was the Volcanoes’ turn to threaten.
