

SOUTH,

After South Salem made two free throws, Doust went 1-for-2 from the line. The Lady Saxons then missed the front end of an one-and-one but McNary couldn't grab the rebound.

South Salem made two more free throws to stretch its lead to three points with 30 seconds remaining.

Getting out-rebounded against South Salem, which had five players taller than anyone on the Lady Celts, was a problem for McNary all night.

"They had 16 rebounds in the second half and we had 19 the whole game," Doran said. "They do have a size advantage but rebounding is about heart, too. You've got to get in there and rebound. You can't just take one shot and that be the possession."

The Lady Celts led for most of the first quarter before South Salem began to take control in the second and led 30-23 at halftime.

"We started the ball game pretty well and we had a streak there towards the end but we've got to put four quarters together," Doran said.

McNary didn't score in the final 4 minutes of the second quarter.

"They got into an extended zone on us and we wanted to get to the high post area," Doran said.

"We were just being a little too passive. We let their extension and their arms out kind of bother us and we weren't making the passes that we wanted to make."

Doust scored 18 points to lead the Lady Celts. Hawley added 12. No one else scored more than three.

The top 16 teams in the OSAA power rankings host a first round playoff game. McNary entered the game 15th but dropped to 17th with the loss.

The Lady Celts final two games are at No. 29 West Salem on Friday, Feb. 16 and then at home on Tuesday, Feb. 20 versus No. 12 McMinville.

"These next two games are huge," Doran said. "We've got to regroup and take care of a couple things defensively and rebounding wise and take care of business these next two games. We've got to enjoy, too. The end of the season is wrapping up and we've got some seniors that have played four years. We've got to have fun and play together these last two league games. We've just got to fight together and have fun while we're doing it, too."

STATE,

Vincent is the No. 3 seed at 126 pounds after winning back-to-back district titles.

Leading his bracket is No. 1 Gavin Jolley, a two-time state champion out of Sherwood and Phillip Kue, the reigning 113-pound state champion from Centennial.

Vincent lost to Kue at the Oregon Classic last month.

"My coaches and my parents, everyone said I wasn't wrestling like I normally do and at first I went into the match intimidated," Vincent said. "I wasn't wrestling like I normally was, aggressive wise or technique wise. I was just stalling out and trying to get any point I could and that didn't work out that well. My game plan is to go in and do what I normally do."

Vincent wants to improve on last year's performance when he placed third in the state at 120 pounds.

"This year I'm not scared at all and I'm just looking towards that finals match," Vincent said. "Last year was my first time there so I thought I'd be lucky to place but this time I better place and I better place higher than third."

McNary sophomore Nicolette Parra also has her eye on the finals of the girls state tournament.

Parra finished second in her 135-pound weight class out of 47 girls on Jan. 26-27 to qualify for the exhibition tournament. The OSAA Executive Board voted Monday, Feb. 12 to create a separate state championship division for girls beginning in 2018-19.

Parra will open the tournament against Grants Pass senior Kaitlyn Dara. Mostly likely awaiting her in the finals would be Central Linn junior Sarah Conner, who defeated Parra in the qualifying tournament and won the 132-pound state championship last season.

Parra has spent her break from competition getting in better shape.

"I've really been taking care of my body because my health wasn't that great at qualifying," Parra said. "I'm not really worried about. It's like any other tournament."

McNary senior Blake Norton is seeded fourth at 220 pounds after winning the district championship at McKay on Feb. 3.

Norton has something in common with No. 1 Brett Nicholson of Aloha and No. 3 Julian Stone of North Medford. All three wrestled in the state tournament as heavyweights last year and were eliminated early. Daniel Serik, the No. 2 seed out of David Douglas, hasn't wrestled in the state tournament before.

McNary junior Nick Hernandez and freshman Grady Burrows will make their debuts in the state tournament after finishing third at 138 pounds and fourth at 106 pounds in the district.

Headlining the 138 bracket are David Douglas senior Kyle Beal, who was the state runner-up last season, and West Albany senior Sawyer Myres, who placed sixth last year.

David Douglas senior Max Hodge and Sprague senior Bollong Joklur are the top two seeds at 106.

The state tournament begins Friday at 8:30 a.m. Finals are scheduled for Saturday at 6:30 p.m.
