disqualified in the semifinals. Jolley defeated Vincent 7-4.

"I had all this hype," Vincent said. "Everyone had all this hype for me going up and I do worse than I did last year. If you look at the bigger picture it's because I wrestled the No. 1 and 2 seed this time."

Vincent, the No. 3 seed, fell behind Kue early on two takedowns and two near falls.

"All the nerves I was trying to make into excitement in my body," Vincent said. "I wasn't as powerful and he took me down right off the bat and I was a little shocked there. I was stunned and then I couldn't get off bottom."

Vincent wrestled his best in the third period.

"I think Enrique got caught in the headlights a little bit early and got taken down quick and that's when Kue does his best work when he's on top," coach Ebbs said. "He's big and long and strong and good. By the time we got to the third round, Enrique was starting to put some work together on his feet and put him in danger, almost scored several times. If Enrique starts the first round like he did the third round, he could have made that a closer match but Phillip Kue's tough. He's just flat out tough."

Vincent nearly let his emotions get the best of him against Colton Fleming of Aloha in the consolation semifinals. Fleming put Vincent on his back in the first period before he was able to kick out.

"I came up with too much power. I was angry," Vincent said. "He held me there for what felt like 10 seconds but it was only like three seconds."

Vincent trailed late in the

match before pinning Fleming in the third period.

He was excited to get a shot against No. 1 Jolley.

"I came out all aggressive and he matched my aggressiveness," Vincent said.

"That Jolley kid is probably the toughest kid here," coach Ebbs said. "I was extremely impressed with how Enrique wrestled Jolley. They got after it and Enrique actually wrestled really well. I think Enrique did his best wrestling in the third round and needed to start that way in the first round."

McNary sophomore Nicolette Para (135) finished fourth in the girls state tournament after losing to Grants Pass senior Kaitlyn Dara in the semifinals and then Hood River Valley junior Elena Kroll in the third place match.

Parra grew up a lot in her sophomore season, which included taking second at the state qualifier last month in Thurston.

"The Nicolette that wrestled this year compared to the Nicolette that wrestled last year is night and day different," coach Ebbs said. "She's gotta grow and learn from this and mature from it and things will happen her way."

At 220 pounds, McNary senior Blake Norton reached the quarterfinals, where he lost to Sandrey Mitberg of Beaverton 8-2.

"It really was a much closer match than the score showed," Ebbs said. "We made a couple of mental errors and we were right in that match and can't afford to do that at this level."

Norton bounced back to get a 14-1 major decision over Gresham senior Kodey Kromer in the consolation bracket before being pinned by Gavin Moore of Tualatin, ending his tournament.

"He's still got a bright future and a good heart and we're gonna try and see if we can't help him get to a college and start wrestling,"

Ebbs said. "He's just got the fire going."

McNary junior Nick Hernandez (138), who battled knee injuries his freshman and sophomore seasons, got a pin in his first match at the state tournament before losing by technical fall to No. 4 Vincent Washington of Grants Pass in the second.

Hernandez regrouped to win three matches in the consolation bracket, two by pin fall, before being eliminated with a 5-0 loss to Roseburg sophomore Archer Bergeron.

McNary freshman Grady Burrows also earned a pin in his first state tournament match. Burrows was then sent to the consolation bracket after getting pinned in the second period by Westview senior Zaire Foster. Burrows won his first consolation match on a pin in the first period but was then eliminated by getting pinned by Jeremiah Van Cleve of Gresham.

"His last match that he lost was winnable and close and great," Ebbs said. "That's the experience that we're trying to draw from here so when he comes back he's gone through the speed bumps and he's ready to wrestle tough and start getting on the podium. That's why it's so important to get those kids here young and get through the learning curve."
