Clifford Jackson (Jack) Crocker

April 18, 1945 - March 31, 2018

Clifford Jackson (Jack) Crocker was a man who loved classic cars, good music, family, animals, the lottery, and, of course, his home state of California.

Being born in Monterey Park, Calif., Jack was loyal to his Southern California heritage and the vintage cars that embodied that area. On April 18, 1945, his parents Violet and Samuel Crocker brought Jack into this world. He was drafted in the Army, and served his country during the Vietnam War, and received his GED after serving in the military. During his time in the service, he met and married the love of his life, Mary Ellen Cassin, and tied the knot in Las Vegas on August 9, 1970. They had three children together; Kasie, Jennifer, and Jack.

After moving to Oregon, Jack started work at the Oregon Lottery in 1992, retiring there after 25 years in 2017. When he was not working, Jack spent his time enjoying classic cars, and always had a dream to restore these cars, specifically a '40s Ford, '63 Impala, and a '68 Triumph Bonneville Motorcycle just to name a few. Jack was a wonderful mentor, great storyteller, a hard worker, and someone who took great care of his family. His attention to details made him special, and he always had quirky sayings that left a room laughing, confused, delighted, or all of the above. Jack will be truly missed.

Jack is survived by his wife Mary Crocker; daughters Kasie (Dennis) Paynter, and Jennifer (Brett) Freeman; son Jack Crocker; and brother Jim (Barbara) Crocker; and was preceded in death by his parents Violet and Samuel Crocker.

Services in his honor will be held at Keizer Funeral Chapel on Saturday, April 21, at 11 a.m. with a reception afterward, located at the Pour House in Keizer, Ore.

Classic Tap owner Liz Goff leads a class in the business's new space in Schoolhouse Square off River Road North.

their own community," Goff said.

The most immediate beneficiaries of the new studios have actually been adult students. A yoga instructor, Pati Kearns, is now offering classes on Friday and Saturday. An adult ballet class, focusing mostly on workouts and core strengthening, began in recent weeks and a dance cardio class it starting up in May.

"It's great to have adults come back later in life. Most of them started going to a gym at some point and realized they weren't having any fun after being dancers earlier in their lives," Goff said. "When they come back, the adults are the most tenacious. They'll put in more effort than even some of the kids do."

Since the relocation occurred in the middle of the dance season, other students will feel the full effect of simultaneous scheduling this summer and then in the fall.

Classic Tap instructors only need about eight students to open up new sections of classes, and Goff encourages those interested to come and find out what the options are.

"If there is a group of homeschooled students that would like to take a basic movement course, that's something we can do as long as we have an instructor available," she said.

Many of the current instructors grew up in the old studio and now lead classes throughout the week. Goff started teaching at 16.

"We are just an all-around studio. We are family-oriented and we have a passion and love for dance. Our instructors are teachers and counselors and best friends when we need to be," Goff said.

The other instructors at Classic Tap are Raddatz, Renee Meier, Kala Schafer, Sharon Lane, Sarah Greco, Jim Bennett and Lauren McCurdy.
