"It was really, really cool," Ramsay said.

"We were the first Champion team to actually make it to finals to day two, let alone take third in the whole competition was just crazy. It was a super cool experience and I'm glad I got to be a part of the team that actually made it to day two."

Olena Rumbaugh, Brooke Junker and Kaitlyn Roop competed on Champion Cheer's Level 2 team Burn, which also competed in the D2 Summit in Orlando.

The two teams qualified for the Summit at a national event in Portland in January.

Blaze placed first in the CHEERSPORT National Championships in Atlanta in February.

Burn finished second. But the D2 Summit was the biggest stage yet.

"It's much more stressful and everyone is really nervous," Samples said. "Once we start performing, I think that everybody just looks at each other and realizes that we just have to be calm and trust each other."

Rasmussen co-founded the gym with Lynelle Blum in 2004 and it has grown to over 130 athletes on its competitive all-star teams, ages 4-18.

"You never know how far you can go but it has been so awesome," Rasmussen said.

Submitted Angelina Fajer is held up by her Champion Cheer Blaze teammates at the D2 Summit on May 13 in Orlando, Fla.

"It's crazy to see how far we've come and how far we still have to go. Several of our kids have been with us for over 10 years. It's been really cool to watch them grow up and learn to love the sport just like us."

Champion Cheer began its 15th season this week with team evaluations.

"It pumped them up so much for this upcoming season," Rasmussen said of finishing third at the D2 Summit.

"They're all excited to get back to work and do even better next year hopefully."

Franklin then went up 6-1 in the bottom of the third on a two-out error by Covalt at second base.

"When you're coming out here and you're a freshman and you've got seniors and you're trying to play really hard for them and you're trying to play really hard for yourself, it's a big stage, whether they want to think that or not," Wise said.

"I get nervous and I've been doing this for a while so I can't imagine freshmen being out here."

McNary scored two runs in the top of the fifth to get within 6-3 and had two outs in the bottom of the inning. But an error by Witt at short-stop extended the inning and Franklin took advantage with two singles to stretch its lead to 8-3.

Going into the seventh trailing 9-3, Ebbs tripled with two outs to drive home Witt and Cepeda. But Kinler popped up to first base, ending the game.

Witt was 2-for-4 with a double and scored three runs in her final game with the Lady Celts.

McNary graduates three seniors—Watt, Kinler and Haley Ebner.

"They've been huge contributors to this team, not just on the field but off the field and the impact that they've had on this program, it's been huge," Wise said.

"We're going to miss the heck out of them."

Wise and Ebner will continue to play softball at California Riverside and Eastern Oregon.

"They're going on to bigger and better things and Emma's all ready for college and she's a super smart kid," Wise said. "They're just great kids and I just appreciate all they've done for all of us."
