Sound Wave Pain Relief & Advanced Aesthetics

Late in 2017 Steve and Debora Masten opened the doors to their new business, Sound Wave Pain Relief. They provide an alternative pain and wellness therapy for those wanting less pain and better health.

Sound Pressure can help those with arthritis, any circulation issue or wound healing as well as migraines, chronic pain or injury, sciatica, brain fog and more. Sound Pressure is safe, affordable and FDA approved. There are no contraindications so even those with implants, or diseases such as cancer can do Sound Pressure sessions.

University studies and clinical testing have proven that Sound Pressure gives immediate and measurable improvement in many areas of health. "We see improvement in heart rate variability, inflammation, circulation, cellular health and pain," said Steve Masten.

There are many athletic benefits associated with cellular health, circulation and recovery including endurance, speed and power. Many athletes including UFC fighters, are getting a competitive edge using Sound Pressure therapy.

Sound Wave Pain Relief offers corporate wellness programs. They will rent their whole room for your staff, team or group. The sessions last one hour. Participants sit and relax in their relaxation room. There is no disrobing, nor are participants hooked to any equipment; they can sleep, read or listen to music. The first session is complimentary, call to schedule a session.
