The Volcanoes gained a one-game edge in their five-day road series with the Tri-City Dust Devils on Friday, winning 5-1.

Aaron Bond, Ricardo Genoves, and Christopher Burks had two hits apiece for Salem-Keizer. Reliever Ryan Walker won his first game against no losses, striking out four in 3-1/3 innings.

The game was scoreless for the first two innings, and in the third the Volcanoes rallied for four runs.

Genoves doubled down the left field foul line, and Burks drove him in with a single to center field.

Kyle McPherson walked, and Bond scored both runners with a triple to right. Diego Rincones brought Bond home with a sacrifice fly to right.

With two out in the fourth, Genoves hit a 3-2 pitch from starter Henry Henry over the left field fence for the fifth Volcano run.

Salem-Keizer threatened in the fifth. Burks led off with an infield single but was thrown out trying to steal second base.

McPherson flew out to right. Bond doubled to center, but Rincones hit a grounder off Henry's glove, and Henry quickly retrieved the ball and threw to first base for the third out.

In the Dust Devil fifth, starting pitcher Greg Jacknewitz showed signs of tiring. Justin Paulsen led off with a triple to right center. Jose Lezama, on a 3-2 count, drove Paulsen in with a single to center.

In the process of striking out Elvis Sabala, Jacknewitz delivered a wild pitch, sending Paulsen to second.

Grant Little hit a line drive into third baseman David Villar's glove, but a pitch hit Blake Hunt, and Owen Miller walked on a 3-2 count. The bases were loaded.

Jacknewitz missed qualifying for a win by one out. Manager Hector Borg replaced him with the sidarming Walker.

Olivier Basabe hit a sharp grounder to Villar, who grabbed the ball back-handed and fired it to first baseman Wander Franco.

Korey Anderson pitched the seventh inning, Nick Kuzia the eighth, and Diomar

Lopez the ninth for Tri-City. Sidney Duprey pitched the ninth for the Volcanoes. Henry was the losing pitcher with a 4-2 record.

Tri-City 3, Volcanoes 2
Bats were quieter than usual in this first game of a road series, and the quieter bats belonged to Salem-Keizer.

The Volcanoes, who were outthit 9-5, scored both their runs in the fifth inning.

Mikey Edie was hit by a pitch, stole second base and took third on a catcher's bad throw, and scored on a wild pitch after Kyle McPherson walked. Diego Rincones doubled McPherson home.

The Dust Devils scored one run each in the second, third, and eighth. Olivier Basabe swung the biggest Tri-City bat, hitting a single and a double, scoring a run, and driving one in.

Joe Galindo was the winning pitcher in relief with a 2-0 record, and Jordan Guerrero got his sixth save. Trent Toplikar, the second of three Volcano relievers, took the loss at 1-1.

Thursday, Aug. 2
Volcanoes 6, Tri-City 4

An inside-the park home run by Aaron Bond and Jesus Tona's eighth save in as many opportunities were the highlights of this one.

The Dust Devils scored the first two runs of the game in the third inning, and Salem-Keizer responded with four runs in the top of the fourth. Tri-City scored once in the fourth and once in the fifth, but the Volcanoes scored the last two runs in the eighth and ninth.

In the Volcano fourth, four hits, an error, and a wild pitch provided the four runs. The biggest blow was a two-run double by Wander Franco. Bond's homer came with two out in the eighth.

Miguel Figueroa, the second Volcano reliever, got his first win against three losses. The losing pitcher, also in relief, was Gabe Mosser at 1-1.

Saturday, Aug. 4
Volcanoes 15, Tri-City 3
This lopsided win moved the Volcanoes into a first-place tie with Hillsboro and guaranteed them a series win. Salem-Keizer's biggest inning was the seven-run fifth, with a three-run home run by Aaron Bond the biggest hit. A double, four singles, and an error also contributed to the rally.

In the eighth, David Villar also hit a three-run homer. The Volcanoes had a total of 18 hits.

Manager Hector Borg lifted starting pitcher Jake Wong after three scoreless innings and put in Keaton Winn, who had his second win against one loss.

The losing pitcher was the Dust Devils' starter, Adrian Martinez, at 2-4.

Sunday, Aug. 5
Volcanoes 5, Tri-City 1
Salem-Keizer reached an 8-5 record for the second half of the season by taking four out of five games in Pasco. Seth Corry, one of the newer Volcanoes, started on the mound and became the winning pitcher with a 1-0 record, striking out five in his five innings.

David Villar hit his ninth home run in the fifth inning with one on, and Joey Bart hit two triples and scored two runs.

Matt Frisbee and Trent Toplikar pitched in relief for the Volcanoes.

Cole Bellinger, who started for the Dust Devils, was the losing pitcher at 1-5.

West Salem sophomore, also hit a home run.

Kamden Combs, of Philomath, pitched all five innings, allowing only three hits.

The Vandals jumped on Colorado right away in game one, scoring four runs in the top of the first inning. They then added two runs in the sixth and six in the seventh to win 12-3 and force a winner-take-all game two.

Tied 0-0 with two outs and a runner at first base in the top of the sixth, Covalt singled to left field.

Kami Gibson and Bella Fleener then hit back-to-back RBI singles, scoring Davis and Covalt to give the Vandals a 2-0 lead. Gibson then finished off the Angels in the circle, holding them to just two hits over seven innings.

The tournament featured 16 teams from Oregon, Colorado, California, Washington and Nevada.

The Vandals will hold try-outs for next season at South Salem High School on Saturday, Aug. 11 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. to field 14A and 16A softball teams. For more information or to register online, go to nvwandals.com.
