Crash turns into pursuit

A driver involved in a crash on River Road North about 9:20 a.m. on Friday, Sept. 21, fled the scene when it was discovered he had no license or insurance. He ended up in cuffs after a pursuit that ended in Keizer Station.

The crash occurred near the intersection of River Road North and Lockhaven Drive Northeast when the suspect, driving a Ford Expedition, crashed into a Nissan Sentra stopped for a red light. Both drivers exited their vehicles, but the driver of the Sentra wanted to call 9-1-1 when he discovered the driver of the Expedition had no license or insurance. At that point, the driver of the Expedition returned to his vehicle and left the scene traveling east on Lockhaven Drive.

Officer Tyler Wampler was patrolling near the area at the time and spotted the vehicle near Lockhaven and 14th Avenue. After initiating a traffic stop, the suspect pulled over near Countryside Church at the intersection of McLeod Lane and Lockhaven. As Wampler approached the vehicle to contact the driver, the car sped away. The driver led Wampler on a short pursuit into and around Keizer Station, but stopped his vehicle and put both hands out of the window when he spotted Sgt. Greg Barber approaching from the oncoming direction.

Evan Alexander Gnagey, no permanent address, was taken to Marion County Correctional Facility on suspicion of failure to perform the duties of a driver when property is damaged, reckless driving and fleeing or attempting to elude an officer. He was also issued citations for no having a license, careless driving and driving uninsured.

FLEEING DRIVER CRASHES IN WEST KEIZER

One of Keizer's newest officers has his first pursuit under his belt.

About 2:20 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 20, Officer Marcus Risteen, who was sworn in just last month and hired by the department as the result of a public safety fee enacted by the city council, spotted a silver Ford Escape on Windsor Island Road North with out plates and no taillights.

Risteen attempted a traffic stop, but the driver turned east on Alexis Lane, which dead-ends after passing a handful of homes. The driver crashed into a chainlink fence, fled on foot and hopped over a wooden fence at the end of the street. Additional officers helped establish a perimeter, but the suspect — described as a white male in his 20s — avoided capture.

The vehicle was not reported stolen and officers are continuing to investigate the incident.

New buses christened at Keizer Transit Center

U.S. Rep. Kurt Schrader helped the Salem Area Mass Transit District unveil three new bus models that will be plying the streets of Keizer and Salem in 2019.

The Oregon legislature passed legislation which provides the district's Cheriots a new funding source—a state-wide 1 percent payroll tax that benefits all the state's transit districts. Earlier this year Rep. Schrader along with Senators Ron Wyden and Jeff Merkley secured more than $2 million in grant funding for Oregon's transit districts.

Last week Cheriots showed off its new blue-hued vehicles which includes 12 busses for local (fixed route) service, three buses for regional service and five paratransit vehicles. The 20 vehicles cost a total of $8.4 million, Salem Mass Transit District's largest equipment purchase in 15 years.

KAA launches kids' workshop

A new club for young people to be creative has been developed by the Keizer Art Association.

The Makers' Club will be held the first Saturday of each month at the association's classroom at the Keizer Cultural Center.

Kids will learn acrylic, watercolor, calligraphy, drawing, collage, mixed media and art journaling.

Classes are designed for all ages—children under 8 must be accompanied by an adult. The cost for each class is $10 when pre-registered; at the door fee is $15 (but space is not guaranteed for walk-ins). Registrants can get one free class by purchasing a six-class punchcard for $50.

A $5 supply fee will be collected at the start of each session. A supply kit (including all the materials needed for 12 classes) may be purchased for $50.

For more information visit keizerarts.com. The Keizer Art Association is located in the Keizer Cultural Center at 980 Chemawa Rd. NE.
