Cruz had his fifth save. The losing pitcher in relief was Brad Deppermann at 0-1.

Friday, Aug. 30: Volcanoes 4, Eugene 3 (11 innings)

First the no-hitter disappeared, then the shutout, then the lead, but Salem-Keizer still came out on top.

The first three runs of the game were scored in the top of the fifth. Abdiel Layer doubled Luis Toribio home, moving Tyler Flores to third base. Layer and Flores then scored on a single by Kwan Adkins. The Emeralds got their first hit in the bottom of the fifth. Salem-Keizer still held the three-run advantage in the top of the ninth, but Eugene scored three times in the inning to tie the game.

Jacob Olson tripled, driving in Josue Huma for the Emeralds first run. Olson scored as Jonathan Soto singled, and an error by second baseman Yorlis Rodriguez let Fernando Kelli score to tie the game.

The game went into extra innings, but the Volcanoes scored the go-ahead run in the top of the 11th when Jairo Pomares scored on a wild pitch by Maikel Aguiar.

Jordan Scott was the winning pitcher in relief at 3-1, throwing two scoreless innings without giving up a hit.

Saturday, Aug. 31: Volcanoes 4, Eugene 3 (10 innings)

This repetition of history, minus one inning, gave the Volcanoes a sweep of this road series.

Salem-Keizer scored the first two runs of the game in the top of the seventh as a single by Brandon Mortarano drove in Armani Smith and Luis Toribio.

It was a 2-0 game until Eugene's Alex Guerra tied the game by homering with Yovanny Cuevas on base.

In the Volcano 10th, a double by Kwan Adkins scored Abdiel Layer. Adkins reached third on a wild pitch and then scored on a sacrifice fly Alex Canario.

The Emeralds did not stop fighting. With two out in the bottom of the 10th, a double by Ryan Reynolds drove in Jacob Olson to cut the lead to one.

But Deiyerbert Bolivar struck out the next batter to get his third save. Bolivar had relieved Conner Nurse, who won his second game against four losses. Jake Reindl took the loss at 0-1.

Sunday, Sept. 1: Eugene 10, Volcanoes 7 (10 innings)

The Volcanoes followed their four-game road sweep of Eugene with a home loss to the Emeralds in the first of the last two regular-season games.

Salem-Keizer scored the first two runs of the game in the second inning as Beicker Mendoza doubled Tyler Wyatt and Harrison Freed home.

Eugene's first run came in the third, and in the fourth Alex Guerra hit a two-run homer that gave the Emeralds a 3-2 lead. Chris Corbett singled Kwan Adkins home in the Volcano fourth to tie the score.

In the sixth, a sacrifice fly put Eugene ahead one run. A two-run homer by Edmond American in the eighth then put the visitors ahead 6-3. In the Volcano eighth, three straight solo homers, courtesy of Adkins, Harrison Freed and Mendoza, made the score 6-6.

It remained 6-6 until the top of the 10th, when two walks, two singles and a wild pitch gave the Emeralds four more runs. All Salem-Keizer could manage in that inning was another run by Adkins, driven in by Corbett.

Maikel Aguiar was the winning pitcher, evening his record at 2-2. The loss went to Clay Helvey, 1-2.
