competitive as heck. I imagine that we will have a different starting lineup for our next game," Kirch said. Meithof scored nine points in the opening period, but picked up his second foul late in the first quarter. However, his foul trouble didn't make him play with less aggressiveness when he came back in for the second period.

Meithof poured in three straight hoops when he re-entered the game, keeping McNary's lead at double-figures. He ended the half with 18 points, but Meithof also picked up his third foul with just over two minutes remaining in the half.

With Meithof on the bench, Mountain View got the score within four. Jaime Ochoa got some momentum back on the McNary side before the half by nailing his second three of the game at the buzzer.

But Mountain View continued to chip away at the Celtics lead and even trimmed the deficit to two at 43-41 with 3:33 left in the third period.

The Cougars appeared to be on the verge of tying the game, but when Grant Jordan was whistled for an offensive foul, the Mountain View forward let his emotions get the best of him and was called for a technical foul.

The game changed from that point forward.

After Evan Cornell stepped up to hit both technical foul shots, Kyler Rodriguez completed the four-point possession with a tough layup.

In the final 90 seconds of the quarter, the Celtics got a triple from Cornell and back-to-back 3-pointers by Copeland to complete a 13-2 run, which gave McNary the 56-43 advantage.

To begin the fourth quarter, Meithof called his number three straight times with isolation plays. He scored rather easily on all three trips with a pair of mid-range jumpers off the dribble and a nifty layup in the lane to increase the Celtics advantage to 18.

Meithof has been used to being face-guarded and double-teamed all season, so when Mountain View decided to play him straight up, he made them pay.

"It felt a lot easier. I don't know why they didn't defend me harder," Meithof said.

McNary outscored the Cougars 24-8 in the final 12 minutes of the game thanks to their solid defensive play down the stretch, as well as their hot shooting and attack off the dribble. "We did a lot better with our help-side defense and protecting the three-point line, because they were hitting them from out there.

Once we did that, the game was over," Meithof said. "I thought we were really fundamentally sound. We calmed down and attacked off the bounce and we were shooting one-and-one with five minutes to go. Our guys were very coachable tonight and I thought that was also a big difference," Kirch added.

McNary will host McKay at 5:45 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 21.

Celts get upset over Bend

By MATT RAWLINGS

Leah Doult led the way with 20 points and five assists and Bekah Grimmer added 13 points and seven rebounds as the McNary girls basketball team pulled off the upset victory over Bend on Friday, Feb. 14, defeating the Lava Bears 46-41.

The Celtics started the game on a 12-2 run, thanks to five quick points from Doult, a pair of buckets by Grimmer and a 3-pointer from Kennedy Buss.

McNary took a 13-6 lead into the second quarter and eventually extended the lead to 13 after two more baskets by Grimmer.

Kenzie Proctor knocked down a shot moments later, but Bend got the deficit down to 21-11 before the half — it was the least amount of points McNary has given up in a half during league play.

After Grimmer started the third quarter with another hoop to put herself in double-figures, the Lava Bears responded with an 8-0 run to get themselves within four. But a pair of free throws by Grimmer and two 3-pointers from Doult allowed the Celtics to get back in control with an 8-0 run of their own.

The Celtics began the fourth quarter with a 31-22 advantage. Bend cut the lead down to five with 4:04 left in the final period. Fortunately for the Celtics, Doult was able to seal the win with her play on both sides of the court.

With 2:11 left in the game and McNary clinging to a 36-

31 lead, Doult nailed her fourth triple of the contest. Just seconds later, the junior point guard got a steal and finished a layup on the other end to put the Celtics back up by double-digits.

The Celtics officially put the game away after a clutch bucket Annie Leigh Besa, which thwarted any comeback chance that Bend had.

McNary returns home on Friday, Feb. 21 to take on McKay at 7:15.
