National Guard after high school, and is hoping that he will have another opportunity to put on a Celtics jersey one last time.

"We had new jerseys and I just got $250 cleats for the season. I don't want that to be for nothing. It just doesn't feel right for baseball to end this way," Simpson said. "It's just crazy. We went from starting the season in a week to not playing at all. I don't think anyone saw that coming."

Before the suspension, Keeker was able to encourage his squad for the future.

"I told the team that this is a minor sacrifice considering what is going on in the country right now. With that being said, it doesn't make it any easier," Keeker said. "These kids still have a lot of things to look forward to after graduation. This will just be one of many life lessons they will go through."

ourselves and our customers," Sullivan said. "We will be disinfecting regularly any places where hands could touch something."

Additionally, McNary Golf Club staff has cut and placed pool noodles in each of the holes so that when the ball goes in the hole, it can be easily retrieved without touching the flag — removing the flag is not allowed.

All rakes and ball washers have also been removed. Outdoor restrooms will still be available for use.

These conditions are fluid and change at a moments notice according to the McNary Golf Club website.

Howard has enacted similar rules at Willow Lake, making sure that golfers are at least six feet apart and allowing only one person per party in the pro shop at a time.

Willow Lake will only be doing credit card transactions only, no cash — patrons will not have to sign the credit card receipt.

"We are disinfecting our baskets, ball and tokens multiple times a day," Howard said. "Any place there is a point of contact, we are cleaning it."

No carts or bags will be allowed inside the pro shop at Willow Lake and no rental or loaner clubs will be available for use.
