5.2 scoreless innings in the Giants 2-0 victory. San Francisco completed the sweep of the Tigers in the next game, giving Vogelsong his first World Series ring.

Vogelsong ended his historic postseason with a 3-0 record and a 1.09 ERA, which was the lowest mark since Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Orel Hershiser posted a 1.05 ERA in the 1988 playoffs (minimum 24 innings pitched). Vogelsong is also one of only two pitchers in MLB history to begin their playoff careers with four or more starts of five or more innings giving up one run or fewer.

Vogelsong struggled to begin the 2013 season, going 2-4 with a 7.19 ERA in his first nine starts of the season. He then went to the disabled list for nearly three months after being hit in the hand with a pitch while batting against the Washington Nationals on May 20, 2013.

Vogelsong returned to the rotation on Aug. 9, 2013 and finished the year by lowering his ERA down to 5.73.

Before the 2014 season, Vogelsong signed a one-year deal with San Francisco worth $5 million. While he didn't pitch at an all-star caliber level like he did in 2011 and 2012, it was still a bounce-back year for Vogelsong, who made a career-high in starts (32) and went 8-13 with a 4.00 ERA with 151 strikeouts in 184.2 innings.

Vogelsong made three starts in the 2014 playoffs. While he didn't get a decision in either of the three outings, the Giants won all three games he pitched en route to their third World Series title of the decade.

Vogelsong's last season with the Giants in 2015. He made 22 starts, but also had 11 appearances out of the bullpen. He finished the season 9-11 with a 4.67 ERA in 135 innings. On Sept. 3, 2015, he hit the only homer of his career against Jordan Lyles of the Colorado Rockies.

In the offseason, Vogelsong signed a one-year deal with his old team, the Pirates. It ended up being his final season in the big leagues. He threw only 82.1 innings and went 3-7 with a 4.81 ERA.

On Aug. 15, 2016, Vogelsong returned to San Francisco to face the team that drafted him. Vogelsong got the win against the Giants, pitching 5.2 innings and giving up four runs. Before his outing began, the Giants played numerous highlights on the big screen from Vogelsong's days in San Francisco which was met with a great deal of applause from the fans.

The applause was even louder from the Giants faithful when Pirates manager Clint Hurdle took Vogelsong out of the game in the bottom of the sixth. Vogelsong tipped his hat to the crown as he went back into the dugout.

In 2017, Vogelsong agreed to a minor league contract with the Minnesota Twins, but was released in March after struggling in spring training. On Sept. 17, 2017, the Giants held a ceremony at AT&T Park to officially have Vogelsong retire as a Giant. He is one of 48 former Giants players that is featured on the San Francisco Giants Wall of Fame.

OUR STORY

Meet the people that make your community newspaper

Since 1987, the Keizertimes has been proud to be honored with more than 70 first place journalism awards bestowed by the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association, as judged by members of press associations from states around the country.

The current staff is dedicated to publishing the best newspaper for the people of Keizer — they deserve nothing less.

LET'S MEET Lyndon Zaitz

Publisher & Editor
(Born: Naples, Fla., Resides: Keizer)

WHY THE KEIZERTIMES?

Journalism has been in the family blood since the 1930s. My father owned the Keizer News in the 1940s. After a career spent in food and beverage I finally joined the family business and it has been the most rewarding career I could have had.

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

The news distributed on social media is just that: social. Local community newspapers is where the public can put their trust, especially with the Keizertimes. No other source can get into the nooks and crannies of the Keizer community like the local newspaper. We live here. Decisions are made here. We like to say: "You think you know, to be sure read the Keizertimes."

MY PASSION

Government and politics. And The Container Store — it's my Mecca.
