Assist Klosets supporting students through pandemic

The Keizer Community Foundation, which oversees The Klosets that provides food, clothes and daily living items, is calling out for donations to be delivered to students where they live. The pandemic and current economic conditions have increased the need over last year.

The Klosets are stocked with donations from the Keizer Community Foundation and members of the community. Counselors at the schools help students in need to 'shop' the Kloset for food and clothes. There is a Kloset at McNary High School, Whiteaker and Claggett Creek Middle Schools and the elementary schools.

All in-person classes at the schools are canceled due to COVID-19 but students still need to get Kloset items into their hands. After donations are dropped off at McNary, Whiteaker and Claggett Creek schools, counselors deliver items to students' homes.

The foundation is asking the community to donate.

"As you would expect, the needs are high for our Keizer Kids," said the organization's Facebook page. Rather than random donations, specific items for specific schools are being solicited.

Needs include: McNary High School

-Canned black, pinto or refried beans, boxed pasta and pasta sauce, bags of sugar and flour, headphones with microphone for school work via Chromebooks.

Whiteaker Middle School - Canned black, pinto or refried beans, boxed pasta and pasta sauce, rice.

Claggett Creek Middle School - Coats and jackets for boys and girls of middle school age.

Kennedy Elementary School - Boys and girls pajamas for elementary school age.

Donors can visit whirllocal.io/company/keizer-community-foundation to make financial donations online.

Impacted by COVID freeze? ODHS wants to ease the burden

As Oregon endures a freeze on unnecessary activity to stop the rapid spread of COVID-19, the Oregon Department of Human Services (ODHS) is extending additional assistance to impacted families.

All Oregonians can apply for food, cash and child care assistance from home without having to visit an office in person.

Visit govstatus.egov.com/or-dhs-benefits for information on how to apply for assistance using the ODHS online application, email, mail, telephone or application drop off.

Oregonians who need urgent and ongoing food assistance can visit needfood.oregon.gov.

Older adults or people with disabilities who need additional information about resources available to help can call 1-855-ORE-ADRC

(1-855-673-2372) or visit www.adrcforegon.org.

Information on how to apply for domestic violence assistance can also be found at govstatus.egov.com/or-dhs-benefits.

While many ODHS offices remain open to the public for essential business, we encourage members of the public to apply online, by email, by phone, or to call before coming in. In most cases, you don't need to visit an office in person to get assistance.

For more ways to connect with ODHS or to find other types of assistance, contact 211info: by dialing 2-1-1 from any phone; text your zip code to 898211; email help@211info.org; or visit 211info.org or covid19.211info.org. TTY users can dial 711 and call 1-866-698-6155
