decade by defeating the Royals 3-2 in game seven. ESPN senior writer David Schoenfeld called the defensive stop by Panik "the play of the series."

Panik's first full season in the big leagues came in 2015 — it turned out to be the best year of his career. In 102 games, Panik batted .312 with 27 doubles, 37 RBIs and 59 runs scored. Panik's performance earned him a trip to his first ever All-Star Game.

On April 25, 2015, Panik hit a walk-off sacrifice fly to propel the Giants to a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Just nine days later, Panik delivered in the clutch yet again with a walk-off single against the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim.

On May 3, 2015, after Giants leadoff hitter Nori Aoki socked a solo shot off Angels pitcher Jered Weaver in the bottom of the first, Panik, who was batting second, blasted a solo homer of his own to give the Giants the early 2-0 lead. It was the first time since 1964 that the Giants began a game with consecutive homers.

Panik, however, had to be shut down towards the end of the 2015 season due to a stress fracture in his vertebrae.

Despite missing a month of the 2016 season due to a concussion, Panik appeared in 127 games and hit 10 homers and had career-highs in RBIs (62) and runs scored (67). Panik also won his first Gold Glove in 2016, becoming the first Giants second baseman to win the award since Robby Thompson in 1993.

In the 2016 NLDS, Panik was one of the only offensive bright spots for the Giants, going 6-of-10 from the plate with two doubles and two RBIs — San Francisco was swept by the Chicago Cubs, who eventually went on to win the World Series.

In 2017, Panik hit .288 and had a career-high of 147 hits along with 10 homers and 53 RBIs. From Sept. 4-6, panik set a franchise record, and tied an MLB record, with 12 hits in a three-game series against the Colorado Rockies — he was the first player to accomplish the feat since Jerry Remy in 1981.

Panik made history again for the Giants at the beginning of the 2018 season. On March 31, Panik hit a solo homer off Clayton Kershaw in the Giants 1-0 victory over the Dodgers. The following day, Panik homered off Dodgers closer Kenley Jansen in the top of the ninth, giving San Francisco another 1-0 win. It was the first time in MLB history that a player homered for his team in back-to-back 1-0 victories.

With a homer against the Seattle Mariners two days later, Panik became the first MLB player to score his team's first three runs of the season all on solo home runs. However, he would only end up hitting one homer for the remainder of the season.

Panik finished 2018 hitting .254 with 14 doubles and a .307 OBP.

Panik struggled in the 2019 season, hitting just .235 with three homers in the first four months of the season. On Aug. 6, 2019, Panik was released by the Giants.

Panik was picked up by the Mets on Aug. 9, 2019 and finished the season with the team. He batted .277 with a pair of homers and 12 RBIs in 39 games.

On Jan. 18, 2020, Panik signed with the Toronto Blue Jays. In 41 games, Panik hit .225 with a homer and seven RBIs — the COVID-19 pandemic forced the MLB to reduce the 2020 season to just 60 games.

The Blue Jays qualified for the postseason but were swept in the opening round by the Tampa Bay Rays.

Keizer tree lights up Tuesday, tune in online to watch

Two lucky children will be chosen to assist Santa Claus as he flips the switch that lights up Keizer's Christmas tree on Tuesday, Dec. 1. Unfortunately, due to the ongoing pandemic, the public will not be invited for the ceremony this time around.

Despite the inability to gather, the event will be televised on Keizer 23, Keizer's local access television station, and the Keizer Chamber of Commerce Facebook page.

The annual lighting ceremony is at Walery Plaza, named for Keizer resident Dave Walery, affectionately known as Mr. Christmas due to his volunteer work over many years maintaining and installing the decorations that line River Road during the holidays as well as his work with the permanent tree. Walery Plaza is located where River Road and Cherry Avenue meet.

Beth Melendy of the Keizer Public Arts Commission will announce the 2021 winner of the City of Keizer holiday card contest.

Santa is expected to arrive in Keizer around 6 p.m., hitching a ride to Walery Plaza in a fire truck courtesy of his friends at the Keizer Fire District. The actual flipping of the switch of the tree lights is expected to happen shortly after.

are 20 feet, the average height of the building will be considered 23 feet.

- Breezeways would be added to the permissible types of connections between the primary dwelling.

- Accessory structures that share a common wall will need to be constructed of materials compatible with the primary structure.

- Membrane structures will be prohibited, and the list of allowable materials expanded to wood, stone, brick, metal, vinyl or resin that is crafted to look like wood.

According to existing rules, attached garages can be no larger than 600 square feet and no taller than the existing primary structure and, even then, no taller than 24 feet.

Commissioner Jeremy Grenz suggested revising how setbacks are triggered. In the past, Witham said, setbacks were based on the height of the facing wall. Grenz said using the average height would bring the code more in line with surrounding communities.

In an original draft of the new code, metal siding was going to be prohibited alongside membrane materials, but that didn't sit well with many of the commissioners.

"If someone wants to go out and buy a boat, we are adding to their cost if we don't allow the metal siding," said commissioner Matt Lawyer.

Commissioner Mark Caillier said he recently noted a new garage door in his neighborhood that looked like wood until he was five feet away when it became apparent it was metal."

"I just did a quick search online and you can find log cabin designs made out of metal siding," Caillier said. "I don't think any of us want to see vertical-seam metal siding though."

The new standards would apply to any accessory structure with more than 200 square feet for ground flooring. Smaller structures, like those found in kits at hardware stores, are generally exempt from the building code.
