After a spectacular offensive display in their previous game, the McNary attack was completely neutralized by the Sprague defense.

The Celtics could only muster 176 yards of total offense as Sprague routed McNary 28-0 on Friday, March 19.

It was the first time McNary has lost a league contest since 2017 and the first time they had been shut out since 2014.

"It seemed like anything that could have gone wrong did go wrong," McNary head coach Jeff Auvinen said. "The nice thing about our kids and our coaching staff is that we're going to take responsibility and get better from this."

The Celtic errors began during the opening kickoff as Jake Paton fumbled the Sprague pooch kick and allowed the Olympians to take over on the McNary 27-yard line. Sprague converted a trio of third down conversions on their short drive, which concluded with a five-yard touchdown run from Ethan Bullock.

Despite multiple other miscues from the Celtics, such as an interception and a muffed punt, the McNary defense stayed stout and kept the score at 7-0 for the majority of the first half.

"The defense rose up quite a few times," Auvinen said.

However, with less than three minutes remaining in the second quarter, Sprague took advantage of McNary's man-to-man coverage on third-and-18 and connected on a long pass play to get the ball inside Celtics territory.

"I screwed up that play-call on third-and-long and they took advantage of that," Auvinen said. "We were in man (coverage) and probably should have had a little help over the top. I almost called timeout and looking back, I should have."

Moments later, Sprague quarterback Logan Smith connected with Colton Herring on a crossing route for a 20-yard touchdown, putting the Olympians up 14-0 at the break.

In the second half, it was clear that fatigue was setting in for the McNary defense. The Olympians went 80 yards on their first drive of the third quarter, which
