

Campesinos win inaugural Mavericks League title

BY MATT RAWLINGS
Of the Keizertimes

The Campesinos have been the top team in the Mavericks League for the entire season, but on Saturday, Sept. 4, the squad officially got to call themselves champions.

Colby Nealy went six strong innings on the bump and the Campesinos offense scored eight unanswered runs to claim the first ever Mavericks League championship by defeating the Volcanoes 9-5 in a one-game playoff.

“The way that they come together and battle together, it’s hard not to get emotional when talking about them. They are an unbelievably special group and now they are champions,” Campesinos manager Daniel Robertson said. “It is something I will never forget.”

Even with the strong outing, Nealy, the Campesinos ace, dealt with some adversity early in this one. After getting out of a first-inning jam due to back-to-back errors by the Campesinos infield, the Volcanoes got on the board in the top of the second when nine-hitter Drew Schutt launched a two-run blast over the left field wall.

Despite the deficit, Nealy had confidence that the Campesinos lineup would come through for him, just like they had done all season.

“It is so much of a confidence boost knowing we have the hitters that we have. Even when we are down early in the game, I know our team is going to go out there and put up runs, which makes it easier for me to settle in and know my team has my back,” Nealy said.

With two outs and a runner on third, Campesinos two-batter Patrick Chung surprised the entire Volcanoes infield by laying a bunt down the third base line and beating out the throw, allowing Aramis Cruz to score from third to trim the Volcanoes lead to 2-1.
