

VOLUNTEER of the Week

presented by

MATHEW POTEET

Where and how do you volunteer?

"The last two years, it's been multiple community gardens, backpack and clothing drives for students, delivering basic needs to unsheltered, helping distribute mutual aid to people, families and communities affected by the pandemic and natural disasters, and gifting money, food, water and time where it's needed."

Why do you volunteer?

"Life isn't about me; it's about others — I was raised with a service to community mentality."

What does volunteering do for you?

"Volunteering brings families and communities together - I've met amazing people over the years, visited gorgeous lands, and shared valuable time with other human beings in a good way. It also feels really good to be helpful, knowing you may have made a difference in someone's life. It fills the spirit."

How would you get others to volunteer in their community?

"Seeing people struggle and suffer is hard. It doesn't feel good. Many of us see things in this world that don't make sense or don't feel right, and volunteering and service to community can be a way to get through that. Doing something about whatever it is that gives you 'that feeling,' can help with some of the heartache."
