Viv's Jump Really Jumped

For those of you who missed Vivian Young's jump last Saturday haven't even begun to live as yet. It was an outdoor jump where everyone brought his own food, drink, or whatever was necessary. The kats really fell in hard; some in floats, some lit up like Neon signs, and still others were just lit, period. The jump was really cool, especially since it was a lawn party out with the fresh air and fresh mosquitoes, which really knocked themselves out. The atmosphere was that of nothing but romance and gaiety. Everyone had a fine time and stayed, some anyhow, till the wee hours.

"Dedication to Men"

(By Guess Who)

If you smile at one, he thinks you are flirting.

If you don't flirt he thinks you are an iceberg.

If you let him kiss you he wishes you were more reserved.

If you don't, he seeks consolation in someone else.

If you flatter him, he thinks you're silly (and he's not wrong either).

If you don't he's sure you don't understand and appreciate him.

If you talk of love and romance he thinks you are getting serious.

If you don't he's disgusted.

If you smoke he doesn't want you to.

If you don't he thinks you are a poor sport.

If you drink he thinks you're cheap.

If you don't he'll get one that does.

If you go out with other boys he'll think you are fickle.

If you don't he thinks no one else wants you.

MEN, God bless them, they don't know what they want.

Know Your Neighbors

This week, as in previous weeks, your reporter once again interviewed one of your neighbors.

Mr. George E. Hill's my name the fourteen, five foot ten-inch, one-hundred and eighty-five and one-half pound young man stated in his smooth, intelligent sounding voice. I was born in Portland July 27, 1929, to Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hill. I'm not going to marry since I'm going to be an undertaker, and no one seems to want to marry an undertaker for some reason or other. (Smile.) My hobby is coins mainly, but I also enjoy meeting people and making friends. I don't drink or smoke, I have the best brother in the world, Seth, and I attend Jeff Hi School. If you want to see me in a movie, just see Roddy McDowell's new picture "Thunderbird, Son of Flicker." If you look real hard you'll see me in one of the race track scenes. Roddy and I are close friends. I like to travel a lot and I can get in any show over town free. (Influence.)

Your reporter thinks George is one swell fellow, and if anyone in this whole wide world is ever going to get somewhere, it's George. We wish you the best of luck.

The Mott's Hop

The Mott's gave a cool hop last Wednesday, which was fine and mellow. This grove hop was given for the ever-popular Delores Bell. The Mott's home was really hopping about 11 o'clock, then there was a short intermission for some fine food which really hit the spot. For all of you Jody's who aren't acquainted with the Mott's you are certainly missing a lot. They are, in my belief at least, the most talented, versatile, perfect hosts in the whole "City of Roses." Here's a little dirt from the hop:

The chicks certainly pulled some frantic boogies.

The kats certainly fell hard for one Joana Young.

A certain party was really surprised (or was he) when another certain walked in while he was dancing with another certain party. (Are you hep?)

Although the chicks just about ran Mr. R. W. ragged, he states that he had a fine time, as did everyone else.

Mrs. C. P. I'm surprised at you. (You and your boy friend make a lovely couple though. No kidding.) Why didn't you tell me that you were a jitterbug?

Miss Bell Popular Visitor

Miss Dolores Bell is one popular young debutant as most of you already know by now. There have been four jumps given for her in one week. (A record in itself.) On Friday, July 21, the Graggs had a nice little party for Dolores at Aunt Lula's home. It was a very cool affair and everyone had a swell time. (Didn't we?) Dolores left our fair city last Sunday and had only one thing to say: "I didn't want to leave." (There are a lot of sad hearts left behind, aren't there?) She was accompanied on her sojourn by her very gracious aunt. If there's anyone who's full of fun then it's Dolores. We of Portland are very sorry to see both of you leave.

Honor Party Great Success

One of the largest semi-formals of the season was Monday, July 24, at the Portland Women's Civic Center from eight till twelve. It was given for two most distinguished guests, Mrs. C. J. Campbell and Arthur Winslow, S/2c. Mrs. Campbell, visiting from Chicago, is the guest of Mrs. Helen Kirkland of 975 N. E. Oneonta St., while Art, as most of you already know, is a resident, or should I say was until he enlisted in the navy, of Portland. The dance with over two-hundred present was a very gala occasion, with fine music furnished by our own Joe Crane and his swell musicians. It was given by Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland and Mr. and Mrs. Winslow. The Center was just full of distinguished guests, some of them were Mrs. Robert N. Joyner, Sr., mother of Dr. Joyner and Mrs. Adamson, mother of Mrs. Joyner, who are visiting here from New York and Boston. Also Mrs. Lyla Brown, visiting from Tacoma, Washington, and many others whom your reporter didn't get around to meeting.

Guess Who?

We defy you to guess who recently took that last fatal step across the altar. You were right the first time, it was but our own lovable Editor Mr. Ralph H. Faulk. It was quite a shock to your reporter as you might imagine it would be. All kidding aside we all know that Ralph and the little woman will be very happy and we send them our best regards. (Now, do I get that raise, boss?)

War Booms Cupid's Trade; Marriages Set a Record

WASHINGTON. — The war is giving Cupid a lift, the census bureau said in reporting a "remarkable" increase in the percentage of married men and women.

On the basis of a sample survey in 30,000 households in 42 states and the District of Columbia, the bureau calculates that the proportion of married couples in the population is higher now than at any previous time for which statistics are available.

As of February, there were 32,000,000 married women in the United States, exclusive of those in the armed forces and in institutions, representing 63 per cent of the civilian female population 14 years old and over. By contrast, there are 30,100,000, or 60 per cent of the population, in 1940.

The proportion of married men among civilians was even higher, with 72 per cent of those 14 or older in the matrimonial class.

The bureau attributed the increase chiefly to "psychological effects" of the war and to a new sense of economic security as a result of full employment and higher wages.

Bathroom Problems

Stump OPA Officials

ATLANTA. — A Mississippi woman seeking OPA guidance in renting her apartments, asked these questions:

"How many baths a week should each person be allowed?"
"How long is one person supposed to stay in the bathroom?"
The OPA is looking for the answers.

Mrs. America Meets the War

Editor's Note: Rationing and price control touch every home in our country. How these vital programs and other wartime restrictions affect the homemaker is told in this column of authentic government information.

Apparently the can opener will be able to retain its importance in Mrs. America's household despite wartime conditions. For the War Production Board has authorized twice as much iron and steel for the manufacture of the household type can opener.

If Mrs. America expects to wield the can opener much, she'd better get out and help the nation's canneries pack this year's crop of fruits and vegetables. Housewives and high school boys and girls are needed to fill the manpower shortage in canneries this year. It takes more canned fruits and vegetables for fighting men overseas than for those stationed in the United States. If you want to help in this vital food project, get in touch with the nearest United States Employment Service Office. There you will learn where and when your help will be needed.

Mrs. America's wartime slogan of "wear it out, make it do or do without" has focused attention on ceiling prices covering repair services. For example, the dry cleaner, the cobbler, the laundry, the household appliance repair man or other service establishments cannot charge you more than they did in March, 1942. Of course, you can't remember that far back. However, if you have any questions about the charge, ask the dealer about it. He is required to show you his ceiling price lists, which are exact copies of the lists filed with local OPA boards.

And here's a peach of a price regulation for homemakers. Fresh peaches for table use are under price control for the first time. The new price ceilings mean reductions to shoppers of an average of about 25 per cent below prices charged last year.

Homemakers will welcome news from the War Production Board that a limited production of electric water heaters has been approved. Further, the War Production Board established a new quota for production of non-electric water heaters. Restrictions also were removed from the manufacture or fabrication of metal jackets for water heaters. It was pointed out that metal jackets will be permitted again because paperboard proved unsatisfactory.

Mrs. America, give your landlord a break and take care of his property. Because of wartime conditions, landlords are having difficulty obtaining materials and manpower to make necessary repairs. You'll want to get a copy of a handy booklet put out by the OPA rent control division entitled "Uncle Sam keeps your rent down—you must keep your home up." It covers the "do's and don't's of preventive maintenance." Ask for it at your local OPA rent office, or write the Regional Information Division, OPA, San Francisco.

BABE'S MEAL-PLANNING CORNER

This week we have another recipe sent to us by one of our readers that will make any family have a swell dinner, and make any family be able to smile and talk all through the mealtime (or maybe you will be so busy eating that you will not have the precious time to talk.) I started the meal-corner off with something to help keep us slender, and contribute to making those who want to be slender as a bean slender. BUT I HAVE GOTTEN OFF ON FOODS THAT HUBBY AND THE KIDDIES like most...

Did I fail to mention that we are trying to (with the aid of our good readers) go easy on those precious ration points. How do you like that?

LADIES, WE ARE STILL ASKING YOU FOR YOUR RECIPES

Why not send us oodles of them by the end of this week?
