Vancouver and Vicinity

Mrs. Laura Juhola, champion wrestler on the ways, Kaiser Co., Vancouver Wash., challenged anyone in the yard after pinning the shoulders of a fellow worker to the pavement Tuesday, August 29.

A special meeting was called Tuesday, August 29, for the scaler foreman H. Van Allen to determine whether or not he is mean or hard to get along with, the scalers of course did not attend the meeting and it was rumored that he was on the spot for speaking up for a Negro woman worker who was stepped up to the position of leader. Since being a worker under his supervision I have found him to be ideal to work under. If he had been a slave driver with all the usual prejudices, and had followed the old time tradition of segregation and discrimination he probably would have been seen in a different light. But thanks to Van Allen there is no segregation or discrimination in his department, you get what your merit. It would be a better yard if other departments were to pattern their programs after him. I believe I speak for scalers as a whole. I say we want Van Allen.

Mrs. Anna Porter has gone to Chicago to be at the bedside of her mother who is very ill. Mrs. Porter is the wife of Mr. Milton Porter, a welder of the ways grave shift. They presently reside at 4310 Hidden Ave., Ogden Meadows.

Miss Virginia Lee of Tucson, Arizona, is here on a visit with Mrs. Taylor of Bagley Downs. Miss Lee is the fiancee of Mr. Sam Fox of Midland, Texas, a widely known figure in those parts for his talents and business ability.

Highly appreciated was the farewell gift given Miss Bertha Mayes by her welder workers crew 79, swing shift. The gift was both expensive and very lovely. The whole crew participated. Miss Mayes has been an employee of Kaiser Co. for the past eight months.

A surprise party was given Mrs. John Menefee on her birthday by her devoted husband, who made his wife the happiest woman in the world with a lovely pair of diamond earrings. There were numerous other presents received from the guests and friends, as well as relatives of the family.

WAR PRISONERS AID EACH OTHER

Versatility is nowhere more necessary than in the war prison camps. Practical men who have always disliked pedagogy have become excellent teachers of their own profession or trades. Since the millions of prisoners include every occupation and skill, there is excellent teacher and leader material to help effectuate the world-wide programs of education, recreation, religion and vocational training which War Prisoners Aid of the Y. M. C. A., a participating service of the National War Fund, stimulates and implements.

But the presence of trained men in any camp is determined by chance and not by its needs, and therefore Y. M. C. A. secretaries have had to acquire new abilities in order to serve prisoners.

For example, in camps in Germany, theatricals are popular. Among the prisoners are professional actors, while plays and theatrical supplies are provided by the Y. M. C. A. Make-up materials—lipstick, rouge, mascara, creams—are important, and the person ordering these for the camps must know his subject intimately. Therefore, one secretary mastered "make-up" so

THE BREMERTON APOLOGY BACKFIRES

Roosevelt's Bremerton speech exposes an ominous situation. In the first place, it leaves no doubt that he is failing rapidly. It leaves no doubt that he is more than ever politically a blank phonograph record which only plays a good tune when some of the unscrupulous who cater to his ego and thus keep on the government payroll, write the music.

Picture this aging, sick man surrounded and directed in his mellow senility by such people as Harry Hopkins, Ickes, Rosenman, Wallace, Frankfurter, Hillman, the Prendergast gang, the Kelly gang, boss Hague, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Perkins and others who have become firmly entrenched in our government. Picture our president sitting at the head of the peace table with the foxy Churchill kidding him into thinking he is the greatest man in the world while England takes everything except the bill for winning the war.

The subversive element that has succeeded in keeping Roosevelt in office for a third term wants him more than ever now for a fourth term because as he declines he is easier to handle, being increasingly content with the plaudits of the dregs of our nation and delusions of grandeur as he dozes in the sunset of a mania for power and more power even to the point of hoping to be ruler of the entire world.

The Bremerton speech was a God-given disclosure for those capable of looking around and behind it.

thoroughly that, while the camps' "chorus girls" may not equal those of the Follies, the prisoners will back their experts on theatrical cosmetics against anyone on the stage or in Hollywood. This Y. M. C. A. authority on "make-up" is a clergy man!
