

Kansas City's bid for a world's championship, Roy Miller, listens to a few words of advice from the "Old Master," Henry Armstrong. Miller, 20 year old boxing phenom, fights Ray Acosta, the California sharpshooter, at the Auditorium, Friday night, July 27th. Acosta was named the light-heavyweight prospect of the year by the August issue of the Ring Boxing Magazine of New York City. Two months ago, at the Olympic arena in Los Angeles, Acosta and Roy Miller fought a thrilling ten round draw . . . many of the boxing experts down there thought that young Miller was mighty lucky to get a draw with Acosta.

Famous Athlete En Route to Germany

A famous Negro athlete who was born in Berlin, educated in London and captured and held prisoner by the Germans in the last war was en route to Germany this week for the third time—as an employe of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

The UNRRA representative is Harry F. V. Edward, a track star of the early twenties, who now resides in Princeton, N. J. Mr. Edward, three-time winner of the 100 and 200-yard dashes in the British Open Championship, left by plane for Germany this week where he will direct an assembly center operated by the international agency to help repatriate people displaced by the war.

A former British subject, Mr. Edward was born in Berlin and educated in London. He has lived in the United States since 1923 and is now an American citizen. During the last war he spent three years and nine months in Germany in a British prisoner-of-war camp.

Edward won the 10 and 220-yard dashes in the British Open Track Championship of the Amateur Athletic Association in 1920 and again in 1921. In 1922 he made a record when he won the 100, 20 and quarter-mile on the same day. He won third place in the 10 and 20-meter races in the Olympic Games in Antwerp in 1920.

In an interview at UNRRA headquarters, Mr. Edward, who captained British teams to other countries, said that he had tried to use sports to help bridge national and racial barriers. Before coming to UNRRA, he worked in New York City for the OPA as chief clerk of rationing; supervisor of fuel oil rationing; and examiner of rent control. Mr. Edward has a wife and an eight-year-old son living in Princeton, N. J. Mrs. Edward, a former year-old son living in Princeton, board of the League of Women Voters.
