LONDON — (ANP) — Premier Atlee's labor party has definitely betrayed colored colonial workers by backing British imperialism.

Indian leaders do not conceal their bitterness nor disgust at the present government's attitude. This is also true of Moslem and Arab leaders. They realize that like the strikers in Britain and the United States they will have to fight for justice.

The failure of the labor government to implement its pledges and the cynical disregard of all that was supposed to be implicit in socialist philosophy has done incalculable harm to the British people throughout the world and particularly among colored peoples of the world. In fact, nobody in Europe, North and South America trusts Britain.

Our attempts to support the corrupt colonial empires of Portugal, Belgium, France and Holland by the use of white and colored troops, bombing planes and warships have been universally interpreted as merely an effort to prop up our own empire, which is the only base upon which the obsolete and rotten colonial empire system could exist. The British colonial system does not have the support of Russia nor the United States.

Britain hopes to hold the eastern empires together until she can fortify Africa and retire to that vast base, without having learned the lesson about the futility of staying the "tide" at Singapore. The Singapore lesson showed that unless the peoples' roots are in the ground of the base it is useless. The roots of colored peoples are not in the new white African base any more than they were in the old bases.

Not even the British people are told about the secret arming and fortification of the vast African continent. Since you cannot conceal modern fortifications, Africans, Asiatics and foreign observers know every move. The invention of the atomic bomb has not caused Britain to revise its military preparations. There is no alternative for British imperialism, regardless of the atomic bomb, which an American senator said will cause cities to be built 500 feet below the earth, except the rising tides of color and world enlightenment.

It is clear that the present government cannot last long under the combined attacks of colored folk inside and outside the empires, world trades unionism and the rest of the allied nations. Non-cooperation with the British government by any of the powerful three would bring the British to the verge of starvation and force it to submit to any terms.

Backed by the federation of world trade unions, the International Labor organization and other liberal and progressive forces, the colored peoples of the world are rising. We whites will do well to pause and heed the story of the little Negro boy, Richard Wright, who showed the way to cooperation between colored folks and whites.

There is no reason why workers living in dependent or colonial areas should not have collective bargaining machinery, should not have equal pay for equal work irrespective of race, religion or sex, one day off every week and 12 days annual paid holiday.

A government that betrays the principles of democracy should be discarded. Colonial workers have been betrayed by Atlee's Labor party government, which has consistently backed British imperialism.

Kelly and Green Clash On Housing Funds for Slum Clearance
CHICAGO — (ANP) — Gov. Dwight Green and Mayor Edward J. Kelly clashed last week on city plans to use state slum clearance funds to salvage local slum areas. Gov. Green backed the right of private enterprise to do the job while Mayor Kelly backed immediate action based upon the need of the people through his Chicago Housing authority.

The two clashed because the mayor plans to use the funds to erect three large housing projects in the vast south side section where more than 300,000 Negro citizens live.

The officer's clubs in the downtown district were in swanky hotels and beautiful locations. A few colored officers, feeling the necessity of upholding the principle involved, frequented the downtown clubs and took advantage of every facility they offered but they were in the minority. Endeavoring to exclude the officers who seemed to prefer the separate clubs was only one of the headaches which the efficient colored Red Cross club directors had to combat.

Overheard on a news broadcast: "Twice within a few minutes the town was shaken by a trembler."

A "trembler" is one who trembles. There is no such word describing an earthquake. The correct word is tremor. It is from the Spanish phrase, temblor de tierra, meaning "earthquake."

The accent falls on the second syllable, which rhymes with "more, pore." Say: tem-BLORE.
An earthquake is often referred to as a tremor, from the Latin word of the same spelling, and meaning "a quaking." First choice: TREMER. Second choice: TREE-mer.

THOMAS VISITS PARIS

and dance hall were all in separate rooms while at Potomac they were all in one large area. A suggestion regarding enforcement of minimum standards has been made to the administrative staff and should have results.

"Aside from this physically inadequate and geographically undesirable located unit, every other experience in Paris and with Red Cross officials has been most refreshing and satisfying. In spite of the long years of war and the evidence of privation and deprivation everywhere, Paris is still the playground that it was, and its night life still characteristically unique. It is good to be here."

While Mr. Thomas did not mention it, observers here remarked that it seemed odd that most of the Negro soldiers seemed to prefer to congregate in the Negro clubs. Even Negro officers who were supposed not to use the same facilities as enlisted men, went to the Negro clubs and in many instances insisted upon remaining though it was bad for the morale of the men who soon got to they disregarded the rank of the officers.

Criticize Conduct of U. S. Health Personnel Sent to Liberia

MONROVIA—(ANP)—Considerable criticism is being leveled at members of the United States Health mission sent here to supervise the setting up of a public health program for Liberia. So acute did the situation become that local newspapers have published reports that at the government hospital operated by the mission, the patients were being fed pig's feet for breakfast, dinner and supper on several days. The published charge said that food was often improperly prepared and that patients in some instances had to get their food from the outside.

Another charge is that the beautiful young nurses, most of whom were recruited from New York City, behave in an unseemly manner in their quarters which are on the uppermost floor of the hospital. It is said that considerable dancing, singing and revelry goes on in the quarters, disturbing the patients who are located just beneath. The music by radio is relayed to their quarters by an amplifier.

The most serious allegation, however, had to do with the administrative head, Dr. John B. West, who resigned a lieutenant colonel in the U. S. army to assume charge of the public health mission, said to be a brainchild of his.

The claim has been made that Dr. West ordered 400 cases of ammunition imported into Liberia and that during one month quite a number of the Liberian workers in the hospital were paid off in cartridges instead of cash. Cartridges are easily saleable here but it is pointed out that importing the ammunition without license or duty was in direct competition with local merchants and amounted to unfair trade practice. According to the duty which the law prescribes, it is said that the duty on the ammunition should have amounted to about $4,000. The law which says that goods must be imported by permit has been violated according to local complainants. The law says that under such circumstances the goods must be confiscated and the guilty person fined.

Dr. West, head of the mission which consists of several doctors, a public health worker, a number of nurses who came from the United States, is away from Liberia at this time. Reports are that he is back in the United States for hospitalization, presumably in New York City where his wife and family are residing.

Dr. West has had previous experience in foreign public health problems. For a brief period after the close of the last war he served in Ethiopia in such a capacity. He has had charge of the Harlem Public Health clinic and just before joining the army medical corps early in the recent world war, he had served as superintendent of Provident hospital, Chicago.

Church Club Brings Singer

Thursday evening, November 8, the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church Missionary Society presented Mr. T. Lloyd Hickman in a recital. Mr. Hickman is a baritone singer of note. His program consisted of three groups, operas, ballads and spirituals. He sang in Italian, French and German as well as English. A good crowd was present to hear him which was a real musical treat. Mr. Hickman is a graduate of Denison University of Granfield, Ohio. Also from Colgate Rochester Divinity School. He has been singing for 25 years, formally a soloist in Green Pastures and in Town Hall in New York City. Being interested in the U.S.O. he has also sang for them. Other programs have been Y.M.C.A. work and Ministerial. While here Mr. Hickman was house guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Clow having been an old friend of Rev. Clow. Mr. Hickman left Friday morning for Tacoma, Washington for a singing engagement, from there to Olympia, Washington and on to Montana, Colorado, Kansas City. Mr. Hickman hopes to reach his Chicago home by Christmas.
