OCHOCO REVIEW.

SATURDAY, ... SEPTEMBER 19, 1885.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

See the advertisement of Burmester & Smith.

Don't forget the school meeting this evening.

Harvest is about over, and the granger is happy.

Genuine fall weather, warm days and cold nights.

Grain is wanted on outstanding accounts at Sender's.

What has become of "Ten Nights in the Bar Room" and dramatic troupe?

Lyte Howard, of Mitchell, paid Prineville a flying visit the first of the week.

A. Dunham and C. A. VanHouton, both Hay creekers, were in town this week.

Until further notice "Notices for Publication" will be printed in the REVIEW for $5 50 each.

Chas. Requa and family and Wm. Circles, Jr., of Beaver, were in town the first of the week.

Sam Cowan arrived Sunday from the Valley, bringing with him some fine brood mares.

Several of the Beaver creek men who recently sold their cattle will go into the sheep business.

The champion nimrod of Metolius, Al Swarts, made our souls happy by a call last Wednesday.

O. M. Pringle discovered a quartz ledge one mile from town, but it hasn't proven a bonanza as yet.

We acknowledge a treat at the hand of Abe Zell in the shape of a splendid watermelon last Monday.

The firm of L. Senders & Co. has adopted the cash system, and done away with credit. See new ad.

The outside walls of the new court house are completed, and the building presents quite a good appearance.

Parties wanting pictures taken, should attend to it at once, as Mr. Winters will only remain here about two weeks.

Born.—In Prineville, on Sunday, September 13, 1885, to the wife of George W. Kizer, a daughter. George steps pretty high now.

There is a reward of $20 offered for the delivery of the mare, "Alice O'Neil," to Henry Hamilton. Some one should get her up, and obtain the reward.

Some of our farmers forgot that commandment about keeping the Sabbath, and ran a thresher all day last Sunday. Guess they had "an ox in the ditch."

G. H. Churchill, of Waldron, started on Thursday of last week for California with thirty head of fine young geldings, which will be placed on the market there.

The grand marshal at the State Fair is respected to look out for Walt Wagner, Minor Lewis and Jack Cooper. They are Prinevillains, and will require his tenderest care.

Wm. Bonnette, of Harrisburg, passed through town Wednesday on his way to the Willamette, taking a few bunch grass horses with him as samples of Eastern Oregon's production.

Rube Motley returned from a visit to the Willamette valley Monday. He says the Oregon Pacific company is making a vigorous effort to extend its road to the bunch grass country.

Dr. G. S. Wright started for Salem on Tuesday, and will be absent from his office until October 10th. On his return his office will be supplied with diamond drills for inserting gold fillings in false teeth.

Last Sunday T. H. Glaze returned from a series of races which he attended in Southern Oregon and Northern California this season. Mr. Glaze won eight races out of the ten in which he started his horses.

Andy Lytle and family started for Salem on Wednesday. They go there to send their children to school. This is a bad showing for Prineville, when our citizens are forced to leave here in order to educate their children.

On Wednesday Deputy County Clerk Arthur Hodges started for Canyon City to transcribe the records of that portion of Grant county recently annexed to Crook. Our friends at Canyon are requested to treat Arthur gently during his stay there.

The East Portland Vindicator, Corvallis Gazette, Yaquina Bay Mail and Eugene Guard are wailing because they have been bilked by one Dr. VanMonciscar. Brethren, don't give quacks space in your advertising columns if you don't want your "ears singed."

Butler & Walker, of Victoria, bought 1500 head of mutton sheep at $1 50 per head in this section during the week. The sheep will be shipped direct to Victoria, and it is to be hoped that a market for the mutton of Crook county may be established at that place.

Quite a number of the Bridge creek horse raisers will move their horses to the Malheur country soon. They claim that sheep have so damaged their range that it is no longer good pasture for horses. This is the effect of Wasco sheepmen grazing their flocks in this county.

Mrs. Mills is quite sick with typhoid fever.

M. Sichel returned from Portland last Monday.

Rev. Neece returned from Grass valley last week.

Till Glaze brought all of his racers home except Fox.

Circuit court convenes a month from next Monday.

Watermelons continue to be in demand in this market.

John Howard, of Bridge creek, was in town yesterday.

Have you seen the new line of jerseys at M. Sichel & Co's?

Look out for M. Sichel & Co's. new ad. in next week's issue.

Miss Gesner, sister of Dr. V. Gesner, is visiting in Prineville.

The Johnson Bros. started 130 head of beef to Portland this morning.

B. Eisenhut, of Beaver, bought 10 head of stock horses from Mrs. J. Lackey this week.

M. Sichel & Co. will sell you groceries cheaper for cash than any other house in town.

The new store is filled and overflowing with goods that are being sold at Dalles prices.

Isaac ward, who has been sick at the Jackson house for the past month, is recovering slowly.

Our subscription list steadily increases. Wealth comes in on a pace—and rolls out on two paces.

Our new stock of millinery goods will be ready for inspection by next week. M. Sichel & Co.

Chas. Charlton returned from Lakeview last Monday. He reports times very dull in Southern Oregon.

Tom Spafford has given up stage driving, and returned to his ranch on the head of Crooked river.

Rev. F. M. Vanderpool will hold services at Union Church on Sunday, September 27, morning and evening.

Chas. Pett was down from the mines the first of the week. His company is still doing some work on the head of the Ochoco.

Doon, the proprietor of the restaurant, subscribed $10 to the races, and the Chinese wash house $2 50—all same Mellican man.

A well-written article on temperance was handed us this week, but our columns and foreman were both full, so it will appear in our next issue.

The iron doors to the brick store received a coat of paint this week, which improves their appearance "muchly." Henry Belt did the work.

Mac Johnson started to Portland this morning, to be present at the wedding of his brother Nel with Miss Annie Bowles, which takes place on the 23d.

We are informed by J. H. Claypool that the wheat crop in this valley did not yield near so much as was expected. On many of the farms where Mr. Claypool threshed there was scarcely half a crop.

One day last week R. K. Nelson, of Bridge creek, fell from a scaffold on which he was working, and sustained some painful though not dangerous injuries.

People who look to the interest of the growing generation and the prosperity of Prineville, will certainly be at the school meeting to-day and vote for a tax.

To-day Hahn & Fried favored us with a very interesting communication, which may be found in the fourth column of the second page of this issue. Read it.

Bossie has been under the weather for some time, but he is all right now. Mose has come back, and Bossie had a chance to renig on him twice the first evening.

Henry Hamilton started for the State Fair yesterday morning. Henry has been running around rather much of late, and Madam Rumor states that he is displaying matrimonial symptoms.

Freight teams are daily starting to The Dalles after freight for M. Sichel & Co. The stock which they are bringing up this fall is the largest and best selected of any ever bought for this market.

Owing to the hard times our merchants are making liberal reductions on almost all lines of goods. This is a fact that will induce many persons to come from a distance to Prineville for supplies.

"There is nothing new under the sun," is an old saying, but that it is not true was satisfactorily proven one day this week, by Joe Hinkle and Doc Gesner hauling a load of hay all by themselves.

Born—In Prineville, Thursday, September 17, to the wife of Asa Miles, a daughter. Asa is the proudest man in town, and can be heard at all hours of the night singing, "it's nice to be a parient, a parient, a parient, etc."

Old residents of Benton county inform us that the O. P. railroad company has almost bankrupted the people of that county. Should the company begin operations on this side of the mountains, our people will probably be benefitted by the experience of the Benton folks.

When we see Prineville's only restaurant run by Chinamen, with Chinese cooks and waiters, well patronized by the boys, we can't help remembering that the first Celestial who visited our burg was stoned out of town. But Doon is a "bully boy," if his eyes are like unto Ben Butler's.

What will be Done with the Surplus?

Parties who are well informed on the subject, say that there is a surplus of about 75,000 bushels of grain in Crook county this season, and what will be done with it, is a question that requires some study to answer. We have no market except home consumption, there being no means of transportation, so when there is an overplus of grain raised, it becomes a detriment in lowering the price, as it becomes a glut in the market. This being the case, it becomes necessary that the citizens of Crook endeavor to create a larger home market for their surplus production. Probably as ready a way of creating a home market, and one that would be a source of revenue to the founders, would be for some of our people to establish a woolen factory somewhere in the county, where a portion of the wool produced here could be worked up.

Woolen mills that would employ from 100 to 200 operatives would be of untold benefit to the country. They would make a market for large quantities of farm produce; save the freight which is yearly paid on wool that is shipped to Eastern factories and on the manufactured articles shipped back here; keep the profit that is made in manufacturing at home, and furnish employment for a number of people who are now idle.

The Deschutes river will furnish sufficient water power for running any amount of machinery; building material is cheap, and taking everything into consideration, this county offers good inducements for such an enterprise.

Sad Accident.

Last evening Louis Volrath, a lad about twelve years old, who was visiting at the ranch of Richard Pollard, on Lost creek, about thirty-five miles from this place, accidentally discharged a shotgun, which he was handling, striking Nellie Kinder, a little girl eleven years old, in the head, inflicting a serious wound. A messenger was immediately sent after Hub Kinder, the girls father, who was on Mill creek, and for a physician. The messenger arrived here this morning, and Dr. Irvine started immediately for Mr. Pollard's.

When the party who came after the doctor left the scene of the accident, it was not thought the girl would live.

The "Ladies' Favorite"

A few days ago we were shown one of the Ladies' Favorite washers manufactured by A. A. Rain, and it is, indeed, a perfect machine. It is made with two sets of rollers, one in a convex and the other in a concave frame, between which the clothes are rubbed, cleaning them in a very short space of time. It is by far the best washer we have ever seen, and is guaranteed to do as represented. Call at Mr. Rain's shop and see it.

Incendiarism.

On either Monday or Tuesday of last week Henry Coleman's hay on his ranch at Pringle flat was destroyed by fire. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, who took this cowardly way of displaying his "cussedness," and whoever he is, he deserves the severest punishment for his act. The loss falls quite heavily upon Mr. Coleman, as it was all the feed he had on the ranch.

A Standing Banter.

Till Glaze authorizes us to announce that he will match Wasco against any horse to run half-mile heats, two best in three, for $100, $200 or $300 a side; race to be run during the races here in November. Any one accepting this banter must close the race in two weeks from this date.

House Burned.

One day last week, while Tom Moffit, who lives on Beaver creek, was absent from home, his house with all its contents was destroyed by fire. About a year ago he had a house burned at the same place, and in neither instance was able to determine the origin of the fire.

Races this Fall.

Our remarks last week have borne fruit. We have assurance that there will be four or five days racing over the Prineville tracks, commencing on the 17th of November. The gentleman who has the matter in hand are such as assure genuine contests, and the programme is so arranged that it will call out a good field of horses. On the first day there will be a saddle-horse race, six hundred yards, for a purse of twenty dollars, with five dollars entrance, and a two-year-old race, six hundred yards; purse, forty dollars; entrance, ten dollars.

Second day, six hundred yards, free for all untried horses; purse, fifty dollars; entrance, ten.

Third day, three-quarters of a mile, free for all two-year-olds; purse, fifty dollars; entrance, ten.

Fourth day, half-mile dash free for all; purse, fifty dollars; entrance, ten.

In all these races there shall be four to enter and three to start, the winning horse to take both purse and entrance money, so that each purse will be worth contesting for. We are informed that the saddle race is for saddle horses only, and no hores will be allowed to contest for the purse, that is not a saddle horse in fact, and been used on the range as such.

In addition to the races mentioned, the manager proposes to try and arrange for a sweepstake race, half mile heats two in three, with an entrance fee of fifty dollars, four to enter and three to start, the winning horse to "rake the kettle."

This meeting is to be under the control of C. S Smith, and all contests must be for "blood."

Current Sayings.

I'll roll 'em high for the boys at the State Fair.—M. L.

That's so; I'll be there too.—W. W.

The people of Prineville are all thieves and cut-throats.—R. R. Kelly.

Yes, Kelly is a gentleman, and I never knew him to belie his word or his honor.—D. W. Aldridge.

Horse Sale.

This week Mr. Frasier, of Portland, bought all the stock horses over four years old belonging to the J. B. Lafollett estate, paying $80 per head. There are about 90 head of horses in this band, which are among the best in the country, and it is considered a good sale. We understand the horses will be driven to Montana.

Crook County Census.

The census as taken by the assessor shows the population of Crook county to be as follows:

Legal voters	877
Males over 21	877
" under 21 and over 10	258
" under 10	340
Females over 18	545
" under 18 and over 10	204
" under 10	338
Total number of inhabitants	2532

That Button.

Our heavy man manufactured a wooden button for the front gate on Wednesday. He is either a very poor carpenter or there are some very poor critics in this place. G. Washington bore it as long as he could, but now there is a huskiness in his voice and blood in his eye, and the next man that commences his conversation with, "who made that but——" will see razors flying in the air.

Here is a sample of what he has to endure:

G. W. Kizer:—Jewhillikens,—what a button.

Joe Henkle:—That's a heavy button you've got on that gate out there.

S. M. W. Hindman:—That was the best you could do, wasn't it?

N. O. Brown:—I want to get a patent on that button.

Bob Young:—Got quite a button there, ain't ye?

L. C. Perry:—Is there a patent on this?

Elisha Barnes:—I'll be dod rotted if I ain't ashamed of you, Gorge.

Wool on the Gulse.

L. C. Perry has shown us a letter from R. H. Greely, of The Dalles, stating that he has been offered 17 cents per pound for baled wool. The cost of baling is only about a half-cent per pound, so that price would net the producer about 16½ cents, which we believe is the best price that has been offered at The Dalles this season.
