SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1887.

THE OHIO DEMOCRATS.

The democratic state convention met at Cleveland on the 21st, and nominated Thomas E. Powell for governor. Allen G. Thurman having declined to accept the nomination, his name was not placed before the convention. The convention adopted a strong platform, one which should and will lead them to victory.

It declares the democratic party in Ohio in convention assembled proclaims its hearty and unqualified indorsement of the honest, patriotic and economical administration of President Cleveland. It demands such judicious reduction of the present burdensome tariff as shall result in producing a revenue sufficient only to meet expenses in an economical administration of the government; the payment of liberal pensions to union soldiers and sailors, and the payment of interest and principal of public debt, and, if necessary, it favors the reduction in internal revenue, except of liquor, as will prevent the accumulation of a surplus in a national treasury, and it denounces any attempt to abolish the tax on liquors for the purpose of keeping the present unjust, unequal and onerous tariff.

The platform also declares for legislation looking to the preservation of the public domain for actual settlers, expresses sympathy for the Irish, demands restriction of corporate power, and protect the honest labor; calls for legislation restricting immigration to those declaring their intention of becoming citizens; forbidding the use of convict labor, and demanding the speedy punishment of persons inciting riot and revolution against a republican form of government; demanding a free and untrammelled ballot, favoring local self-government, and declaring in favor of proper regulation of the liquor traffic and favoring the submission of an amendment of the constitution providing for the license of such traffic.

The donation from the road company of a block of land to the school district may to some appear as a munificent gift, but it is only a business transaction on the part of the company. The gentlemen who compose the company are not philanthropists, but plain business men, who have confidence in the growth and outcome of Prineville, and are willing to give a block for school purposes, believing it will add to the prosperity of the town and surrounding country, and thereby enhance the value of the other lands they claim.

If some of our prohibition friends would devote a little more of their twaddle to the discussion of the right or wrong of the prohibition amendment, than so much to abusing saloon men they might make more converts. When they lead voters to believe their acts are concentrated in an effort to persecute saloonists, they will convince the average voter that prohibition is not wanted.

We are always willing to give credit where credit is due, hence we pause to say the Prineville News came to us last week much improved. If the general who marshals the forces of that paper would continue his visit to the coasts indefinitely, the News might yet become a pretty fair paper.

The supreme court of the District of Columbia has decided that the president of the United States is a bigger man than Squire Oliver, who, when removed from the office of justice of the peace by the president, refused to obey his mandate and appealed to the courts.

The Portland News changed proprietorship last Saturday. The new owner is John D. Wilcox. We extend a welcome to the new editor, and wish the News a successful career.

HON. BENJAMIN HERMANN.

Oregon's representative in congress, Hon.linger Hermann, spent last Sunday in Prineville, and while here made the acquaintance of a number of our people, made many friends and showed himself to be an affable and accomplished gentleman.

Mr. Hermann is one of the most indefatigable workers in the lower house of congress, is always at his post, and has established the reputation of being one of the few congressmen who is continually working for some measure of interest to the people of the state which he represents. And the good effect of his labors is being realized in many localities in the way of increased mail facilities, etc., and we hope, through his instrumentality, some of the land frauds perpetrated upon Oregon will be investigated and that vexed question of long standing settled.

The tour through Eastern Oregon which Mr. Hermann is making will acquaint him with the wants of the people east of the Cascades, and he will be enabled to introduce legislation for their benefit. He is convinced of the necessity of better mail facilities throughout this portion of the state, and on his return to Washington will recommend a general increase of the mail service in the interior.

In conversation with Mr. Hermann, and by his acts in congress, we are convinced he is on the side of the people in their struggle against corporation power, and have confidence in his promises to aid in a speedy and thorough investigation of the W. V. & C. M. land grant. He promises that the question of title to these lands shall be settled beyond dispute at no distant date—that they will fall back to the public domain, or be awarded to the company. In this question the people of Crook county are more directly interested than almost any other. If the lands are to be thrown open for settlement it should be done without further delay, and the development of the country be no longer retarded. Or if the road company has earned the lands, and is entitled to an undisputed title, the sooner it is established the better. Hence it is to the interest of the people here to furnish Mr. Hermann all the facts possible, and afford him every means to lay the matter fairly before congress and the department. In Mr. Hermann the people have a firm friend and able advocate, one who will not see their rights trammelled.

Brother Pipes, of the Benton Leader proposes to write a book and present it to his subscribers. For their sake, and to keep up the name of your paper, don't do it, brother. Have you no compassion for your poor unprotected readers that you would inflict such a punishment upon them? Is it not enough that you boor them once a week with your paper without threatening to force upon them a whole book? Better reconsider your rash threat.

Cal. Dell, of the Evening Democrat, recently stepped out of the usual routine of editorial life into the courts to defend a lady who was charged with larceny by bailies. He cleared his client, but got a cowhiding from the complaining witness, Mrs. Belle Malarkey. He will probably not attempt any more law practice soon.

Some of our exchanges are indicting, and propose trying all the saloon keepers in the state next November. This a new phase to us in the prohibition fight. We had always thought it was the law to blame, not those holding license under the law for the sale of liquor, if blame there be in it.

Another good man has gone wrong. This time it is W. R. EdDaniel, ex-postmaster at Harrisburg. He has been arrested on a charge of embezzling $1126 from the government while postmaster, and has been bound over in the sum of $1000. He is probably elected to fill a cell at the penitentiary.

Joseph M. White, for twelve years cashier of the Philadelphia Times has confessed that he systematically robbed his employers. His embezzlement is placed at $20,000. We would smile to see the cashier who could rob us out of half the amount.

GENERAL NEWS.

A few straggling Apaches are at large in Arizona, killing white men whenever opportunity affords.

The public school at Linkville was closed last week on account of the prevalence of the measles.

It is stated that five thousand people will immigrate from Kansas and Nebraska to Oregon this fall.

A fine two-story brick 20x50 feet will soon be erected at Arlington for the first national bank of that city.

President and Mrs. Cleveland have accepted an invitation to attend the Missouri state fair at St. Louis this fall.

The Knights of Labor in Canada talk of seceding to join the assembly of the United States, and establishing a new assembly.

Efforts are being made to get Utah admitted as a state next session of congress. A bill will be introduced for that purpose.

It is reported in Washington that the workmen are organizing, and that they will put a presidential ticket in the field in 1888.

Extensive quartz ledges of both gold and silver bearing rock have been discovered on the headwaters of Colipoon and McKenzie rivers.

Hon. H. H. Gilfrey, reading clerk of the U. S. senate, is expected to visit Oregon soon. Mr. Gilfrey is an Oregon boy, and well known throughout the state.

Active preparations are being made by the board of directors of the State Fair to make the coming meeting the most attractive of any fair ever held in Oregon.

The Oregon Pacific has payed off its hands for the month of June, and is paying up its old indebtedness. Looks like the company is on a solid financial basis.

Contractor Bennett is pushing things on the line of the O. P. A large force of hands are employed, at the wages of $2 per day for men and $4 for a man and team.

Five Pennsylvania women recently kindled their fires with coal-oil, and within twenty-four hours those same women furnished the principal features for five different funerals.

Prohibition is taking a boom in Western Oregon. Almost every town has a temperance society, all of whose members are pledged to support the prohibition amendment.

An excited Chinaman demolished the sacred property of the Joss house in Portland the other day. In consequence he got in jail, and will probably get into the insane asylum.

Owing to an increase of business between Yaguina bay and San Francisco, the Oregon Pacific has ordered another steel steamer. This will make four steamers plying on that line.

R. W. Day, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Eugene, fell from the roof of his furniture factory last Monday and sustained injuries from which it is feared he cannot recover.

Remington's foundry and machine shop at Woodburn, Marion county, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday of last week. Loss, $6000. It was said to have been one of the best foundries in the state.

John D. McNamee, of the attorney-general's office, and G. C. Whorton, of the general land office, are the agents appointed to examine into the Oregon road land grants. They will arrive at Salem on the 10th of August.

Another Pete Olsen has been found. This time he was found on the Grand Ronde reservation, wending his way through the Coastrange mountains toward Astoria. Officers from California were in hot pursuit at last accounts.

Harvesting is in full blast in the Willamette valley, and the fall grain is said to be unusually heavy while spring grain is fair. This taken in connection with the prospects for good pieces makes future look bright to the farmers of Web-foot.

—Times-Mountainier.—Only about forty men are now employed at the Cascade locks and the majority of these are stone cutters. A few carpenters are also engaged. High waters rendered the almost entire suspension of work necessary over six weeks ago. The river is slowly receding but full operations will not be resumed until the latter part of August or the first of September.

NOTICE TO SETTLERS.

All persons desiring to locate on land, make their claim, will do well to call on the County Clerk, as he has the land and complete list of all lands of this county, and will furnish a complete copy of the laws of the several land titles.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT THE DALLES, OR. July 19, 1887. Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the County Clerk of Crook County, at Prineville, Or., on September 6, 1887, viz: THOMAS A.
