the winter, and we are prepared to furnish it cheap. The Review, S. F. Call and S. F. Examiner all for $1.10 a year.

Parties indebted to L. W. Woods will please take notice that all accounts due him not settled by November 1st will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection.

The sale of horses advertised to take place next Monday has been postponed until next spring, owing to Mr. Price having been unable to gather them off the range.

This week Nick Cline bought a dwelling house of H. Hahn. This does not signify that Nick contemplates doing anything rash. He has rented the house to another party.

Miss Minnie Wile, formerly of Prince-ville, is at present keeping books in her uncle's warehouse at Almoda, Washington. She expects to engage in teaching during the winter.

The dance to be given by the firemen next Friday evening will be the best of the season. Everybody invited. The firemen will spare no pains to make their guests enjoy themselves.

Wm. Tomlinson and family returned this week after an absence of about two years. Like all others who have left Crook county to find a better place, they drifted back to the land of plenty.

Elder Holman will preach in Union Church tomorrow at 11 a. m., and possibly in the evening. There will be interesting exercises immediately preceding the discourse, and a baptism after preaching.

C. T. Boynton and family returned last week from the Willamette valley.

Mrs. Boynton had the typhoid fever when they arrived, and has been convinced to her bed since, though she is convalescing.

J. W. Elliott arrived here on Thursday last week with 95 head of hogs which he had bought in Willamette valley. He intends fattening them and will have them ready to butcher in a couple of months.

Our old-time friend, Joe Cox, who has been in Linn county the past three years, returned this week, and will take charge of Cox Bros. business in this county. His brother Jimmy having gone on to their farm near Albany.

A musical and literary entertainment will be given at Glaze's hall next Saturday evening, October 24. A special feature of the entertainment will be a ladies' quartet. Everybody invited. Admittance, adults, 50c; children, 25c.

There are several persons in this community who are somewhat uneasy lest the grand jury next week may meet out justice to them. The officers of this county, like those of all other places, get nervous just before the convening of court.

Percy Davis and Henry Berchtold returned from their prospecting tour in the Blue mountains. They were not successful in finding paying diggings, and in consequence will not soar among the millionaire mine owners for the present at least.

Carpenters are making big improvements to the Cary House. A new awning is being erected around the outside, and changes are being made inside.

When all the improvements are completed the old hotel will present a first-rate appearance.

Life is uncertain, therefore every man should take the precaution to provide for his family in case of his death, by taking up a policy on his life. The Northwestern Annual Life Insurance Co. is the best company in the United States, therefore it is the one to insure in.

Last Tuesday Taylor Hill's house on Upper Iron was consumed by fire. A number of fine fruit trees and a corral were also burned. Mr. Hill had been at the place that morning with a band of beef cattle, and had left a fire burning at the corral, causing the conflagration.

In Lembo's saloon in The Dalles last Sunday night Wm. Morton stabbed Jas.

Knebel inflicting serious, if not fatal wounds. The trouble arose over the payment of money. It is stated that Morton, had not got into the difficulty, intended to come to Prineville and engage in the saloon business.

E. B. Torrey, of the Ochooco mines, was in town Wednesday. He said his assertion was working perfectly, and he expected to be able to work rock as closely as many of the improved quartz mills do.

Mr. Torrey is an expert mining man, and will develop the mines of this county if there is anything in them.

We are in receipt of a letter from R.

Graham, dated at Likie, Nevada, Oct. 1st.

Mr. Graham reports having had a pleasant trip, having traveled 900 miles and was then within 350 miles of his destination, Flagstaff, Arizona. At the time of writing all the members of his family were well and enjoying the journey.

When Linn Woods came back from Portland last week, he brought with him a patent cash drawer, which registers the amount of money as it is taken in. It is a handy contrivance to furnish employment for the barkeepers, as it keeps them busy all the time between the visits of customers getting the money into the concern.

At Stockton, Calif., on the 6th two of Senator Stanford's colts broke the world's trotting record. Arion, a two-year-old, trotted in 2:15 1/4, and Bell Bird, a yearling, trotted in 2:27 1/4. When Crook county horse raisers can produce such stoppers as these they may consider that they have made a success of the horse business.

The party who stole Jimmy Hamilton's bridle some time ago is requested to either return the bridle or come back and get a horse. Mr. Hamilton has no use for the horse without the bridle, and thinks the thief has little use for the bridle without a horse. The bridle is highly prized by Mr. H., it being a present to him from the late Wm. Foster.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce has decided to adopt the route on the Washington side of the Columbia river from a point opposite The Dalles to a point opposite Celilo for the portage railroad, and Portland is to take $100,000 of the bonds of the road. This begins to look as if the road would be built, independent of government or state aid.

A proposition has been made to the directors of this school district by Mr.

Maling, who holds bonds of the district amounting to $4200, to extend the loan for a period of five years, and in order to get the sense of the taxpayers of the district regarding the advisability of extending the loan, the directors have called a special school meeting on November 7.

On Thursday of last week Henry Ingram was shot and killed by his brother Frank Ingram, on the latter's farm five miles south of Albany. The shooting was the result of a difficulty between the brothers over the distribution of their mother's property. The coroner's jury accused Frank Ingram of premeditated murder and he has been lodged in jail.

During Bank Robbery.

A La Grande dispatch dated October 9, says: Work has just reached here of a daring robbery which was perpetrated upon the National bank of Enterprise, in Wallawa county. On Wednesday afternoon Cashier Holmes was alone in the bank, when a man entered and said:

"How much money has John Smith, of Portland, on deposit here?" Upon Mr.

Holmes saying that no such man had any money there, the visitor pulled out a pistol and striking it in his face, said:

"You are a d--r." By this time two confederates had come up on horseback, and while one, sitting on his horse, with a pistol in each hand, warned the people back, the other entered the bank, and pushed all the money on the counter, $5000, into a sack. The three then descended into the mountains in the direction of Cornucopia. A posse was organized and sent in pursuit, but, as the
