

OCHOCO REVIEW.

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1894.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Congressional Second District.
JAMES H. RALPH, of Corvallis.
For Senator.
WILLIAM GALLIVAN, of Yamhill.
For Secretary of State.
CHARLES NICKEL, of Jackson.
For State Treasurer.
T. L. PAXTON, of Madras.
For Supreme Judge.
A. S. BENNETT, of Wasco.
For Attorney-General.
W. H. COOMBS, of Marion.
For Sheriff, Public Prosecutor.
H. V. STERK, of Clatsop.
For State Printer.
JOHN DUNN, of Multnomah.
For Prosecuting Atty., Dist. Attorney.
F. H. MULLEN, of Wasco.
For Member, State Board of Education.
T. H. LAVOLLETT, of Crook
County, Tuket.
For Representative.
G. W. BARNES.
For County Judge.
J. C. STEINER.
For County Clerk.
ARTHUR BOYD.
For Sheriff.
W. A. POWELL.
For Commissioner.
H. T. HILL.
For Treasurer.
R. H. McWHITE.
For Assessor.
W. C. MCNEILSON.
For School Superintendents.
W. H. MCGRATH.
For Sheriff.
S. J. NEWSON.
For Commissioner.
E. E. PARLINS.

Prineville Prentiss Tickets
For Justice of the Peace.
Knox Huston.
For Constable.
E. W. Woods.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

"These hard times are the result of the threat of the democratic majority in congress to reduce the tariff." This is a hard fact that is sent up by every republican orator and paper in the state, but is it true? Let us go back after years and see. What was the condition of affairs a few years ago, when McKinley was in full eugue? Was the price of any commodity produced by the farmers of the West higher under McKinley than under the tariff law of 1887? From 1887 to the taking effect of the McKinley law, the average price of wheat in Chicago, the greatest wheat market, was 93 cents a bushel; and the average price paid during the three years the McKinley law has been in operation was 88 cents a bushel, a loss of five cents a bushel to the farmers. The price of wool has suffered a greater loss, more than three-fourths of a cent per pound. And the wool-breeders, while claiming to be favored by protection, have suffered most of all. The average price of wool in The Dalles, our market, from 1887 to the taking effect of the McKinley law, was 16 cents per pound. The average price in that market for the two years under the McKinley law, prior to the inauguration of a democratic president, and the threat of putting wool at the feedlot, was 12 cents a pound. How then did the McKinley law help our western farmers? How has the threat of a free trade brought about hard times? Has it really caused the fall in prices of our products? Had it caused the financial panic of '93, and the business failures of that year? Let us look back and see.

Prices of every product of the farm steadily declined during the two years of McKinley, money commanded a higher rate of interest, investments were less certain, and business failures increased. In 1891 there were 3000 business failures in the United States; in 1892, 7374; and in 1893, 11,454, an increase of nearly 50% over the average of the two previous years. Two years of McKinley came so near bankrupting nearly every industry in the country that it was on the verge of going into the hands of receivers, and the truth is that the change of administration had nothing to do with it. It was simply the result of too much class legislation, a burden every prosperous America could not stand.

The republicans of this country urge that only democrats should not be elected, because they are now in office and have been for the past four years. If they are really in earnest, why do they not carry their principles into state politics, and refuse to vote for State Treasurer Metzger? Congressmen Eliot and Hermann are also up for re-election, but we have the first republicans yet to hear say whether they should not be elected because he is at present an office holder. If they intend to make them look well will never strike them for a day and passing them off for some other com-

MORE THAN A NATIONAL ISSUE.

As the news said last week, there is a question of national politics in the election of a legislator to represent Crook county next session. It is a question whether we send a representative to Salem to vote for Corporation Dolph, or for a man of the people. Whether we endorse the republican principle which takes our imports of manufactured woolens 26 per cent, our imported iron 35 per cent, our imported glass and stone were 37 per cent, etc., or whether we endorse a principle which extends equal taxation to all. However, there is another question outside of national issues. It is whether we endorse the acts of the last legislature in repealing the mortgage tax law, and exempting lumber, traps, from taxation for paying $20,000 to a gang of clerks and officers for performing their worth of service at the last legislature for appropriating $120,000 to furnish free education for a few rich men's sons and daughters at a cost of high impositions of learning, in fact for taxing the people of Oregon over $400,000 for needless expenses. While the voter is led in thinking of national issues when he seeks to select a legislator, he also wants to take into consideration if it is to his advantage to retain in power the party that has been so reckless in appropriating the money wrung from him in taxes.

On April 22nd, Dolph tried to once called upon the U. S. Senate has call for audience settlers $2.25 per acre on lands within the forested mountain grants. His motion was defeated 25 to 19—a party vote.—Ore. Herald.

Well, well! The republican press is making a pretty hard of fast to convince voters that Dolph is of some little benefit to them but Ben Shattuck is the first one to accuse the senator of trying to pay back to the settlers $2.25 per acre for land that only cost them $2.50. Were the settlers protected manufacturers of railroad corporations, this accusation would be in keeping with some of Dolph's acts, but was laughed at and little serious attention was given it. It was thought a nice idea that an army of unemployed men would garrison on the steps of the national capitol with the avowed intention to remain until congress should grant their demands that an appropriation be made out of the government's resources to furnish them employment. At first Coxey was looked upon as a man who could not get a following for such an absurd undertaking. But as a bluffed by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

Unquestionably shall be a report to the people of this county that of agriculture, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

Unquestionably shall be a report to the people of this county that of agriculture, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

Unquestionably shall be a report to the people of this county that of agriculture, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

Ten thousand dollars were appropriated by the last legislature to construct a fishway over the falls of the Willamette at Oregon City. Wonder if the farmers along the upper Willamette river have caught $10,000 worth of fish since the thing was built?

What's the matter with those fool English wool buyers anyway? The New York good republican paper says they are paying from 22 to 25 cents a pound for American wool right over there in free trade England?

What can voters make by electing any one of the republican nominees to office in this county? While they are fairly good men, the opponent of each on the democratic ticket is fully as good, and better qualified.

The obnoxious legislation of the last session of the legislature can only be repealed by the election of democrats. The republicans enacted them and will never strike taxes from just citizens.

WHAT HAS IT DONE FOR US?

Protection is a great big word, and sounds well to the ear when emphasized by a campaign orator. It is a pleasant sound to listen to, but what has it done for the toiling masses, the farmers, the toilers and sinew of America? We have had it in America during the lifetime of many of us, and what has it done for us?

Twenty-eight years of tariff protection has plucked nine million farms with mortgages, held by men who do not till.

Twenty-eight years of protection to farmers has reduced one third of them to tenancy; has reduced the price of wheat from $1.25 in 1860, to 40 cents in 1894; fat steers from 8 cents per pound to 2 cents, wool from 60 cents per pound to 3 cents.

Twenty-eight years of tariff protection to manufacturers has reduced one third of them to tenancy; has reduced the price of wheat from $1.25 in 1860, to 40 cents in 1894; fat steers from 8 cents per pound to 2 cents, wool from 60 cents per pound to 3 cents.

Twenty-eight years of tariff protection to mid-laborers in our various industries has reduced the average wages from $2.50 a day in 1860, to less than $1 a day in 1894.

Twenty-eight years of tariff protection against foreign paper manufacturers has filled our protected factories with men, women and children of foreign birth, who can neither read nor write our language, and who have no idea of our interest in American institutions. Twenty-eight years of tariff protection has made millions of mill owners and paupers of their employees.

Twenty-eight years of tariff protection has placed sixty-five million of people at the mercy of a few thousand exploiters, called capitalists, who dictate to the price we shall receive for our produce and the price we shall pay for what we consume.

And this is the record on which the republicans today ask you to elect them to congress, and, to the legislature, that they may send J. N. Dolph to the U. S. senate to give you more of this protection.

BECOMING DANGEROUS.

Coxeyism, when it was first sprung on the American people, was laughed at and little serious attention was given it. It was thought a nice idea that an army of unemployed men would garrison on the steps of the national capitol with the avowed intention to remain until congress should grant their demands that an appropriation be made out of the government's resources to furnish them employment. At first Coxey was looked upon as a man who could not get a following for such an absurd undertaking. But as a bluffed by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

One of the most important offices to the people of this county is that of agriculturist, and the greatest caution should be exercised in the selection thereof. He should be a man well acquainted with the values of property, one who cannot be blinded by the heavy taxpayer who said he has found a large number to keep his assessment below following in almost every state and the actual value of his property territory in the union, who are and one who has sufficient means making every effort to reach Washington with the avowed intent and assesses every dollar worth portion of property therein. One who has all the requirements is W. C. Chapman, democratic nominee for the office of senator.

THE IMPROVED
Queen City Incubator.

DO NOT BE OVERHEATED.

A LITTLE MORE HEAT.

First Premium, Seattle.

First Premium, Los Angeles, Cal.

SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.

Through-out Country. Englehardt-blown,

English Series, Fox, Stevens, Rich, Hart-

son, Skye, Persian, Four-legged stock.

Our stock in these rooms has won no premium in the show room.

Caldwell &amp; Larkins,

1519 Front Street,

Seattle, Wash.

Mention this paper.

THE DALLES AND PRINEVILLE STAGE LINE.

J. D. PARISH, Prop.

Leave The Dalles at 8 a.m.

every day and arrives at Prineville in 30 hours.

Leave Prineville at 10 a.m.

Arrive the U. S. MAIL, PAS-

SENGERS AND EXPRESS,

CONNECTS AT PRINEVILLE WITH

STAGES FROM EASTERN AND

SOUTHERN OREGON, NORTH-