A popular paper says it cost the U. S. $22,000 to buy Synanthrope. If we could plant Bill, Bruce, Gorman and a few others at the same price it would be money well expended.

Please remember that C. M. Elkins does all kinds of WAGON WOODWORK, and that he has the most complete stock of ROUGH and FINISHED HARD WOOD in Crook county.

The Opposition wants the people against Penney. Penney wants the people against Opposition and Penney. Of the two evils the people generally consider Penney the lesser.

We understand that C. M. Elkins has taken editorial charge of the Dallas Chronicle. It's rather a funny thing to see an out-and-out trader editing a newspaper paper these days.

If E. Newman, of Dallas, was in town Wednesday, he will begin showing his sheep next week, and expects the largest crop he has ever shown since he has been in the business in this county.

A number of strangers have shown up on our streets lately, apparently having dropped down from the heavens. A local politician suggests that possibly they are a lot of "votes" some one has run in.

The candidates who are defeated next Monday will not take the proverbial trip up hill. They will stay at home and kick themselves while their successful opponents will go in the Deschutes fishing.

The republicans held a meeting at the court house Wednesday evening at which addresses were delivered by Messrs. J. M. Frazier and M. E. Elliott. The speakers exhorted themselves to the task of securing the vote.

W. E. Travis, who has the contract for carrying the mail between here and the Dallas, spent last Thursday in town. While here he endeavored to subvert the republican but made no definite arrangements there.

The Reflector has lately been replenished by a new lot of type and a full stock of paper. When increased job printing is required that we do good work as you can get in Portland, and at very reasonable rates.

Four every part of the county comes the report of the growing crops and the assurance of an abundant harvest. The prospects are indeed favorable that Crook county will again raise enough grain to supply local demands.

W. F. Wood, of Wood & Son, of Green-castle, Indiana, arrived here by Wednesday's stage. Mr. Wood is a commission horse dealer, and last season handled a large number of horses shipped from this county to the South.

One day last week Elmer Graves recovered a growth from a mare's foot that had the appearance of a ram's horn. It came out at the posterior joint of one fore foot, was about eight inches long, and curved like a ram's horn.

Judge Sumner, G. W. Barnes, Ed. N. White and W. A. Booth got back from Mitchell last Saturday. They say the recent high waters have done considerable damage to Mitchell, and to some of the farms on Hildegarde creek.

The A. O. U. W. lodge of this place contemplated building a hall this summer. It will likely be located on the corner lot directly south of the brick store. The building it should will be two stories high and about 30 x 30 feet.

Rabbits Saturday night made the ball grounds so wet as to prevent the playing of a game last Sunday. The boys have worked the grounds this week and they are now in fine shape. Look out for a good game tomorrow.

John Stewart, of Upper Crooked river, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Stewart said since the waters have gone down, the road below his place, known as the "Stewart grade," with the exception of a small slide, is in fine condition.

The republicans will hold a grand rally at Hay Station school house this evening. While they are rallying the democrats will be out capturing votes on the grounds of being the most competent man to serve the people's interests.

Yeas should be careful next Monday to not heed misleading statements about candidates. If you know a candidate to be a good man, will fitted for the place he seeks, don't be ready to believe misstatements about him on election day.

James Elkins arrived here on Friday of last week from Albany, and left Sunday for his ranch near Beaver. Mr. E. reports fine pasture in the Willamette valley, probably being the alfalfa being questioned down there when he left.

It is stated that "Uncle" Frank Nichols is posing as a democrat in some parts of the county. If he had experienced the conversion prior to the convention we would have received him with outstretched hands, but it's too late now to take him into the fold.

The members and friends of the M. E. church will give a dinner next Monday on Third street, between the court house and Howard & Behr's drug store. Meals 25 cents. Presents will be applied to paying the expenses of the camp meeting which is to commence June 29th.

The ditch leading water to Newcom addition has been completed, and the residents of that part of town now have water with which to irrigate their premises. This will encourage them to set out shade trees and will result in improving the appearance of that part of town.

The Antelope baseball club has accepted the challenge of the Pinesville to play a ball game on June 10th at a match game of ball for the championship of Eastern Oregon. The Pinesville are getting themselves in shape, and will leave here on the 14th for the city across the line.

Our little friend Gull Newman, who has been attending school in Eugene the past three years, and is the program of the graduating exercises of the public schools of that city, and among the list of graduates we notice his name. His graduating essay was entitled "Evidences of American Progress."

Handon Logan arrived Monday with eight thoroughbred short-horn four-horn and four-corn cows which he will take to his ranch in the northern part of the county. They are as fine as can be found in the state, and will be a valuable addition to Mr. Logan's herd. They were purchased of Wm. Vandenberg, of Dunbar.

There is a new endeavor to prevent corn from raising at large from 8 to 10, and 9 a bushel and to prevent farmers from raising at large during the time of day or night. Marshal Johnson informs us that this endeavor will be rigidly enforced from now on, and that owners of stock will please guard themselves accordingly.

On Thursday evening of last week there was a school ball at the S. E. corner of the Haystack. The ball stanzas were as large as wagon wheels and covered the ground to the depth of three feet, and not the least of the fruit trees. At 7 P. M. the place, two miles from Mr. Brown's place was held, but the rain led in torrents.

Last Saturday and Sunday the water in the Columbia at The Dalles was at least above low water mark and reached to second street. It is expected to reach a higher point than it did in 1893 which is the highest point ever reached by the Columbia. The U. S. P. track was submerged at several points between Hood river and The Dalles, and no train ran on Monday.

For Sam Driven, son of Rev. I. B. Driven, recently skipped out from Hesperon, a girl, with $1000, leaving his wife and children destitute. Sam Driven was at one time a leading citizen of Eastern Oregon, having for several years been presiding elder of one of the M. E. churches. The strange low history will repeat itself.

The republicans came out last night two candidates the other day at Mitchell. A. H. Lyle and John Combs were covering the creek on a foot bridge that had not been constructed for such heavy weights, and the thing went down, precipitating them both into the water. Mr. Lyle got out without much difficulty, but Mr. Combs rolled over for about forty feet down stream before he was rescued, and was in a sorry plight when he got out.

Jim Delevan, the stage driver between Hesperon and Canyon City, is one of the most unfortunate of men. Accidents seem to befall him almost continually. Not long ago he was thrown from his stage into Birch creek and came near drowning, and now he is laid up from the effects of being tumbled off his stage. Better come back on the Pineville-Dallas line, Jim, where you will be less liable to mishaps.

Frank Hackleman arrived here Wednesday from Albany with two full-blooded Clydesdale stallions and a jack. The jack had given out and Mr. Hackleman was compelled to leave him while he took his horses on to his ranch in the northern part of the county. The horses were imported from Scotland by Storer, and while they are not overly large, they are finely bred and are a valuable addition to the stock of Crook county.

Friday night of last week was dark, at least we have the darkness and fog for it. He and Mrs. M. A. Moore were coming in from Mr. Cassy's ranch when at the top of the grade west of town they concluded they were out of the road. Mrs. Moore got out of the buggy while the doctor endeavored to drive into the regular beaten path. He couldn't see the road, but he found it, and then too with his buggy turned bottom side up. They tried to right the vehicle, but in the darkness and fog and mud it was impossible, and they were compelled to walk to town, a distance of about a mile, and a half.

The Spring Medicine. "All our friends, from the weakening effects of waxy weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier. It is Sarsaparilla. Do not get off taking it. Numerous little ailments, if neglected, will come back on the system. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now, to expel disease and give you strength and appetite. Hood's Pills do not purge, but cleanse, but act promptly, gently and efficiently.

Of Interest to Wool Growers. The following extracts are made from the American Sheep Breeder of May 15, 1894.

"On the strength of marking up wools it is understood they (Sheep & Co.) are now selling thousands of pounds to manufacturers in the Dominion of Canada, who claim that the wool is cheaper at the advance than they can have the same quality of stock for in Europe. One large concern which uses several hundred thousand pounds of wool is placing their orders for machine pulled wools in Chicago. This is not all; the great half-breed that has been going on in this country so long has advertised American wools throughout the world. Samples have been sent to several countries, and orders have immediately followed for several kinds of stock, showing plainly that American wools have a value whether we have a tariff for free wool, and it is entirely proven to everyone interested in the wool business that the price of our wools the past season have been carried far below their intrinsic value."

"There is little change to note in the Eastern wool markets. The same uncertainty surrounds the wool and woolen manufacturing interests, and all impatiently awaiting some settlement of the tariff at Washington. Values of free wool will be the eyes of the wool grower. It is expected that the wool will be brought straightway to the United States as soon as the free wool bill becomes a law. Most grades of wool to day are below the free trade basis, and free wool or no free wool will make a difference as soon as the tariff question is settled and business resumes a normal condition again. The world's supply and demand regulates the price of wool, but it cannot be said that today's price of wool in the United States is based upon this principle."

"Certain grades of wool have dropped well below a free trade basis is well demonstrated in the returns of a large shipment of Wyoming wool in the London market. The sample netted 12 1/2 cents and had not the Wyoming people thinking."

"Great eye, well known." Is it possible that they have shipped wool all the way from Wilmington to London, paid freight, commission and brokerage, amounting to about 4 cents, and that it netted them 12 cents per pound over and above expenses? It is a possibility with that Australian wool that we are told can be had down in London at Boston for 7 cents? There must be something wrong somewhere or somebody has been misrepresenting that Australian wool. It would be a good thing to see Elkins's sheep pen. You can find all the people some of the time, some of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time? We can be fooled about this wool for a while, but it won't go down any longer.

Wants to Show Them Under. The following letter appeared in the Enterprise Journal (H. R. Kincaid's) of recent date:

"Portland, Or., May 20, 1894. I shall start in the morning for Wagon Springs agency, and will be in Pineville to vote. I want to try and show the people and demonstrate clear under in the future. I can vote for county as well as state officers if I go to Pineville, and I think Crook county will go republican this time. I think you will have for secretary of state the largest majority on the state ticket. I am more anxious to vote this year than I ever was before. You know my friends waiting left of the old democratic party but the bang hole."

Yours sincerely, J. S. C. LUCKY.

Wouldn't it Mr. Lucky does intend to come to Pineville and vote after an absence of nearly four years? The election judges will probably have something to say about that.

NOTICE FOR REPAIRING COUNTY ROAD AND FURNISHING TIMBER FOR COUNTY BRIDGE. Notice is hereby given that the County Clerk of Crook county, Oregon, will receive sealed bids for the repairing of the county road known as the 'Cassidy road' where the same crosses through the Jasper canyon, between Jasper creek and numbered in the same order applications may be filed in the county clerk's office which bids will be opened at the court house on Tuesday, the 29th day of June, 1894, at 2 P. M. The county will furnish the necessary for the performance of the contract.

Notice is also given that the said court will receive sealed bids for the delivery of thirty pieces of timber at the east end of the Xeno canyon bridge, 17 1/2 miles long, and all not to be less than 12 feet long, and all not to be less than 12 inches in diameter, in diameter, at the large end, and not over 100 inches, in circumference, at the small end, all to be seasoned, smooth timber of 8 or 10 feet, and all to be delivered upon the road or pile the day after the opening of bids, and will be opened June 2, 1894, at 2 P. M. at the court house.

Haystack Items. May 23, 1894. We are having lovely weather now, and rain and grass are beginning. Everybody is busy, either at work or talking politics, and every one you meet thinks his ticket will be elected. It seems hardly possible for three full tickets to be elected, but as the populists have promised as a great change, it may be done.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bush intend starting to Gardfield, Wash., soon to visit their children who reside at that place. It seems to be the desire of some of our young men to go to look on the stage, but I don't blame them.

There are lots of widowers now in this section, but as soon as the sheep shearing and freight hauling is over there will be no more.

Mrs. James Egan has been quite sick but was better at last accounts. 1894.

Playing Grainger. An old gentleman who has been a farmer all his life, writes to me that Mr. Drake, republican nominee for county judge, visited his place the other day, and was trying to play grainger, but unfortunately for him, his knowledge of the farm and farm projects was faulty. He was loud in his praise of a "beautiful patch of alfalfa," which was a small lot grown up in grass, straw, and had not a single spear of alfalfa on it. The grainger dodge, the old gentleman says, hasn't worked worth a cent in that locality, as the farmers don't believe an amateur grainger will sell them for county judge.

For Sale. We will trade our saw mill for cattle or horses, or will take part pay in lumber. The mill is centrally located between Clear creek, Silver creek, South Fork John Day, H. Z. Camp creek, and several small settlements. Cause—we have too much other work. Call on or address, G. H. BROWN, G. H. BROWN.
