An Explanation.

Ma Editor:

I see that the outside papers and those interested in Stockman county project have used my letter about the court house proposition as a wedge against the Prineville people and their policy. I never rise to say that my private opinions are no criterion to judge the people of Prineville by. I will also say that my letters were in no wise meant to express the sentiment of any but myself and those who saw fit to accept them. I was misled by false figures and mistakes in publications which I read as to the number of population and also the taxable property in the county, and so made estimates that are out of proportion; however my last article which appeared in the Review, was as it will appear written to show how taxes could be saved in the long run, since a high school building was and is the aim of the county. It would seem wise to transfer the court house property to that purpose and put what money it may be necessary to raise toward a school building into a courthouse with what ever more the citizens can afford to spend during the next two years or more. This will save the taxpayers the loss of their present property when they want to build a new court house and furnish them a convenient and contiguous building for their school house now. The school can get on for a couple of years with the present building and the use of a part of the court house, this will give time and occasion to mature plans for adequate buildings and to know what is actually best and wise.

Just a word about the din that has been raised about what has been said. It shows in the first place that the cause of Stockman county lacks argument and so in their straits they pick up a straw or anything to add weight to their project before the Senate. It must not be supposed that a city that will add wealth and advancement to civilization can be built upon nothing. Prineville's welfare and opulence means the best good of all within this county.

PRINEVILLE REVIEW.

THURSDAY - FEBRUARY 5, 1903

City Treasurer's Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all City Warrants registered up to and including Registered Warrant No. 930 will be paid upon presentation at the office of City Treasurer. Interest on said warrants will cease from the date of this notice.

Prineville, Oregon, Feb. 5, 1903.

J. L. McCULLOCH, City Treasurer.

LOCALETTES.

Will Wurzweiler left for Portland last Sunday.

No. 2's were out last Sunday having a fire drill. The boys are all right.

During the recent freezing spell the ice fields were full of skaters enjoying themselves as only skaters can.

Tice Adkins sold his barber shop to Billy McCulloch. Success to the new proprietor.

Dr. Harold Clark returned home last Sunday and is now prepared to stop that aching tooth.

Nellie McDaniel left last Friday for Shaniko, where she will spend some time visiting with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Cornett.

Rev. Clark and family are now at home in the new M. E. parsonage. The building is well finished and is a credit to Prineville.

Dr. Gesner arrived in Prineville after a ten days absence looking after his sheep. The Doctor reports sheep doing well and standing the winter fine.

Last Thursday the street and sidewalk in front of Morris' store looked like a feed yard, all caused by A. Zell's team running away and dumping a load of hay there.

Sam Hodges, manager of the Hodges Shaw orchestra company, says more applications are coming into the firm to furnish music than they can possibly attend to.

Both of the Prineville fire companies are receiving new members at every meeting and are composed of the very best material. No fear of the fire fiend as long as such interest is taken in the fire companies as now is.

W. A. Laidlaw, of the Columbia Southern Irrigation Co., is now in Portland looking after some matters of business connected with his company.

Sheriff Smith is now preparing to send out loving missives to the taxpayers, which informs them just how much it will take to square themselves on the tax roll.

How some of the irrigation companies do kick over the bill introduced by Hon. J. N. Williamson. If you are really in earnest gentlemen and want to do the square thing by the people, as well as the state, you have nothing to kick about, but if it is grafting, you have.

School books and school supplies at the New Brick Drug Store.

D. P. ADAMSON.

We acknowledge a pleasant call last Friday from C. F. Hamilton of Ashwood. Mr. Hamilton reports that active work has begun in some of the mining properties of that place, although to a great extent every thing is held back by the Oregon King suit.

O. G. Colver, of the place which bears his name, made the Review office a pleasant call last Thursday. He informed us that the war on the rabbits still continues and that the numbers now killed runs up into the many thousands.

The Review is receiving congratulations from every one over the publication of the history of the Oatman girls. We appreciate the kind words of our patrons and assure them that we will continue to give them in the future value received for their money.

We are pleased to note that Dr. Taggart, the well known eye specialist, whose headquarters are at the Poindexter hotel, is having great success in restoring the sight to several patients whom had thought their cases were hopeless.

Sheriff Withers of Lane county, who was shot by E. Lyons while trying to arrest him, had many friends in this county who sincerely mourn his death. It is to be hoped Lyons will soon be captured and that he be made pay the penalty without any delay. In Sheriff Withers death Lane county lost a good sheriff as well as a highly respected citizen.

C. I. Winnek received a shipment of 2002 pounds of oranges from his grove in California on last Friday. They were thick flavored and sold like hot cakes at only 25 cents a dozen.

Stockman county is a thing only to be remembered as something that was proposed and like a dream was not real. Tuesday the senate defeated the proposition and it is now laid away to rest.

Lee Kelsey, of Seaman, spent last Saturday and Sunday in our town. We acknowledge a pleasant call. Mr. Kelsey informed us that Del Howell of Shaniko would soon put on an independent stage to this place to go through in daylight.

The lady who wins the fine four hundred dollar piano we are going to give away will have something she may well feel proud of. It is worth working for.

Everett Miller, of Lamonta, is slaying rabbits by the hundreds. His method is to take some hay, sprinkle arsenic over it, putting the hay in their runways and the results are dead rabbits. This method should be tried by every farmer who is bothered by the pest.

The Conn-Johnson bills for a portage road between The Dalles and Celilo should be passed by the legislature, as it would be the means of reducing freight rates and leave thousands of dollars in the people's pockets. The appropriation by the state is a paltry sum in comparison to the benefits the people would derive. Let the people's money be used for the people's benefit.

The revival services which began at the M. E. church last Sunday are still in progress. The attendance is good and considerable interest is being manifested. Rev. Clark will be assisted during the remainder of the meeting by Rev. Cawood, of Portland, who comes highly recommended as a pleasant and convincing speaker.

The bridge of L. E. Allingham that was washed away by the recent freshett, if we are correctly informed as to its location as well as the use it is put to, should be rebuilt by Crook county. It is reported that the county road ends at this bridge and as quite a number of settlers live across the Matoles river over which the bridge is built it makes their only way to get across the river.

Mr. Comini, of the Dalles & Prineville marble works, wishes to say to the people that he will soon be in Prineville; all parties wanting any tombstone, vault work or fences will do well to hold their orders for him. He is doing a rushing business in The Dalles, but will be in Prineville as soon as he possible can. So hold your orders. People are beginning to realize that the Dalles and Prineville marble works is a business that is reliable and trust worthy.

Many persons suffer all their lives with headache and neuralgia, taking medicine until their digestion is ruined, not knowing the trouble is in the eyes, or perhaps one eye. Their vision is perfect, perhaps very acute, yet still the trouble is the eye. These are cases for the occulist. St. Vitus' dance is in almost every instance an ocular trouble alone. No nerve specialist will attempt to diagnose a case without examining the eyes. Headaches are unnecessary. Call on Dr. W. W. Taggart at the Poindexter Hotel for all occular troubles.

Rest scattering.

The Grippe is no respecter of persons, as is evidenced by it getting hold of and downing Dr. Belknap. He is now convalescent and will soon be out again.

The application of the Oregon Development Co. for 68,000 acres of land, which was taken up by them under the Carey act, has been decided by Hitchcock that it is not lands subject to entry under said act.

Just as we go to press a message was received by us of the death of Marion Powell, who was residing at Moro. Mr. Powell was formerly a resident of Prineville and a man who stood high, not only in this community but in Sherman county.

During the recent cold snap workmen were busily engaged putting up ice at the different ice houses in the city. Prineville is now well supplied for the coming summer as the total amount put up reaches near 600 tons, as follows: O'Neil Bros., 250 tons; Smith & Cleek, 90 tons; Foster & Lehman, 65 tons; Chas. McDowell, 60 tons; Tye Bros., 30 tons; Henderson & Pollard, 30 tons; P. B. Poindexter, 30 tons; Park Doak 20 tons; C. I. Winnek, 25 tons; Wm King, 12 tons; Dr. E. O. Hyde, 10 tons; C. M. Elkins, 10 tons;

Supt. Boegli is holding teachers' examination this week, assisted by Prof. Orton and Mrs. J. H. Wigle. Those in attendance and applying for first grade certificates are as follows: W R Cock, of Haystack; J E Edwards, of Grizzly; J E Calavan, of Prineville; Warren Brown, of Culver; B F Wilhoit, of Prineville; Ida Priday, of Cross Keys. For second grade—Alma Throop, of Post. For third grade—Carrie Smith, of Prineville. For state certificates—C B Dinwiddie, of Prineville, and Arie C Hempton, of Bend.

Married.

At Shaniko on February 6th Wm Reese and Miss Lillian McHargue. The ceremony was performed by Judge Hill in his most pleasant and winsome manner. J J. Wiley acted as best man for the blushing groom and Miss Ruth Sturgess was brides maid. After the ceremony was over Mr. and Mrs. Reese went to the Moody cottage where they will make their future home. In the evening they were serenaded by the Shaniko tin can brigade.

The Review wishes the young couple all the joy and bliss in store for married people and may their pathway through life be strewn with roses of the brightest and most fragment hue.

The Cattlemen's Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Cattle Growers' Association was held at the courthouse last week. The attendance was very good and the meeting was an enthusiastic one, each member present taking a lively interest in the proceedings. The constitution was amended making the annual meetings in October instead of February, as at present.

A resolution was adopted that each member of the association having cattle to sell to notify the secretary and when sale is made to also notify him of the fact.

Executive committee was authorized to make application to the the national livestock association to become members thereof.

Resolutions on various topics were introduced and passed, among which were that nothing but thoroughbred bulls be allowed to run on the range; that a reward of $200 be offered for the arrest of any persons killing or stealing stock belonging to members of the association; that the executive committee take steps to protect the members rights in respect to range in the reserve; that this association is opposed to the checkerboard bill; that they are opposed to leasing the public domain; that the executive committee be instructed to confer with the sheep men in regard to range in the reserves.

Interesting addresses were delivered (which will be found elsewhere) as well as a thorough exchange of opinions.

Officers for the ensuing year are—M. R. Biggs, pres; W. C. Congleton, vice-pres; J. H. Gray, secy; E. T. Slayton, treas.

The association is in a flourishing condition there now being 120 members belonging. The association is entirely out out of debt and has $104 in the treasury.

The pupils of Miss Ethel King, the well known musical instructor, gave an entertainment on last Saturday at the residence of Wm King, which was of a very interesting and entertaining nature, and showed a wonderful advancement by each in the musical line which speaks volumes for Miss King as an instructor. Owing to lack of space the program will be printed next week.

From all indications the year 1903 will be the banner year in the history of Prineville for new buildings and other improvements.

A SAFE EXPERIMENT.
