DRAKE HAS WON.

From the Oregonian of last Sunday we learn that the President has approved the contract of the Pilot Butte Developing Co., or as is better known, the Drake irrigation proposition, and that now he can go to work under the Carey act and place water on the desert west of us. The Review has wanted to see the nation take up this enterprise and we were informed that Mr. Drake had been successful in getting the law as he wished. Put in this it appears that the contract was signed by the government, we now want to see Mr. Drake go ahead and push the work to a speedy consummation. The land proposed to be irrigated is of the very best and will make homes for thousands of people, and whatever the Review can do towards furthering this worthy project along shall be done by us. All that we ask is to have the work pushed forward without unnecessary delay and that every requirement of law be complied with so that the 87,000 acres of land being now claimed by this company be made homes for worthy and industrious citizens.

We want to see no job or graft in the proposition, but straight-forward business work, and Mr. Drake will have the support of all the people of Crook county. This much we have a right to ask and surely no one can object to it.

The attention of notaries public is called to the following section of the statute which appears from the records in the county clerk's office is sadly overlooked and may cause trouble to some one: A notary public, upon being appointed and receiving his commission from the governor, shall have his commission recorded by the county clerk in the book kept for that purpose, paying the fee of one dollar therefor, and the county clerk shall thereupon be authorized to certify as to the official character of such notary public, upon all instruments requiring such certificates, and as to whether such instrument is executed according to the State of Oregon.

Senator Mitchell, who for some time has been quite ill, is now rapidly improving and it is to be hoped he will soon be restored to perfect health. No greater calamity could befall our state than the death of Mitchell at the present time. The people irrespective of party, are reading each day concerning his sickness and one and all express a fervent hope of his ultimate recovery.

A bill was passed by the legislature last week authorizing counties to appropriate money for advertising purposes.

It is a good law and our county court should at once take advantage of the law and they together with the citizens of the county raise a sum sufficient to properly advertise the county. Thousands of people will come west this spring looking for homes and as Crook county has room for a great many more people, why not get some of them here?

AN OPEN RIVER.

One of the most important measures passed by the legislature was the Glen bill appropriating $165,000 for the purpose of constructing a portage road around the rapids in the Columbia river between The Dalles and Celilo. As soon as this portage road is constructed it will mean much for Eastern Oregon, and will be but a few years until the saving in freight rates alone will amount to more than the entire appropriation. To Central Oregon it means perhaps more than to any other section, as now the Columbia Southern can free itself of the position it has been placed in by Harriman opposing the farther construction of that road. Portland capital can now take a hand in the matter and they together with other capital that can be secured should be able without farther delay to see work begin on the road.

If Portland is really in earnest and wants our trade now is her golden opportunity, and let her show by her actions that she is in earnest. We have the territory, we now produce a great deal, but with a railroad extending through Central Oregon, our vacant lands, that are as rich in productive qualities as any the sun ever shown upon, would be taken up and made to yield their fruits in abundance, adding products to be transported by rail that would multiply the present productions many hundred fold. The people appeal to Portland to speed the day when the snort of the iron horse is heard throughout our entire confines. We want the road. Will Portland do her part in giving it to us?

Among the numerous affidavits which have been received at the land office within the past few days is the following, which is nothing if not unique: "I on oath say that I am the identical person who made application for a homestead. That I was a widow when I made said application and single and am still in the same fix." That she should have been a widow and at the same time single is to say the least somewhat singular; but the most essential information to Uncle Sam's officials is that she was still in the same fix.—Dalles Chronicle.

Portland is no hog—oh no. She has one senator, the governor and a half million dollars for her fair—a new charter and a fire boat. Still she wants the other senator. Portland's generosity would put a hog to shame.—Salem Sentinel.

The vote stood yesterday noon:
 Fulton, 25
 Wood, 25
 West, 25
 Rest scattering.

We are glad to note that many of our Eastern Oregon exchanges have copied the article we published on the Australian saltbush a few weeks ago, and hope the people will farther investigate this forage plant, as we are satisfied it is just what is wanted by them to produce good feed in abundance.

The Sherman County Observer is now an all-home print paper. We congratulate you, Bro. Ireland, on the improved appearance your paper makes. May the Observer as well as its proprietors have continued success.

Address of W. C. Wills Before the Wool-growers' Association.

We will raise more wheat, but while the production of wheat increases in quantity so will other resources be developed, and what might be otherwise a surplus will be consumed. The farmer's products must be in a concentrated form to be profitable for shipment. We have yet to produce all of the hog products consumed. Ample irrigation will produce stock hogs profitably and the prospective increase in grain production may enable us to more than supply our own demands. I look forward to the damming of the McKay and Ochoco and with their spring floods held back until wanted in mid-summer when all the now desert lands lying near this town are laid out into small and well irrigated dairy farms. Better than a $30,000 court house or a $30,000 high school building to promote the prosperity of the town. The wealth and prosperity that would follow such an enterprise will build either or both. Do not sit and sulkily lament because we have lost by careless legislation, while you have cast your eyes 30 miles away and are trying to recover an opportunity gone perhaps forever as a government scheme to redeem. You should wake up to other unclaimed possibilities. Arouse your county court from its lethargic case and have it tender your moral aid, and if need be financial aid to furnish to the government description of location, site of reservoirs, probable costs, the amount of ground possible of redemption and the resultant benefits to be gained.

There is a proposition by the government where there is private ownership the land in private ownership may contribute to cost of redemption by contributing as does the government land a part of the sum of its increased value. If you fail to set now you certainly will have to wait a later consideration when others who are active now will receive the aid to which you should be entitled.

Every dollar in business circulation, except the few dollars dropped by the transient traveler, comes into this country through the stock industry in some form or other; then the banker, the merchant, the lawyer, the farmer, in fact, every pursuit, whether it be of body or mind, depends for an increased success upon the advance made in producing more and better stock. We are entitled to and can have the best that is going if we but reach out and get ready to pluck the fruit that is fast ripening at our doors. I look forward to the day when Crook county will be noted for its dairy products; and there will be creameries in every irrigation district. With the production of more hay and pasture and the improvement in our breeds of cattle means more cattle, better cattle, and all the resultants following, which means increased herds, the surplus for exportation thus keeping the stock down to the best limit for profit. We will produce butter, cheese and fat cattle; stock hogs will be a product either for exportation or kept at home to consume the farmers' surplus. A good government has given the reference of the home market to the home producer of cattle, whether it be the live animals, the hide or horns, butter or cheese, and while these conditions shall last, taking into consideration the increase of population and the diminished opportunity for production, the cow as compared to all other domestic animals is king of all and will ever so remain.

 After you get on your ear and make up your mind to stop your paper to make the editor feel humiliated, just poke your finger in water and pull it out and look at the hole. Then you will know how sadly you are missed. The man who thinks that a paper cannot survive without his support

DISCOURAGED

The expression occurs so many times in letters from sick women to Dr. Pierce, "I was completely discouraged." And there is always good reason for the discouragement. Years of suffering. Doctor after doctor tried in vain. Medicines doing no lasting good. It is no wonder that the woman feels discouraged.

Thousands of these weak and sick women have found health and courage regained as the result of the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

*In the year 1899 I was taken sick, I was Mrs. Edna Crowder, of Ripley, Lauderdale Co., Tenn. My limbs ached, I had severe pains in back and bowels, with difficulty in urinating and smarting and burning pain after I tried many kinds of medicine and that of the best doctors in the country, until I gave up all hope of recovery in January, 1901. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling me to try his medicine. I took eleven bottles of his Favorite Prescription, first of Golden Medical Discovery, one vial of Pellets, and one box of Lotion Tablets, and one of Healing Suppositories, and am now able to work at anything I want to. Thanks to you for your valuable medicine.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

had better go off and stay awhile, and when he comes back he will find that half of his friends didn't know he was gone. The other half didn't care a cent, and the world at large didn't keep account of his movements whatever. You will probably find something in your home paper that you cannot indorse. Even the bible is very plain and hits some hard licks. If you were to get mad and burn your bible, the hundreds of presses would go on printing them, and if you were to stop your paper and call the editor all sorts of ugly names, the paper would still be published. And what is more, you would sneak around every week and borrow a copy of your neighbor. It is better to keep your vest pulled down, your temper under control and your subscription paid up.
