PRINEVILLE REVIEW.

THURSDAY MARCH 19 1903

Call for County Warrants.

Notice is hereby given that all Crook county warrants registered after Nov. 11, 1902, to and including registered warrant No. 168, Feb. 23, 1903, will be paid on presentation to the treasurer of this county. Interest will cease on same from date of this notice.
Prineville, Ore., March 4, 1903.
M. H. BELL, County Treasurer.

LOCALETTES.

E. A. Child announces that he will be unable to preach at his appointments outside of Prineville until the weather settles and he is free from the grip, but that he will speak in Prineville each Wednesday night and the 1st, 3rd and 5th Sundays of each month as announced heretofore. Any desiring baptism can be accommodated at 2 P. M. any Lord's day.

It is reported cattle are dying in the Trout Creek district from starvation and inattention. Many ranchers are short of feed and are compelled to turn the strong animals out to pasture for a living in order to save the weaker ones. Crook county is sadly in need of hay at this time. Certainly no county offers such an opportunity as here where crops and prices are both large.

Suits and trousers, ready to wear, at Gormley the Tailor's.

Adrian Crooks has just completed a rheo for the A. F. and A. M. hall; it being the third one he has made. This would be a credit to any electric factory. A rheostat is an instrument to regulate the amount of light in an incandescent lamp. Adrian is on the right track to make a successful man. Invention beats dealing 21 all hollow.

Lost—Two two-year-old steers branded V on left hip and neck. Information rewarded.

Mr. C. D. Weisz, head horse buyer for Booge, Coe & Boege, an Eastern commission firm, has returned from an extended trip through the Silver Lake country where he contracted for several bands of horses for spring delivery. Mr. Weisz reports that the roads are heavy and feed short all along the route.

Many persons suffer all their lives with headache and neuralgia, taking medicine until their digestion is ruined, not knowing the trouble is in the eyes, or perhaps one eye. Their vision is perfect, perhaps very acute, yet still the trouble is the eye. These are cases for the oculist. St. Vitus' dance is in almost every instance an ocular trouble alone. No nerve specialist will attempt to diagnose a case without examining the eyes. Headaches are unnecessary. Call on Dr. W. W. Taggart at the Point-dexter Hotel for all ocular troubles.

The big five consisting of Nathan, Chodwick, Hopkins, Van Clave and the High Mucky Muck Abraham, the Wisconsin fortune seekers, headed for the timber, but met their Waterloo when the High Mucky Muck ran up against "twenty-one", lost $125 and had to hoof it 1300 miles home. This caused the dissolution of the Wisconsin timber hunters. If the critters have not arrived it would be well for the Telegram and Leader to advertise.

The lady who wins the fine four hundred dollar piano we are going to give away will have something she may well feel proud of. It is worth working for.

J. N. Wright Dead.
J. N. Wright, aged 42 years, 11 months and 20 days, died March the 4th, 1903, and was buried from the Union Church on Saturday, the 7th. The deceased was born at Holly, Lina county, Oregon, and was baptized into Christ 13 years ago. He has lived a blameless life before his friends and neighbors. A wife and two children mourn his departure. Two brothers attended the funeral which was conducted by Rev. E. A. Child. The remains were interred in the Union cemetery.

The bereaved wife desires to thank the friends for their kindness during her husband's illness. (We reprint the above in correction to the incorrect notice of last week.)

Died.
Louisiana Elliott was born Aug. 24, 1851. She came with her parents to Oregon in 1867; was married to Ira Sears in 1868. Of this union six children were born; four of whom survive her. Her husband and two children having preceded her to the land of spirits. In 1892 she was married to Wm. W. McVay. The only child of this union died four years ago. She was converted and united with the M. E. Church in 1897. For months she was a constant sufferer; for nearly seven weeks she was confined to her bed—an intense, but patient sufferer. To her death held no terror. She died March 12, 1903, and was aged 57 years, 6 months, 18 days. The funeral occurred Friday at 10:30 A. M. from the M. E. Church; the services being conducted by Rev. H. C. Clark.

The Sick.
Mrs. Hunsaker is a new La Grippe patient. Her daughter is coming to see her. Always a good medicine for mother.

Horace Bailles, of Alkali Flat, is located at Judge Biggs' with pneumonia, in charge of the Odd Fellows.

George Laidlaw, of the Tumulo irrigation fame, has been confined to the Hotel Prineville with a bad attack of La Grippe. He is slowly improving.

Dr. Belknap is slowly improving. His brother assures us he will get well. This is good news.

Mr. Poindexter is still alive, but is slowly going. The community loses a fine citizen in him.

Mr. John Cyrus is resting easy this A. M. He is no worse.

Mrs. Dr. Belknap is on the street in Turkish headgear. Her eyes are as bright as ever.

Fred Zell is still very sick. A strong constitution promises to bring him through.

Dr. Rosenberg is the busiest man in Prineville these days. Besides attending to his own large clientele he has the large practice of Dr. Belknap on his hands.

Mr. Clay Simpson is not progressing towards recovery from his attack of rheumatism. The trouble with this plague one can't die; he must grin and bear it until the pain ceases. We once heard an eminent doctor define rheumatism as Hell. Having had three years experience we believe he told the truth.

We warn any one playing with Scott Hathaway. On St. Patrick's day he was playing with a friend and had two ribs broken. He now wears a corset.

Dr. Hyde has just returned from a seventy mile trip to see Bruce Gray who is seriously ill with pneumonia. The doctor is too busy and tired for us to bother him this A. M.
