PRINEVILLE REVIEW.

THURSDAY SEPT. 24, 1903

LOCALETTES.

Smith & Cleek are in need of a little ready money and those who are owing them would confer a favor by calling in and settling up. All parties owing for lumber at the Maury sawmill will please come forward and settle as I need the money.

Wm. McMEIKIN.

Homesteads are being jumped on Agency Plains. The land is too valuable to remain long without a resident claimant, and the original homesteader will have to hurry or lose his claim.

Boggs' new lunch counter is one of the busiest places in the city. The new proprietor understands how to cater to the wants of the people and in consequence, he is receiving a large patronage.

Wurzweiler & Thomson, the wide awake and progressive merchants, are ceiling and otherwise finishing up the room formerly used by them as a warehouse, which, as soon as completed, will be used by them for groceries and a large stock of hardware.

Clarence Johnson was in Prineville Saturday and Sunday from Ashwood. Mr. Johnson informs us that the Oregon King is up to its ears in business, having last week shipped a carload of ore to the Tacoma smelter for treatment. Mr. Johnson is a miner of experience and is now at the Ochoco mines.

Jefferson Myers, president of the Lewis and Clark exposition commission, and who has been doing Cook and Harney counties during the past two weeks, dropped into Prineville Tuesday and paid the Review office a good visit. Mr. Myers' work is to secure exhibits of fruits, grains and livestock for the '05 exposition and is indefatigable in rustling the ablest local assistance in this work. He urges the organization of a board of trade to provide a collection of agricultural and mining commodities for exhibit and get them to Shaniko, from which point the state will take charge of transportation. E. D. Meyers, his brother, is accompanying him on a sightseeing trip.

Miss Georgia Harper in Camille.

Camille has been presented in Albany several times, but much the best rendition ever given here was by the Georgia Harper Company at the Armory last night. Miss Georgia Harper as Camille displayed a power as an emotional actress rarely equaled, approaching Clara Morris in strength. Her support is all good. The company being one of the best that has ever been here in a long time presenting the legitimate drama.—Albany, Ore., Democrat.

Regular services at the M. E. church by the pastor next Sunday. Preaching at Rye Grass at 2:30 p. m.

Flooring, rustic and finishing lumber fit to be used in 1903 buildings can only be had at the well known firm of A. H. Lippman & Co.

Smith & Cleek have the famous Olympia beer on tap at their place of business. When you want a first class drink of the best beer made call at the Reception Saloon. Since issuing the ad. on page four as a circular letter the price of a few patent medicines have been cut. We will meet all cut prices and in addition will give the check for 10 cents (in trade) on the DOLLAR.

THE WINNEK CO.

Clay A. Simpson, the popular insurance man, is progressing as well as could be expected, though still very weak and attenuated. His many friends express the hope his old enemy, rheumatism, will vanish in a week or two and leave him in a condition bordering on perfect health again.

Joe Howard, while on his visit to this county recently, sent some fifteen or twenty samples of our soils gathered from different sections of the county to the Agricultural College at Corvallis to be analyzed. Mr. Howard is to be congratulated for his endeavors to give the people of the county valuable information.

J. L. McCulloch was a visitor to the townsite of Lytle on Sunday, returning Monday. Mr. McCulloch has taken in charge the sale of the Lytle townsite and is preparing an elaborate system of advertising. Lots will be on the market in a few days, and at the first word from Harriman concerning Columbia Southern extension, if such will be forthcoming, a rush for town lots will begin.

The visit of Jefferson Myers, president of the Lewis and Clark exposition commission and commissioner from Oregon to the St. Louis exposition, to our county has been productive of much good, as the sentiment is strong among people in Central Oregon to send a display of our products to St. Louis. We are fully satisfied that if our people will bestir themselves and gather together fruits and vegetables of all kinds, such as were exhibited at our local fair one year ago, Crook county will carry off many medals for superiority. Geo. Summers at this place has been designated as the one to receive all contributions, and each variety brought in will be carefully labeled with the producer's name and where it was grown. Do not wait, but bring in your produce at once, as no time is to be lost. Grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables and other things are wanted. Let one and all take up this important work and assist in collecting material for a fine exhibit.

BORN—To the wife of Ballard Gile, in Prineville, Sept. 20, 1903, a son. Mother and boy doing well.

J. L. McCulloch, the well known real estate and abstract man, had his office newly papered and painted this week. M. H. Bell did the job, and it is a good one, too.

Now is the time to get sick. All the druggists have entered upon a rate war, a charge of 80 cents for patent medicines and other goods to the value of $1 is now the rule.

F. H. Watt, the tireless rustler for the Watt Marble works, drifted into town Tuesday. He has been at Burns and made the trip over in 24 days, arriving at Prineville with a tired team.

Workmen have been employed for some time in thoroughly overhauling and improving the residence of Judge Barnes, and it is now one of neatest and tastiest homes in the city.

Hon. Jefferson Meyers, while coming through on the stage from Burns to this place, was given the honor of naming two new stations on the road. The first one is located between Burns and Riley and to that he gave the name of "Lewis & Clark," and the other between Tife and Paulina he named "Gov. Chamberlain."

A Model Mine.

A letter from C. L. Shattuck, now at the Dixie Meadows mine near Prairie City, is full of enthusiasm over this valuable and rapidly developing property. Mr. Shattuck says they have a 100 horsepower boiler, a 65 horsepower engine with a 4x5x4 Duplex pump and an 8 kilowatt dynamo at the nearly completed mill. Everything will be lighted by electricity. Besides being enthusiastic over the mine and its prospects, which are of the rosiest hue, Mr. Shattuck is delighted with the water, the climate, the timber, the coming crop of huckleberries, and the numerous population there that has drifted in from the vicinity of Prineville. He says John Campbell and Pete Sager have a claim 14 miles from the Dixie Meadows that is developing rapidly and showing good values. Al Cubit is there with the Dixie Meadows and Chris Cohrs, who is driving a team at the Thomas ranch near Susanville, visits the mine regularly.

Died.

The six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ernest Farnsworth died Tuesday morning. The child was kicked in the forehead by a horse a month ago, and while the little one was attended to promptly and medical assistance has been at hand ever since the accident, it was seen from the first that there was no hope of recovery, that she must go. When death finally came Tuesday morning it was after a month of suffering. The wonder was that the child did not succumb long before she did. The funeral took place yesterday.

TELLS A STRAIGHT STORY.

Cleveland M. Donkel Arrested for His Father's Murder.

Cleveland M. Donkel, young son of S. P. Donkel, was arrested last Friday by Sheriff Smith and is now confined in the steel cage in the county jail. The boy, who is only 18 years old, though he looks older, came into Prineville on Friday and the sheriff promptly arrested him on suspicion of being his father's murderer. Young Donkel offered no resistance but went along quietly with the sheriff. He has talked with a dozen parties since his arrest but so far as can be learned tells a perfectly straight story to every one who sees him, and every word tallies. His story is that he left his father Monday, Sept. 13, and went out on a cattle ride up the river, and that at that time his father was alive and well. It seems that the murdered man was last seen alive by some neighbors on Sunday, and this, coupled with the fact that the boy was the last one seen with him, that he always went armed, that the elder Donkel had had several quarrels with his son at different times, and that the wound was made with a .32 bullet, (the boy carried a .32 and a .33 revolver,) caused his arrest.

H. W. Donkel, a highly respected rancher of Big Meadows and a brother of the suspect, came to Prineville on Monday last, and him the boy told the same story. The brother is convinced of his brother's innocence and is prepared to fight the case. According to the elder brother, the fire which supposedly destroyed all traces of the crime was not discovered until the Thursday following the day the murdered man was with the son, at which time the latter was a long way up the river. Furthermore, he says, the boy would not have shot his father except in self-defense, and the bullet in this case came from the rear and must have come at a time when the old man was either reading or in the act of arising, and of course incapable of inflicting any damage upon any one. It must have been a cold-blooded, deliberate murder, carefully planned beforehand and carried out as planned. The brother says an 18-year-old boy, however far advanced in wild ways he might be, could never have done the deed.

The coroner's inquest revealed but little information as to who might have committed the crime, but instead seemed to be devoted to ascertaining the immediate cause of death, how long the body had remained in its rude grave before discovery, etc. The remains were much decomposed, probably from the heat developed from the fire over them started by the assassin to blot out all traces.

Altogether, the murder is considered as mysterious as the supposed going away with "Shorty" Davis a few years ago, and of whom to the present time not the slightest trace has been found. Robbery appears to have been the motive in the Donkel case, though the dead man's watch was found on the corpse, the robber evidently not caring to take anything that might lead to his detection. A sum approximating $35 in coin was taken by whoever did the deed.

Miss Georgia Harper in Camille.

If anybody went to see Georgia Harper just on account of her wardrobe, which is, no doubt, the envy of the ladies, there was evident disappointment, because her marked ability as an actress is so much admired by the audience that dress is forgotten. In Camille the struggle between love and duty, portrayed by her, touched the hearts of all. The same scenes in real life, and they occur, could not by any possibility be more potent and absolute to the eye of the beholder than was the imitation produced by this talented woman. The support is all good, the company being one of the best that has ever been here here, presenting the legitimate drama in a clear way. Miss Harper has many costly gowns, but we are happy in the thought that it wasn't altogether the gowns that captured the audience this time.—Daily Chronicle, The Dalles, Oregon.

C. W. Circle has a fine crop of prunes, consisting of the silver, petite, Hungarian and Italian varieties, all of which will be ready for market next Monday, on which day he will be in our city with a load. Those preferring to lay in a supply can do so by coming to the farm, and get all they wish at two cents a pound.

J. H. Haner, the well known timber cruiser, left for Klamath county last week.

H. B. Reed, one of Sisters' prominent citizens, has been spending the past week in our city.

Hon. A. R. Lyle, of Heiser, spent several days in our city this week renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. Wm. Combs left Thursday for Portland with her little girl, who will attend school this winter.

Geo. Stevens, of Sisters, was in Prineville the fore part of the week looking after some business interests.

Dr. Cline and wife arrived home Monday evening from a couple of weeks' visit to The Dalles and Portland.

Perry Poindexter, mine host of the Poindexter hotel, arrived home last Saturday from a ten days' visit in Portland.

I. N. Liggert, who has been employed on the Silver Lake Bulletin for the past six months, arrived home last Saturday.

L. A. Booth, who for the past two weeks has been laid up with a carbuncle, is now able to be out and look after his business affairs.

County Surveyor C. A. Graves left Tuesday for Squaw creek and is busy looking up locations for some Portland timber seekers.

P. G. Carmichael, and old and well known resident of this county, left this week for Linn county, where he will make his future home.

C. E. Dawson, the genial drummer who dispenses wholesale condensed milk, prunes, etc., for Lang & Co., Portland, was doing Prineville this week.

C. M. Elkins and wife returned Tuesday morning from an extended visit to Portland. Charley looks healthy and sprightly, as if the Willamette valley climate had agreed with him.

S. M. Bailey, one of the proprietors of the Silver Lake Central Oregonian, was in Prineville a few days of last week. Mr. Bailey was on his way from Portland to Silver Lake, and left for the interior on Wednesday.

Miss Addie Vanderpool, who has been in Southern Oregon with her brother-in-law and family for the past three weeks, returned with them Monday for a brief visit. Miss Vanderpool has accepted a position as typist at Dufur, and will stay there for the winter.

J. C. Isome and his wife and family, of Brownsville, are visiting in Prineville this week. Mrs. Isome is a sister of C. E. McDowell. The family went to Haystack Tuesday for a visit to J. B. McDowell. This is the first visit of the Isomes, and they are much pleased with Prineville and its neighborhood.
