

As Down Went McGinty

Down goes prices on Mens' and Boys' Overcoats, Ladies' Cloaks and Jackets, Fascinators, Mitts, Ladies' and Gents' Heavy Underwear, all going AT COST

Prices Flattened to the Thinnest.

The values will tempt the most grudging pocket book. If you contemplate buying, don't think it over too long, but buy where prices are consistent with the cost of production.

J. F. MORRIS.

Crook - County - Journal.

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1901.

THIS PAPER is kept on file at the following Agencies, 64 and 65 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, California, where contracts for advertising can be made for it.

Union sets at Elkins & King.

Notice Pease & Mays' new ad this week.

Baby's first shoes free at Simpson, Wilson & Co.

Ask for prices on barbed wire at C. L. Solomon's.

Wurzweiler & Thomson sells children's school handkerchiefs 3 for 5 cts.

Elkins & King received two fine showcases from Portland Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Cyrus were in from Haystack the first of the week.

Henry Carlin, a prominent stockman of Sisters, was seen on our streets Monday.

J. P. Hahn, the Sisters merchant, was in town last Friday looking after land matters.

C. A. Gilchrist, of upper Crooked river, was doing business at the county seat last Friday.

E. H. Sparks, a prominent stockman of Sisters, was in town Saturday on a visit to his family.

The roads are now in good shape and large freight teams are arriving from Shaniko almost daily.

J. N. Watson, a prominent stockman of Sumner Lake, was doing business in our midst last week.

Notice Wurzweiler & Thomson's new ad. They also have a fine line of boys' clothing fresh from the factory.

J. M. Hays and L. N. Logan, two prominent cattle men of Camp creek, were registered at the Poindecker last Friday.

N. A. Fuller, superintendent of the Ochoco mines, passed through town the fore part of the week en route to Portland.

E. E. Lytle is out with a denial of the Oregonian's statement that the Columbia Southern intends extending its line this summer.

Miss Ida Friday returned to her home at Cross Keys last Saturday, having just completed a very successful term of school at Bend.

A. Hackleman and wife, of Albany, passed through here Saturday on their way to their ranch at Camp creek where they will spend the summer.

The auction sale of the personal property of the late J. W. Hines was conducted by Joe Hinkle. Most of the articles brought very fair prices.

Mrs. Ollie Kochu has just returned from Portland with a fine line of millinery goods which she will sell at astonishingly low prices.—At J. F. Morris'.

J. Henry Smith, of Portland, registered at the Prineville Monday. Mr. Smith is the engineer in charge of the development work of the Oregon Irrigation Co.

A. D. Bock, a California sheep buyer, is operating in this and adjoining counties. He is in the market for 15,000 to 20,000 head, provided he can get what he wants.

The Oregon Irrigation Co. loaded three large teams with supplies at C. L. Solomon's store Monday morning, which will be used at the ditch camp on the Deschutes.

Marion Stillwell, of Echo, Oregon, arrived in the city Friday morning. He is looking for a business opening, and meantime will visit with his nephew, John Harden.

Mrs. M. A. Moore returned home Monday evening. She has been engaged in the work of organizing lodges of the B. of W. throughout Eastern Oregon for some time past.

Wm. H. Breiter, a mutton buyer from Portland, has bought of James B. Cartwright, about 1700 head of bred ewes. We understand the price paid was $4.50 per head.—Antelope Herald.

Anyone doubting the capability of this county to produce fine bacon needs only to examine the fine collection of bacon and lams in the warehouse of Wurzweiler & Thomson, which is the handiwork of T. F. McCullister.

Uncle John Caldwell was in town last Tuesday, driving a party of prospectors and their camp-outfit, bound for the Trout creek mines. Prospecting parties are passing through here every day, enroute to this new Eldorado.—Antelope Herald.

A timber prospector from Michigan was in town last week and will investigate the lumber belt of Crook county. It is to be hoped that the syndicate represented by this gentleman may decide to engage in the milling business here, as it will be the means of an early development of our latent resources.

THOMAS REILLY KILLED.

Shot Through the Head by D. L. Bruner.

Last Thursday Sheriff Congleton received a message by phone to come to Muddy and take into custody D. L. Bruner, who was waiting to give himself up, having killed a man. The sheriff started at once, accompanied by Prosecuting Attorney W. A. Bell. Arriving at the place of the killing an inquest was held by Justice Cuddeker, when the following facts were brought out. That Reilly came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by D. L. Bruner and charging Bruner with murder in the first degree. Bruner claims self defense; he is in jail where he will be held until the next term of circuit court.

In Search of Gold.
D. Jacobs, an old-time California prospector and miner, is stopping in town for a few days until the weather settles and the snow goes out of the mountains, when he will go up on the upper Ochoco to prospect. In the vicinity of the mines, Mr. Jacobs has been all over the northwest during the pelny days of placer mining and is more or less familiar with the mineralogical formation of this section and believes there are some good deposits yet to be found in our mountains.

G. M. Paul and D. W. Barnett were visitors from Haystack the first of the week.

James Butterfield, a prominent farmer of West Branch, Wheeler county, was in the city Monday.

W. H. Quinn and John Dee were in from Willow creek the first of the week looking after land matters.

Judge W. L. Cuddeker has sold all his mining interests in the Trout creek district to Rev. D. H. Lensch, of Salem.

Jack Hastings, a prominent farmer of the Hay Creek country, was doing business in our town the fore part of the week.

A. M. Drake came in from Pilot Butte Monday and met Col. C. E. S. Wood, attorney for the Oregon Irrigation Co., and both went to Pilot Butte Tuesday morning.

C. C. Hutchinson, president of the Oregon Irrigation Co., arrived up from Portland Sunday and left by private conveyance Monday for the head of the company's ditch on the Deschutes, having sent ten men and a large lot of supplies ahead.

B. C. Low, one of the incorporators of the Deschutes Reclamation and Irrigation Co., was in the city last Thursday and paid this office a pleasant call. Mr. Low said the company has 160 rods of flume built, which is seven feet wide and twenty-eight inches deep, and through which there is now running 15,000 inches of water. The company expects to have water on a number of homesteads before snow flies next fall. The ditch is surveyed 7 1/2 miles and will be constructed as rapidly as circumstances will permit. This ditch will convert many hundreds of acres of desert into productive farms and furnish homes for a large number of families.

Haystack Honeypings.
The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lams died last Saturday and was interred in the Gray Butte cemetery, Rev. J. H. Grant conducting the services.

The farmers of this section of the county are about through with their spring seeding and are anticipating large crops. The fall sown grain is looking fine.

M. A. Carson is suffering with a severe attack of asthma.

Fulton Banta is slowly recovering from an aggravated attack of the measles.

D. W. Barrett is fencing a portion of his farm, and is expecting a bountiful harvest.

The Haystack boys are all out herding sheep and as a consequence the girls are very lonesome.

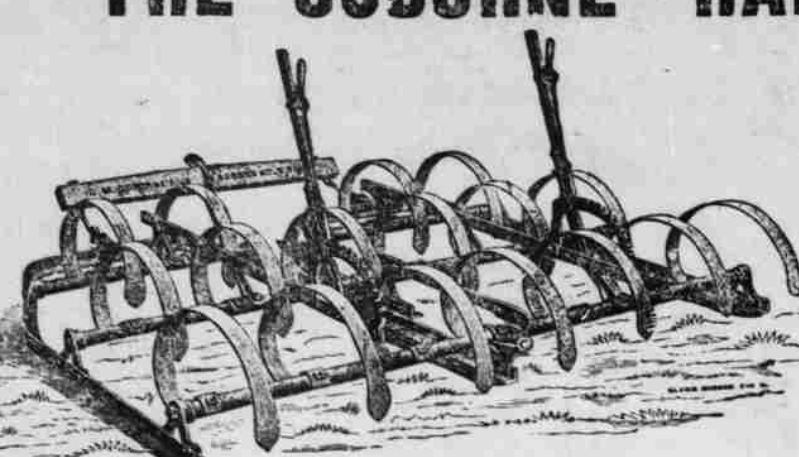

Quite a number of homesteaders have been visiting this neighborhood this spring and a number of homesteads have been filed on.

Worthy of Patronage.
Fleming Bros., with their Edison Wagramaph last week, furnished their patrons in Burns with the most enjoyable entertainment that has visited the city this season. The illustrated songs, the moving pictures, indeed all that their advertisements announce, were sufficient to hold the interest of their audience in intense admiration. The naval and military scenes are entrancing in their graphic depiction of the events of the late war with Spain. Fleming Bros. are worthy of good patronage, and so long as their entertainment maintains the excellence displayed at Burns, their patrons will feel entirely satisfied.—Burns News.

This excellent show will be given at Glazes' Hall Friday evening, April 12.

The dental work of Dr. C. A. Cline is now well known in this country to need no praise. He can always be found at the old stand, next door to the First National Bank. Give him a call.

THE OSBORNE HARROW.

Some are cheaper in Price, but none so Durable.
