THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1901.

Poor King Eddie! What a change it must be for him from the free and easy days when he was one of the boys.

The first home print issue of the Crook County Journal reached us today. We are pleased to note the improvement over the patent-Wheeler County News.

Possibly Great Britain may find that South Africa is a sort of gold brick after all. Certainly, it can hardly be worth what it has already cost.

The much-talked of commercial war of Europe against the United States is almost inevitable sooner or later if we go on invading their trade. Self preservation will compel it. Starvation will compel it.

A good many people who tried the easy Dakota divorce method will now be disappointed in love's young dream. In fact, in view of the Supreme court decision, the dream is likely to turn into a nightmare.

The Crook County Journal, under the management of W. T. Fogle, is making marked improvements in its appearance. We learn that it will this week appear with an all home print, which will give its readers about six columns (150 inches) by doing away with patent ads.—Long Creek Ranger.

The financial center of the world is rapidly shifting from London to New York, just as the commercial supremacy of the world is shifting from Europe to America. It is a magnificent future that this country has before it in the century just beginning.

A good way to throttle the public domain leasing trust is to get the land all settled upon before it has time to have laws enacted in its interest. At the present rate of filing on public lands in Crook county, the trust will do little, if any damage to this part of Oregon.

Republicans will do well to take to heart Representative Babcock's demand for the abolition of the tariff on goods that are made cheaper here than they can be abroad. This is not unlikely to be an issue in the next Presidential election, and the republicans want to be on the right side of it.

There is so much small pox all over the United States that the disease is not considered much more serious than many more common diseases. This is one of the inheritances of the Philippine war. How do you like it?—Albany Democrat—Brother Nutting you must be getting "Nuty" which certainly isn't one of your inheritances of the Philippine war as you were not there. You must be getting like some of the sheep got when they are driven across the desert south of here, they have a trouble with their heads, and a sovereign remedy is said to be clubbing them over the head with the butt end of a sagebrush. Better hire a cheap bo to try it on you.

It has now become a matter of business as well as one of health to consider some means of sewerage for this town. There is no need to put in an expensive system as has been done in many places, but a good lasting sewer such as is said to be in use in a number of eastern cities, can be put in at small expense. Now that the city has an ample water supply, flushing sewers at a moderate expense it will be a much simpler matter to operate them. Let the matter be discussed and all the information possible along this line brought out. One of our public spirited citizens has already instituted inquiries and will no doubt soon have considerable information at his disposal. Let others do likewise and the question of information will soon be solved.

Some of the citizens in north Prineville are advocating the disposal of the ditch on that side of the Ochoce to the city and merging it in the one already bought so that the taxes raised for the maintenance of the water system may be expended on both sides of the Ochoce. They seem to think that they should not be taxed on that side of the river to help maintain a ditch for the exclusive use of the citizens of this side. If they have a grievance in this matter they should bring it before the council and see what may be done about it.

The British bonds sold readily at 97 1/2; at the same time, however American bonds essentially similar were selling for 112, this difference measuring with sufficient accuracy the variation between the credit of the two countries.

Black Jack the famous train-robber was hanged at Clayton, New Mexico April 26. His head was entirely severed from the body and the rope broke under his immense weight.

Great reduction in children's shoes for 30 days in order to make room for new stock. C. L. Salomon.
