

Post Items.

From our regular correspondent.

A fine rain fell along the river today that will be of great benefit to the hay crop.

Roscoe and George Knox started Tuesday for the Deschutes where they will summer their sheep. These gentlemen recently delivered a band of yearling and two year old wethers to a Nevada mutton buyer.

Measles are at work in our neighborhood. Two of Wallace Post's children are afflicted at present.

The frost last week greatly damaged, if it did not entirely kill, the fruit on Newson creek.

Caleb Davis and E. B. Knox visited your city last Friday.

John Pickett has gone to The Dalles with a load of wool.

J. H. Kelly and family returned Saturday from Prineville, where they had been in attendance on the last illness of Mrs. Kelly's father Mr. Anderson.

Sim and Doug Smead took several head of fine horses to town Friday.

Mrs. Ben Shepherd was visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Pickett, last Friday.

Paulina Pointers.

We have been blest with a good soaking rain.

Stock of all kinds is in fine shape and farmers can enjoy fine beefsteaks next winter.

L. D. Claypool and family have returned from Prineville where they have been for medical treatment. They are greatly improved.

J. W. Fogle's little son Virgil is improving nicely from an attack of measles.

Sam Lytle passed through Paulina this morning bound for Canyon City, where he will take charge of the mail line from that place to this office. Sam is the right man in the right place.

Fred Powell is building some new fence on his Wolf creek ranch.

Ed. Rennalles started after his wife today; her many friends are anxious for her return.

Clarence Morgan is very sick with the measles at the ranch of Mr. Clemens.

Sam Courtney is over from Izee looking after business matters.

Our worthy postmaster is rusticated among the shady pines of Paulina creek planting potatoes.

ROSE LEAF.

Lava Lore.

From our regular correspondent.

The party that returned from Newsom creek was caught in a hard hail and thunder storm last Sunday.

When the stage came in last Monday the driver and passengers looked like they had passed through a rain storm. That large passenger who tried to walk on the waters of the Deschutes soon found that he could sink more rapidly than swim.

Joe Hinkle, of Prineville, paid Lava a visit this week; he was accompanied by E. C. Mueller, of Iowa, who is looking after timber lands in the west.

Mr. McKay and wife left on Monday for Washington and Idaho. Clyde and Frank McKay will remain and cruise in the timber.

David Hill has returned from a trip to Powell buttes after an absence of several weeks and is working on his homestead.

George Bogue came up from Prineville with a load of fine furniture. It looks suspicious George.

Roscoe Knox and son George, of Post, have their sheep in this country enroute to their summer range.

C. B. Allen has gone to Shaniko after his summer supplies.

A flutter of excitement was caused in our community by one of Prineville's most popular young bachelors coming up here in search of a school teacher. Shall we congratulate you Rennie?

B. J. Pengra came down from Rosland on business one day this week.

A little frost this week brought frowns to the faces of the lady gardeners of this place.

We hear compliments from all sides on the great improvement in the JOURNAL under its new management. We hope the editor is too modest to feel exalted over the many compliments he is receiving.

BUNCH GRASS.

Supplee Sittings.

Grass, grain and gardens are just fine since the rain last week.

Some frost fell last night, but no damage was done.

Stock cattle and horses are getting fat.

Lambing is just over and fully one hundred per cent is reported.

Shearing is going on, but it will be some time before it is over for shearers are scarce; only one crew in the field.

Most every rancher here is rigging up a four or six horse team to haul wool to The Dalles.

Alex Escalle has just finished building a new house to replace the one recently burned down.

A water spout last week changed the location of E. E. Laughlin's garden as well as some fencing and small buildings.

Lee Steers and Peter Weberg, our merchants, will soon have a new stock of goods in from below.

The China doctor is here from John Day looking after several cases of sickness.

Sisters News.

Editor JOURNAL.—Thinking a few items from our little burg of Sisters would be of interest to the many readers of your valuable paper, I thought I would send in a lot.

The smiles on the farmers' faces show that they are highly pleased with the crop prospects.

The humming of P. B. Davis' & Co.'s shingle mill is heard from early morn till late eve; also that of the sawmill of Herrins & Pickens.

Smita Bros. have erected a large warehouse adjoining their store.

The townsite is being cleared up in anticipation of a number of buildings going up in the near future.

If people think we are alone here they are badly mistaken for we have the measles with us.

Fishing in Squaw creek is good; come on boys the trout flies are out.
