Climatic Change.

The recent little flurry weather in Lane county while of local nature and of limited extent is only a demonstration of a general change of climate conditions that are bound, in time, to take place all over the Willamette valley. There are several factors to which such change is directly chargeable. One of these is the increase of population which brings larger towns and cities and converts stretches of virgin soil into areas of productive crops. It brings more houses, barns and orchards and turns the rich loam up to greet the sun and clouds, all of which have a bearing on climate. Then, the most important factor in producing a change is the cutting of timber from the mountain sides. As the timber is thinned with the coming years there will be less rainfall in the Willamette valley and a wider divergence in atmospheric conditions producing greater extremes of heat and cold, of rain and shine. These changes will come so gradually as to hardly be noticed but that they will appear is a positive certainty.

History shows that sections of country left for centuries in a primeval state have a uniformity of climate, marked and distinct. The advent of man into such a section with all his civilizing and developing influences has ever wrought climatic changes equally as great as those of an agricultural and pastoral produced on the virgin soil. Already the development of Oregon yet in its infancy, has rung up all these changes, in a slight degree but greater and more striking changes will come in all directions as we develop and utilize the vast resources of an empire practically as yet untouched.—Eugene Register.

It must have been about a quarter of a century ago that the first appropriation was secured for the building of the Cascade locks, and the work dragged for many years, the Walla Walla Statesman. But its completion came at last, and the long time it took it to come ought to be an object lesson to those who are now moving towards the building of needed locks at Celilo. The old experience shows the need of the hurry-up wagon in connection with every move that is made, so that the work may be finished before a possible change of climate may melt Mt. Hood down to the hole in the ground that Joe Meek found it. While the congressional committee is here it is a good time to push the preliminary work of an open river. Let the start be made and let it be as fast as the government work is slow, or liable to be.

"NERVE WASTE."

One of the most helpful books on nerve weakness ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. Sawyer, of San Francisco, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in agreeable contrast to the vast sum of false teaching which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity.

It is indorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advance says: "A perusal of the book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering through nervous impairment."

The book is $1.00, by mail, post-paid.

One of the most interesting chapters—chapter xx, on Nervines and Nerve Tonics—has been printed separately as a sample chapter, and will be sent to any address for stamp by the publishers, THE PACIFIC PUB. CO., Box 2658, San Francisco, in plain sealed envelope.

Pullman Ordinary Sleepers.

The tourist travel between the east and the Pacific coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Co. has issued from its shops what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." These cars appear similar to the regular sleeper, being built on the same plan, but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, combs, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. Each car has a stove for making coffee and tea and doing "light housekeeping," and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter accompanies each car, his business being to make up berths, keep the car clean, and look after the comforts and wants of the passengers. In each of the trains which are dispatched daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." The car is attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special," which goes through to Chicago without change, and the one in the "Atlantic Express" runs to Kansas City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Granger.

Much of the first class travel is being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service being nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers.

For rates and full information, including folders, write to A. L. Craig, G. P. A., O. R. N. Co. Portland, Ore.

Carnival of Ballots

Appreciating the great work of our common school educators and desiring to demonstrate that appreciation, we have decided to offer in connection with this paper a fitting testimonial of worth to the most popular teacher in this county.

Balloting may begin at any time after the publication of this issue of the Journal and will continue until 8 o'clock p. m. September 30, after which time no ballots will be accepted.

Rules.

The rules governing the contest will be as follows: All paid-in-advance subscribers to the Journal will be entitled to receive at the time of paying their subscription a printed coupon or ballot worth 150 votes, which will have blanks wherein to write the name of the teacher voted for. Every issue of the Journal during the life of the contest will contain a coupon good for three votes. No free samples of the Journal will be distributed during the life of this contest and no clubbing offer will be accepted where ballots are given out.

All persons voted for MUST be Crook county teachers and so accepted by the county school superintendent, and must now be engaged in teaching in this county, or have taught in this county during the past eighteen months, and must not have lost their residence in the county, i. e. they must not have removed from the county to remain permanently.

The right to modify these rules at any time is reserved.

The Prizes.

Two prizes will be given; one for the most popular teacher, and the other as a consolation prize will be given to the one receiving the second largest number of ballots.

The first prize will consist of a fine gold watch, any standard make, with 15 jeweled movement and warranted for 20 years; the same guaranteed by a local dealer. The consolation prize will be a 4x5 camera of standard make. Both of these prizes will be bought in Prineville and be strictly first class articles. They will soon be on exhibition so that every one can see just what they are.

Distribution of these articles will take place on October 1, or as soon thereafter as the votes can be counted. Three prominent gentlemen of Crook county will be asked to help count the ballots.
