Col. M. C. Nye is greatly improving the appearance of his city property by constructing an ornamental picket fence around it.

L. V. Tice was down from Price the first of the week and has about recovered the use of his leg that was broken last summer.

S. E. Slayton sold a lot of his cattle Monday to Sam and Harry Dounit of Cross Keys. Mr. Slayton is going out of the cattle business.

J. G. Julian was a visitor from the Matoles country last Friday and reports the feed in excellent condition in that part of the county.

George Ray was down from his ranch on Upper Crooked river the first of the week and reports the ground in fine condition for fall plowing.

J. A. Klum, a native of the wooded slopes of Linn county, was a visitor in the city last week and says that he intends wintering in Sodaville.

C. T. Lillard and Jerry Merritt were down from Fife the first of the week attending to business matters and taking in the sights of the city.

Low McCallister was down from the Ochoco mines the first of the week and reports things moving along in the even tenor of their ways in that section.

Crook county is now out of debt and has money in the treasury. The treasurer's notice calls for all warrants registered prior to Sept. 30, and there is something over $2500 in the road fund to apply on the new bridges that are now in course of construction.

J. C. Abbott and family, of Wapinitia; were in town last Sunday. Mr. Abbott was formerly owner of the Suples hot springs.

Clarence Lister left for Salem last week and intends entering the medical department of the Willamette University at that place.

A. B. Capper, Joe F. Dwyer and E. Rhenstrom, three well known knights of the grip, were "doing" the business houses of our city this week.

R. A. Stewart, the Upper Beaver creek sheep man, was down from his ranch last Saturday on business, and reports stock looking fairly well.

M. F. Hawthorn came in from Lava on business the first of this week and informs us that everything is moving along smoothly out that way at present.

G. C. Price and daughter Edna came down from Price Saturday and went on to Salem, where Miss Price will remain for the winter with her uncle, Judge Wolverton.

Arthur Hodges and family returned last Thursday evening from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Salem, McMinnville and Portland. They report a very pleasant trip.

Geo Gibson, of Post, was in town last Saturday, and informed our reporter that he is contemplating an extended business trip to Harney and Malheur county points.

Miss Ethel Philliber left on Monday's stage for Baker City where she will visit for a time with her father and then take a post graduate course in The Dalles or Salem schools.

C. M. Elkins and family returned last Friday from Lyle, Wash., where Mr. Elkins has been in charge of his brother Collins' business while the latter was absent in Chicago.

Harve Summerville and wife accompanied by his wife's sister, Miss Wilson of Fife, are over from Coburg, visiting friends and in this county, and looking after business interests.

Mrs. W. L. Lyons, of Post, was visiting with Mrs. B. F. Harper last week. She was enroute to join her husband at Hay Creek, where he has a position with the B. S. & L. Co.

C. A. Newbill was a caller at this office Tuesday morning and renewed his subscription for another year. Mr. Newbill is one of the pioneers of the Willow creek section of this country.

E. A. Parker, of Price, returned Saturday from an extended visit with relatives at Albany. He was accompanied by his brother, who will rusticate in the wilds of Crook county for a few weeks.

L. D. Claypool and family were down from their ranch in Paulina valley the first of the week. They were enroute to Cross Keys for a visit with relatives and a raid on the orchards of that section.

Judge Wills returned the latter part of last week from a week's outing at his Willow creek ranch and a visit with friends on Trout creek, meanwhile, examining the new bridge that was recently erected by the county.

Mrs. C. A. Whitsett has sold her stock of millinery goods to Miss Ethel Swearingen who has opened up in the Moore building. The business will be under the supervision of Miss Essie Swearingen for the winter.

G. W. Noble was down from Beaver creek the latter part of last week attending to business. He informed the JOURNAL representative that up to the latter part of the month there had been but little rain fall in that section and grass had not started growing to amount to anything yet, but that the recent rains would, no doubt, produce a fine growth before the cold weather came on.

O. G. Colver was in from Culver Monday and informed the JOURNAL that the fine farm residence of J. S. McMeen near Lamonta, was burned Friday evening with all of the contents excepting a few minor articles. The building was almost new and finished in modern style and well furnished. We understand it was insured for $900, which is but a small portion of the real value of the house alone, while many articles that were destroyed were invaluable.
