SCHOOL COLUMN

A PAPER. Issued weekly for and by the V and VI Grades of the Public Schools, of Prineville, Oregon.

ANNA SALOMON, Editor.
CEOLA SMITH, Associate Editor.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1901

Celia Nelms entered the VI grade last week.

Oliver Adams entered the seventh grade last Monday.

Miss Mabel Baldwin entertained the eighth grade last Monday.

Ruby Cadle returned to school Monday. She has been sick for the past week.

The pupils evidently enjoyed their Thanksgiving vacation judging from the smiling physiognomies that greeted their teachers Monday morning.

Mr. Boegli started on his tour of school inspection last Monday. Mr. Brown being called to Haystack on business was prevented from taking charge of Mr. Boegli's room, whereupon Mrs. Mattie Davis kindly consented to take charge.

Education does not always enable one to start higher on the ladder, but it invariably hastens the ascent. Let an educated man start as a hod-carrier and it will not be long till he is foreman or contractor, whereas the ignorant fellow is very likely to stay where he started.—Selected.

What is it that makes people proud of their school? It is not the good work of the children in scholarship, deportment, etc. Back of all this in every instance is a conscious, thorough-going, up-to-date teacher; and behind the teacher in most cases is an able, earnest school board and a citizenship that is willing and ready to co-operate in every progressive movement.—Selected.

A pleasant party was given at the Odd Fellows' hall Thanksgiving evening. A large number of the young people were present. All joined in having a good time until about 10 p. m., when all went down and ate supper at the Miller building, then returning to the hall they began their good time where they left off, and enjoyed themselves until the approach of midnight warned them it was time to go home.

The V grade pupils began the new month by taking up subtraction in the advanced arithmetic. Abbreviations in spelling and correct use of verbs in language. The VI grade will continue the work on fractions in arithmetic. The work in language will be similar to last month. In geography the study of Europe was taken up and it is hoped that the work will be as thorough as that done on Asia.

The following pupils have been excellent in deportment and have been neither absent nor tardy during the term just ended: V grade, Linnie Foster, Beulah Cline, Verna Cline, Arthur Barnes, John Bino, Chas. Bostwick, Lester Ferguson, Lockwood Simpson, Natie Wurzele. VI grade, Beulah Crooks, Aleatha Dillon, Maggie Foster, Verna Howard, Anna Salomon, Lester Cohrs, Lawrence Dillon, Elwood Draper, Sichel Hinkle, Chas. Summers and Fred Zell.
