THURSDAY, DEC. 26, 1901.

J. N. Williamson, of Crook county, is having a picnic of a time being mentioned for different state offices. He would make a good superintendent of the coyote scalp department, which is about all he will ever get.—Albany Democrat.

Don't worry, Brother Nutting, Mr. Williamson isn't after your scalp, besides it is not likely that he will ever need your vote. Williamson is all right and will get whatever he goes after. Console yourself with the thought that you have about the same effect on him that a flea would on an elephant.

The Washington Post says: "Simon of Oregon is beginning to look like a senator. He has a new suit of clothes, and he is spruced up until he looks more like a plate of fashion from the effete East than a Western statesman." Simon may look to the Post "like" a senator; but here in Oregon he has the appearance of 30c rather than a Western statesman.—Salem Sentinel.

President Roosevelt says in the case of Cuba reciprocity is imperatively demanded by "weighty reasons of morality and national interest." Sugar stands in the way, but Harrison and McKinley gave us free sugar and the duty was restored by the Dingley bill only to make good a deficiency created by a democratic administration.

Now comes the time for all who would be candidates to hie themselves to their friends and make a personal consignment of themselves for the good of the cause. Gentlemen, you can place yourselves through the columns of the JOURNAL at so much a place. Don't all speak at once.

W. T. Fogle, editor of the Crook County JOURNAL, has taken in a partner in the person of W. H. Parker, of Albany. The JOURNAL is one of the best interior papers in Oregon, and it is run in the best interests of Crook county.—Lakeview Examiner.

The Christmas number of the Albany Herald is at hand and is a handsome paper of sixteen pages, well printed and illustrated with numerous cuts of Linn county scenery and products. The Herald is one of the most progressive journals in the state.

If Chinese pheasants are in Oregon simply to be slaughtered—and that seems to be their only value—perhaps "sportsmen" can tranquilize the trouble by exterminating the birds, and maybe the sooner they do it the better.—Oregonian.

The basket social given by the pupils of the public school last Friday was a decided success both financially and socially. The sale of baskets netted $67.15 of which will be applied on the debt of the VII and VIII grades yet due on their organ and the remainder will be devoted to the use of the school. It seems to be the sense of the school that a part, at least, of the sum be used for the purchase of a fine flag for the school building.

Sampson's Fatal Defect.

But if the one great opportunity of his life to win a naval victory was thus lost by no fault of his, another greater opportunity to have achieved a nobler victory was lost through his defects of character at the critical moment. If he had been generous enough, when he found what a splendid victory had been won in his absence, to have heartily reciprocated the congratulations of Schley by giving him full credit for his leading part in it and so reporting to Washington, the whole country would have rung with his praises and he would have received the fullest credit for his own large share in it. But in a spirit of narrow and selfish jealousy he ignored the leading and distinguished part Schley had taken in the battle, and in his official telegram to Washington reporting the "victory won by the fleet under my command" did not even mention the name of Schley, although Schley and not Sampson, Admiral Dewey now says, was in absolute command of the fleet at the time. While the other members of the court are silent on this subject they do not dispute Admiral Dewey's statement. So that the result of the inquiry is to strip Sampson even of the borrowed glory which he had appropriated on the assumption that he was technically in command of the fleet during the battle. However damaging the results of the inquiry may be to Schley's reputation as a vigilant, judicious and efficient naval commander, it leaves his title to the credit of the victory of Santiago undisputed and awards to Sampson nothing but the bitter memory of a great opportunity lost to show that he was great enough to be just.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Miss Stone and Queen Wilhelmina are the two most prominent women in the world today. Both gained notoriety by making fools of themselves. The former by trying to give a people a religion they would not readily accept and the latter by marrying a good for nothing, profligate prince who had nothing but a title to recommend him. Miss Stone was old enough to have known better, but on account of Wilhelmina's tender years she is to be pitied.—Ex.

IF SHE IS PLEASD

With your new fall suit, then you have good reason to be satisfied.

Few men are brave enough to claim that they do not think of HER when it comes to selecting a suit or overcoat. We feel safe in saying if our heavy weight suits and overcoats do not please the most fastidious Wife or "Best Girl," nothing will. We know a thing or two about the ladies, and we freely admit that we are thinking about them when we buy our stock.

These K. N. & F. garments are far superior to other makes, in stylish appearance, durability and every essential of fine clothing. The man who wears one of these garments can feel himself tastefully and comfortably dressed.

Also a splendid selection of Albums and other Novelties too numerous to mention. Come and see them for yourself and be satisfied.

A share of your patronage solicited.

MICHEL & KISSER.

New Firm.

Mr. Elmer W. Kayler, who has for the past five years been working for E. H. Smith, our well known saddler, has purchased a half interest in the business, which is now one of the most substantial business houses in Crook county. Mr. Kayler, by his industry, thrift and frugality, has gained an interest in a lucrative and well established business. The firm will hereafter be known as Smith & Kayler.

Rosland Items.

We are expecting the bridal party home any day.

The weather has been very beautiful the last few days.

There will be a dance at Mr. Ralph Caldwell's Christmas and a very enjoyable time is expected.

Born—To the wife of Mr. Frank Rease, on the 15th, an 8½ pound boy. Mr. Frank is a very proud papa.

There was a dance at Mr. Rease's the 13th in honor of Miss Kiser. She has completed a very successful term of school in this vicinity. She expects to return home on the next stage.

MEADOW LARK.

Dec. 16, 1901.

The K. P. ball was one of the events of the year. It was the largest dance ever held in Prineville where tickets were sold to dancers. 110 tickets were sold. Every one speaks highly of the dance and the way it was conducted.
